Romania's NATO Membership ,2005 Romania represents a reliable NATO member and an emergent democracy among the Eastern European countries In 2004 Romania became a NATO member and will be integrated in the European Union in 2007 However these achievements required Romania to go through challenging reforms and to implement Western standards NATO membership represented the first challenge after the fall of communism in the early 1990s The process for NATO developed along three main dimensions NATO s evolution after the Cold War Romania s historical position toward Western integration and Romania s military reform after the Warsaw Pact dissolved After 1990 NATO s own evolution represented the main process that influenced decisively Romania s development NATO had to confront two policy issues the relevance of the Alliance after the fall of the Soviet Union and the rationale for including former Eastern European countries NATO s approach was to encourage former Warsaw Pact countries to cooperate within NATO s security forum to maintain stability in Eastern Europe Moreover the Eastern European countries could develop policies and plans for NATO membership At the same time the possible NATO enlargement could redefine NATO s role and preserve its relevancy Romania s communist domination for almost 5 decades after World War II limited its opportunities for becoming a democratic country Nicolae Ceausescu s dictatorship produced negative political social and economic effects and influenced the West s perception of Romania However Romania started to review its servitude to the Soviet regime in the mid 1960s The West responded positively but remained skeptical after Ceausescu s failure to improve social and economic conditions After the 1989 Revolution Romania struggled to create the conditions for NATO and EU membership Political consensus and proper resource allocation remained the constant issues for the post 1989 Rumanian governments The Required

Transformation of the Romanian Army, 2006 As a NATO member Romania must transform its military forces in order to meet the interoperability requirements and operational capabilities set by NATO in deployability sustainability survivability and C4ISTAR systems These areas require capabilities based forces able to perform full spectrum operations ranging from peacekeeping stability and reconstruction missions to major combat operations By employing the Army Force Management and the Universal Joint Task List the study examines the development of the Romanian Army s current and programmed capabilities and identifies capability gaps capability needs and DOTMLPF solutions that might contribute to reducing the force planning shortfalls The study is a useful assessment tool of the Romanian defense capabilities which can be applied to analyze the defense transformation of other Central and Eastern European countries that went through a similar defense transformation process Romania-NATO Maria Sinescu,Cerasela Moldoveanu,Ruxandra Vidraşcu,2008 NATO - Past, Present And Future Edmond Nawrotzky-Török,2002-01-31 Inhaltsangabe Abstract When talking about integration one must think first of all about the problems such an integration means Many Romanians nowadays look at the integration into the European and Euro Atlantic structures only as a means of better living standards But very few Romanians might be willing to pay the price for the integration Nobody in Romania seems to know exactly the direction we are heading to But there must certainly be changes of the people s mentality if we want to achieve something at all Yet this problem does not concern Romanians alone The West generally regards Romania as a source of crime and at least for the moment does not even want to talk to Romania about our integration into the European Union although the negotiations have been started with all potential candidates at the same time Recently when about 500 gypsies created problems in Austria the country asked Hungary and the Czech Republic to introduce the visa system for Romanian citizens They obviously wanted the Romanians to be even more humiliated than they already were lining up also at Hungary s and the Czech Republic s embassies in order to be able to travel to those countries Mister Andrei Plesu the Romanian Foreign Affairs Minister said If 500 gypsies are able to destabilise Austria they are either first hand merchandise or Austria is a little bit frail On the other hand one cannot deny that Romanian citizens keep causing trouble to western European countries But the problem is that dubious people manage somehow to get visas while honest people are denied the basic right of travelling to foreign countries only because a few of their fellow citizens are being considered troublemakers If no visas were required only a small negligible margin of the Romanian citizens travelling abroad would be denied the permission to travel to western European countries again Then there is the problem of culture If you ask a Romanian citizen about the capital of a western European state it is less possible that he will not know it than if you asked a western European about Romania s capital For instance many Frenchmen are convinced that Budapest is Romania s capital A French band performing in Bucharest was warmly welcome and acclaimed until its members shouted I love you Budapest Of course the fact that western Europeans do not know eastern European capitals does not mean that people in western Europe are not civilised Romania NATO Enlargement Adrian Năstase,2002

Romania's Experiences with Defense Reform Since the December 1989 Revolution and the Dimensions of Civil-military Relations Viewed as a Trinity, 2007 The thesis addresses Romania's experiences with defense reform and the development of democratic civil military relations CMR since the collapse of communism in December 1989 The purpose of the thesis is to identify relevant qualitative and quantitative indicators to measure the progress of the Romanian political and military authorities in implementing the defense reform initiatives with a special focus on the CMR trinity civilian democratic control over the armed forces defense efficiency and military effectiveness The thesis argues that civilian control over the armed forces was the key priority during the early stages of defense reform given the challenges posed by the transition to democracy During this period attention was focused on establishing and enforcing the democratic constitutional and legal framework re-defining the roles and missions of the armed forces and restructuring of the military Once these objectives were achieved the defense reform allowed for finding appropriate strategies and policies to improve efficiency and military effectiveness Consistent progress has been made alongside these aspects of CMR especially since the 2000s when national efforts were more convincing and the NATO assistance for further accession was more targeted The success of Romania's experiences with defense reform is demonstrated by revisiting three areas of defense policies the defense planning programming and budgeting system PPBS the human resource management and the modernization of military equipment
