Rethinking New Testament Textual Criticism:

Rethinking New Testament Textual Criticism David Alan Black, 2002-10-01 New Testament textual criticism is an important but often overlooked field of study. Results drawn from textual studies bear important consequences for interpreting the New Testament and cannot be ignored by serious students of Scripture. This book introduces current issues in New Testament textual criticism and surveys the various methods used to determine the original text among variant readings. These essays from Eldon Jay Epp, Michael Holmes, J. K. Elliott, Maurice Robinson, and Moisés Silva provide readers with an excellent introduction to the field of New Testament textual criticism.

New Testament Textual Criticism and Exegesis Joël Delobel, 2002 For many years Professor Joel Delobel has served as a member of the Department of Biblical Studies of the Faculty of Theology, KU Leuven, 1969-2001. His research has tended to focus on Luke-Acts, Pauline Literature, and especially Textual Criticism; he is a member of the Das Institut für Neutestamentliche Textforschung, Münster. His friends and colleagues in the Department of Biblical Studies of the Faculty of Theology and elsewhere have honoured him with a Festschrift on the occasion of his retirement. The congratulatory volume deals with an issue that is dear to him: the mutual link between textual criticism and exegesis, which he himself once referred to as the Siamese twins. A number of international scholars in the field of textual criticism have treated different aspects of this relationship. Some contributions are of a more general nature. B. Aland deals with the criteria used to judge the value of smaller New Testament Papyrus fragments. J. Lust compares the textual critical investigation of the Old Testament to that of the New. W. L. Petersen studies the earliest form of the text of the Gospel. Other contributions are related to a specific text: Mt 21:28-32 (J. K. Elliott), Mk 16:8 (C. Focant), Lk 7:42b (T. Baarda), Lk 22:43-44 (C. M. Tuckett), Lk 24:12 (F. Neirynck), Jn 4:1 (G. Van Belle), Jn 12:31 (M. E. Boismard), Jn 16:13 (R. Bieringer), Acts 15:20-29 (C. B. Amphoux), Rom 16:7 (E. J. Epp), Rom 16:25-27 (R. F. Collins), 1 Cor 2:1 (V. Koperski), The Epistle of James (D. C. Parker), Rev 13:9-10 (J. Lambrecht), and Rev 13:18 (J. N. Birdsall). J. Verheyden deals with the New Testament text in the 2nd Century, more specifically in the writings of Justin.

A Student's Guide to Textual Criticism of the Bible Paul D. Wegner, 2006-03-09 In plain language and with ample illustration, Paul D. Wegner presents an overview of the history and methods, aims and results of textual criticism of the whole Bible: the Hebrew Old Testament and the Greek New Testament. You will gain an appreciation for the vast work that has been accomplished in preserving the text of Scripture and find a renewed confidence in its reliability.

Perspectives on New Testament Textual Criticism Eldon Jay Epp, 2005-06-01 This collection of frequently cited articles and chapters published from 1962 to 2004 provides perspective on the history and development of New Testament textual criticism, with descriptions and critique of the major text-critical theories and methods. Specific manuscripts and text types such as the Codex Bezae and the D-text are discussed, as well as issues such as anti-Judaic tendencies, the ascension narratives, and the relationship of text and canon. Many of the essays from the last fifteen years emphasize the earliest period and papyrus manuscripts, particularly those found at Oxyrhynchus, and assess their socio cultural and intellectual contexts while articles from the last five years advocate or engage the more controversial aspects of current New Testament textual criticism especially the issue of original text

Perspectives on New Testament Textual Criticism, Volume 2 Eldon Jay Epp, 2020-11-30 Eldon Jay Epp's second volume of collected essays consists of articles previously published during 2006-2017. All treat aspects of the New Testament textual criticism but focus on historical and methodological issues relevant to constructing the earliest attainable text of New Testament writings. More specific emphasis falls upon the nature of textual transmission and the text critical process and heavily on the criteria employed in establishing that earliest available text. Moreover, textual grouping is examined at length and prominent is the current approach to textual variants not approved for the constructed text for they have stories to tell regarding theological, ethical, and real life issues as the early Christian churches sought to work out their own status, practices, and destiny.

Götting covers important aspects of editorial science with a particular focus on New Testament textual criticism. Essays cover textual emendation, text critical procedures, literary criticism, history of scholarship, advantages and disadvantages of online manuscripts, and text critical studies of words and phrases. Features Essays concerned with establishing the original text of New Testament writings. Nine essays published in English for the first time. Two previously unpublished essays.

No Longer Written Ryan Donald Wettlaufer, 2013-03-01 This is an important time for textual criticism of the New Testament. A fundamental re-evaluation is underway of both the purpose of the discipline and the nature of the manuscripts upon which it relies. The place of the controversial method of conjectural emendation is a debate that encompasses both of these issues. In this study, Ryan Wettlaufer explores the theory and practice of the method and then, using the Epistle of James as a case study, argues that conjectural emendation is an important tool that can be used to restore readings which were once found in the original text but now are No Longer Written. Changing the Goalpost of New Testament Textual Criticism Abidan Paul Shah, 2020-10-02 Before the 1960s the goal of New Testament Textual Criticism was singular: to retrieve the original text of the New Testament. Since then the goalpost has incrementally shifted away from the original text to retrieving any text or many texts of the NT. Some scholars have even concluded that the original text is hopelessly lost and cannot be retrieved with any confidence or accuracy. Other scholars have gone a step further to claim that the idea of an original text itself is a misconception that needs to be abandoned. If this new approach in NTTC is correct, then the authority of Scripture is weakened or no longer valid. It will be shown in this book that such is not the case. Furthermore, emphasis will be placed on the need to return to the traditional goalpost of NTTC, i.e. to retrieve the original text. Without a generally definitive text, the door will be left wide open to recreate any desired text of the NT. An unsettled original text will result in an unsettled biblical theology due to a lack of any authoritative and standard text. Consequently, it will lead to an unsettled

McDonald, 2009-01-01 The early Christian church had a variety of Scriptures and other source material that informed their faith and shaped their thinking But after a few centuries the church decided to keep the twenty seven books of our present New Testament and to treat them as canonical in faith and practice But what of the other books Many of them have survived and remain valuable for understanding the diversity of the early Christian church and the astounding claims of faith on which it was founded Learning about these ancient documents need not threaten the church's current orthodoxy and authority in fact learning about these texts can help today's Christians form a deeper understanding of the early church
