Roman Society from Nero to Marcus Aurelius Samuel Dill, 1904 An Outline of the History of the Intellectual Class in Western Europe James Harvey Robinson, 1915 An Outline of the History of the Western European Mind James Harvey Robinson, 1919 The Oxford Handbook of Social Relations in the Roman World Michael Peachin, 2011

The study of Roman society and social relations blossomed in the 1970s By now we possess a very large literature on the individuals and groups that constituted the Roman community and the various ways in which members of that community interacted There simply is however no overview that takes into account the multifarious progress that has been made in the past thirty odd years The purpose of this handbook is twofold On the one hand it synthesizes what has heretofore been accomplished in this field On the other hand it attempts to configure the examination of Roman social relations in some new ways and thereby indicates directions in which the discipline might now proceed The book opens with a substantial general introduction that portrays the current state of the field indicates some avenues for further study and provides the background necessary for the following chapters It lays out what is now known about the historical development of Roman society and the essential structures of that community In a second introductory article Clifford Ando explains the chronological parameters of the handbook The main body of the book is divided into the following six sections 1 Mechanisms of Socialization primary education rhetorical education family law 2 Mechanisms of Communication and Interaction 3 Communal Contexts for Social Interaction 4 Modes of Interpersonal Relations friendship patronage hospitality dining funerals benefactions honor 5 Societies Within the Roman Community collegia cults Judaism Christianity the army and 6 Marginalized Persons slaves women children prostitutes actors and gladiators bandits The result is a unique up to date and comprehensive survey of ancient Roman society literary exploration and discovery concerned with the recovery of lost works with those writers whose works were out of print or hard to find and whose names were somehow not fashionable in the current discourse but who are important nevertheless Edouard Roditi Barbara Barg and Tom Savage for example should be better known but their books are largely ignored This collection of essays highlights those works on the periphery such as Turkish poets Seyhan Er z elik and K k skender while it also includes several essays on better known queer authors like Pierre Guyotat and Pier Paolo Pasolini focusing on often overlooked qualities in their work that bear looking at closely These essays on works of literature are complemented by a number of texts on jazz again highlighting important and interesting figures in the world of jazz and free improvisation that may have fallen through the cracks such as the pianist Richard Twardzick and the Ganelin trio which recorded their great experimental work Ancora da Capo in 1980 behind the Iron Curtain Attention is also to given to more popular figures such as Stan Getz The volume is completed with a series of essays reappraising Roman poets in the twenty first century offering fresh new translations and readings of authors such as Catullus and Callimachus A collection of essays like an anthology is by its nature incomplete Essays on the Peripheries is a kind of sketch rather than a finished portrait of the author s changing impressions on various subjects over the years
