The Romantic Realist Caroline de La Motte Fouqué, by Jean T. Wilde

Jean T. Wilde, Gender, Collaboration, and Authorship in German Culture John B. Lyon, Laura Deiulio, 2019-08-22 Gender Collaboration and Authorship in German Culture challenges a model of literary production that persists in literary studies the so called Geniekult or the idea of the solitary male author as genius that emerged around 1800 in German lands A closer look at creative practices during this time indicates that collaborative creative endeavors specifically joint ventures between women and men were an important mode of literary production during this era This volume surveys a variety of such collaborations and proves that male and female spheres of creation were not as distinct as has been previously thought It demonstrates that the model of the male genius that dominated literary studies for centuries was not inevitable that viable alternatives to it existed Finally it demands that we rethink definitions of an author and a literary work in ways that account for the complex modes of creation from which they arose Encyclopedia of the Romantic Era, 1760-1850 Christopher John Murray, 2013-05-13 In 850 analytical articles this two volume set explores the developments that influenced the profound changes in thought and sensibility during the second half of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear detailed and accurate reference source on the literature thought music and art of the period demonstrating the rich interplay of international influences and cross currents at work and to explore the many issues raised by the very concepts of Romantic and Romanticism

Towards Emancipation Carol Diethe, 1998 Focusing on feminism in Germany Towards Emancipation examines some of the most influential women writers of the nineteenth century from the late Romantic writers such as Bettina von Arnim and Johanna Schopenhauer to writers who were active in the 1848 Revolution such as Malwida von Meysenbug and Johanna Kinkel The heart of the book is devoted to the leading proponents of emancipation Hedwig Dohm Helene Bohlau and the prolific Louise Otto Peters yet it also includes mainstream writers whose attitudes towards the movement range from lukewarm the enormously popular Marie von Ebner Eschenbach and Gabriele Reuter to downright hostile Lou Andreas Salome and Franziska zu Reventlow

Landscapes of Realism Dirk Göttsche, Rosa Mucignat, Robert Weninger, 2021-04-15 Few literary phenomena are as elusive and yet as persistent as realism While it responds to the perennial impulse to use literature to reflect on experience it also designates a specific set of literary and artistic practices that emerged in response to Western modernity Landscapes of Realism is a two volume collaborative interdisciplinary exploration of this vast territory bringing together leading edge new criticism on the realist paradigms that were first articulated in nineteenth century Europe but have since gone on globally to transform the literary landscape Tracing the manifold ways in which these paradigms are developed discussed and contested across time space cultures and media this first volume tackles in its five core essays and twenty five case studies such questions as why realism emerged when it did why and how it developed such a transformative dynamic across languages to what extent realist poetics remain central to art and popular culture after 1900 and how generally to reassess realism from a twenty first century comparative perspective A History of Women's Writing in Germany, Austria and Switzerland
