The Vatican «Ostpolitik» 1958-1978 Autori Vari,2017-04-06T00:00:00+02:00 The appraisal of the political dialogue and negotiations with the communist regimes of East Central Europe commenced by the Holy See in the 1960s did not provoke only lively debates among contemporaries but remains to the present day one of the most debated questions of the twentieth century history should it be assessed as a fixed path to which no alternative existed or was it a flawed initiative which merely served the international legitimacy of the communist totalitarian system This volume enriches the results of earlier historiography with new perspectives and confirms inter alia that a black and white reading often based on a one sided use of sources of Ostpolitik is incorrect just as the critical assessment which frequently places local considerations at the forefront requires revision the at times apologetic outlook defending the Vatican s Eastern policy is also untenable Only a nuanced and source focused analysis of the ambitions of the Roman and Muscovite centers and of local politics and Churches as well as dialogue between the various research trends can help us to gain a more thorough knowledge of and make us better understand those fixed paths upon which the Roman and local ecclesiastics of the era were forced to travel and which limited the possibility of success Catalogue of the Books Relating to Architecture, Construction and Decoration Boston Public Library,1894 Catalogue of Scientific Papers (1800-1900): ser. 3 , 1874-1883 Royal Society (Great Britain),1896

Gaetano Moroni,1858 The Legal System of the Vatican City State Konrad Dyda,2025-10-24 This book examines one of the fundamental phenomena in jurisprudence Legal Transplants reception of law the study of which allows us both to determine the relationships between various legal systems and between civil law and other normative systems Taking the Vatican City State as a case study the work explores the theoretical and practical significance of canon law in the legal system It analyses the sources of law and how it is applied in practice especially in the jurisprudence of the Vatican courts and other bodies applying the law The characteristic feature of this transplantation of law is the borrowing by the legislative and judicial authorities of the State of various norms both of a strictly religious nature and those arising from the law of the Italian Republic the European Union the norms of international law and their creative use to produce a distinct system of law It is this creative use that constitutes the essence of the reception of law in the Vatican City State The book determines similarities and differences between the reception of law in the Vatican City State and other examples of reception of law including the implementation of European Union law by individual Member States the relationship between the reference by the Vatican legislator to the axiological foundations of the legal order and the role of legal principles in secular legislation how the confessional character of the Vatican City State affects the content of legal norms applicable in the State and whether this mechanism can be applied in secular states The book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of Law and Religion Canon Law and Legal Philosophy Catalogue of the Petrarch Collection Bequeathed by Willard Fiske Cornell University.
