Ancient Greece and Rome Keith Hopwood, 1995 Sir Thomas Fairfax not Oliver Cromwell was creator and commander of Parliament's New Model Army from 1645 to 1650. Although Fairfax emerged as England's most successful commander of the 1640s, this book challenges the orthodoxy that he was purely a military figure, showing how he was not apolitical or disinterested in politics. The book combines narrative and thematic approaches to explore the wider issues of popular allegiance, puritan religion, concepts of honour, image, reputation, memory, gender, literature, and Fairfax's relationship with Cromwell. Black Tom delivers a groundbreaking examination of the transformative experience of the English revolution from the viewpoint of one of its leading yet most neglected participants. It is the first modern academic study of Fairfax, making it essential reading for university students as well as historians of the seventeenth century. Its accessible style will appeal to a wider audience of those interested in the civil wars and interregnum more generally.

Pazdernik, Timothy Kearley, Benet Salway, 2016. The first reliable annotated English translation with original texts of one of the central sources of the Western legal tradition.

Legal Fictions in Theory and Practice Maksymilian Del Mar, William Twining, 2015-03-11. This multi-disciplinary, multi-jurisdictional collection offers the first ever full-scale analysis of legal fictions. Its focus is on fictions in legal practice, examining and evaluating their roles in a variety of different areas of practice, e.g. in Tort Law, Criminal Law, and Intellectual Property Law, and in different times and places, e.g. in Roman Law, Rabbinic Law, and the Common Law. The collection approaches the topic in part through the discussion of certain key classical statements by theorists, including Jeremy Bentham, Alf Ross, Hans Vaihinger, Hans Kelsen, and Lon Fuller. The collection opens with the first ever translation into English of Kelsen's review of Vaihinger's As If. The 17 chapters are divided into four parts: 1. a discussion of the principal theories of fictions, as above, with a focus on Kelsen, Bentham, Fuller, and classical pragmatism; 2. a discussion of the relationship between fictions and language; 3. a theoretical and historical examination and evaluation of fictions in the common law; and 4. an account of fictions in different practice areas and in different legal cultures. The collection will be of interest to theorists and historians of legal reasoning, as well as scholars and practitioners of the law, more generally, in both common and civil law traditions.

Aufstieg und Niedergang der römischen Welt: Principat. v Hildegard Temporini, Wolfgang Haase, 1994.

Political Representation in the Later Middle Ages Hwa-Yong Lee, 2008. This book explores the theory of political representation as articulated by the fourteenth-century Italian thinker Marsilius. It combines historical research on Marsilius with an analysis of the contemporary theory of representative democracy. Modern theorization of political representation identifies the relation between the represented and the representative as a central theme. In order to assess how a representative system can reasonably be expected to operate for the benefit of the whole people political representation must be understood through a comprehensive conception of the political process as a whole To this end Marsilius provides us with a perspective from which to examine the philosophical foundations of political representation and to reconsider the nature and significance of political representation that is an understanding of political representation in terms of the transfer of power This book suggests that in modern democratic societies where the people effectively cease to be a political agent and their formal authority becomes increasingly notional Marsilius conception of political representation which rejects the depoliticisation and deauthorisation of ordinary citizens has much to offer It can in principle offer a coherent alternative approach to building political representation as an effective scheme of public action for all
