Deification in Eastern Orthodox Theology Emil Bartos, 2007-01-01 In recent years Eastern Orthodox thought has had an increasing influence on key aspects of contemporary Western Christian thought particularly as regards the doctrine of the Trinity and mystical spirituality However the foundations and fundamental presuppositions of Eastern Christianity's theological system have remained largely unstudied and thus unknown in the West In this important study Emil Bartos examines the doctrine of deification which provides the conceptual basis for the way Staniloae and other Orthodox theologians understand the major doctrines of the Christian faith The idea that God became man that man might become God sounds almost heretical to many Western ears yet this affirmation is repeated countless times in the writings of the Eastern Fathers Beginning with the apophaticism that lies at the heart of Eastern theology Bartos examines each of the key doctrines of anthropology christology soteriology and ecclesiology as they relate to deification in Staniloae's thought Bartos study represents not merely a contribution to contemporary dialogue between Eastern and Western theologians but also a much needed introduction to an aspect of Christian thought down the centuries that is largely neglected in the Christian West The Philokalia Brock Bingaman,Bradley Nassif,2012-06-26 The Philokalia literally love of the beautiful or good is after the Bible the most influential source of spiritual tradition within the Orthodox Church First published in Greek in 1782 by St Nicodemos of the Holy Mountain and St Macarios of Corinth the Philokalia includes works by thirty six influential Orthodox authors from the fourth to fifteenth centuries such as Maximus the Confessor Peter of Damascus Symeon the New Theologian and Gregory Palamas Surprisingly this important collection of theological and spiritual writings has received little scholarly attention With the growing interest in Orthodox theology the need for a substantive resource for philokalic studies has become increasingly evident The purpose of the present volume is to remedy that lack by providing an ecumenical collection of scholarly essays on the Philokalia that will introduce readers to its background motifs authors and relevance for contemporary life and thought

As Tutea's pupil and scribe for twelve years as a psychiatrist and as a theologian Alexandru Popescu is uniquely placed to present the work of this twentieth century Confessor of the faith Drawing on bibliographical sources which include unpublished or censored manuscripts and personal conversations with Tutea and with other prisoners of conscience in Romania Popescu presents extensive translations of Tutea which make his thought accessible to the English speaking reader for the first time Through his stature as a human being and his authority as a thinker Petre Tutea challenges us to question many of our assumptions The choice he presents between sacrifice and moral suicide focuses us on the very essence of religion and human personhood Resisting any ultimate separation of theology and spirituality his work affirms hope and love as the sole ground upon which truth can be based At the same time hope and love are not mere ideal emotions but are known and lived in engagement with the real world in politics economics science ecol
