Black Bodies, White Gold Anna Arabindan-Kesson, 2021-03-22 In Black Bodies White Gold Anna Arabindan Kesson uses cotton a commodity central to the slave trade and colonialism as a focus for new interpretations of the way art commerce and colonialism were intertwined in the nineteenth century Atlantic world In doing so Arabindan Kesson models an art historical approach that makes the histories of the Black diaspora central to nineteenth century cultural production She traces the emergence of a speculative vision that informs perceptions of Blackness in which artistic renderings of cotton as both commodity and material became inexorably tied to the monetary value of Black bodies From the production and representation of negro cloth the textile worn by enslaved plantation workers to depictions of Black sharecroppers in photographs and paintings Arabindan Kesson demonstrates that visuality was the mechanism through which Blackness and cotton became equated as resources for extraction In addition to interrogating the work of nineteenth century artists she engages with contemporary artists such as Hank Willis Thomas Lubaina Himid and Yinka Shonibare CBE RA who contend with the commercial and imperial processes shaping constructions of Blackness and meanings of labor Mercy, Mercy Me James C. Hall, 2001-10-19 Using an interdisciplinary approach this book argues that American artistry in the 1960s can be understood as one of the most vital and compelling interrogations of modernity James C Hall finds that the legacy of slavery and the resistance to it have by necessity made African Americans among the most incisive critics and celebrants of the Enlightenment inheritance Focusing on the work of six individuals Robert Hayden William Demby Paule Marshall John Coltrane Romare Bearden and W E B DuBois Mercy Mercy Me seeks to recover an American tradition of evaluating the dialectic of the Enlightenment 1971 Darby English, 2016-12-20 In this book art historian Darby English explores the year

1971 when two exhibitions opened that brought modernist painting and sculpture into the burning heart of United States cultural politics Contemporary Black Artists in America at the Whitney Museum of American Art and The DeLuxe Show a racially integrated abstract art exhibition presented in a renovated movie theater in a Houston ghetto 1971 A Year in the Life of Color looks at many black artists desire to gain freedom from overt racial representation as well as their efforts and those of their advocates to further that aim through public exhibition Amid calls to define a black aesthetic these experiments with modernist art prioritized cultural interaction and instability Contemporary Black Artists in America highlighted abstraction as a stance against normative approaches while The DeLuxe Show positioned abstraction in a center of urban blight The importance of these experiments English argues came partly from color s special status as a cultural symbol and partly from investigations of color already under way in late modern art and criticism With their supporters black modernists among them Peter Bradley Frederick Eversley Alvin Loving Raymond Saunders and Alma Thomas rose above the demand to represent or be represented compromising nothing in their appeals for interracial collaboration and above all responding with optimism rather than cynicism to the surrounding culture s preoccupation with color Colored White David R. Roediger,2003-11 In this splendid book David Roediger shows the need for political activism aimed at transforming the social and political meaning of race No other writer on whiteness can match Roediger s historical breadth and depth his grasp of the formative role played by race in the making of the nineteenth century working class in defining the contours of twentieth century U S citizenship and social membership and in shaping the meaning of emerging social identities and cultural practices in the twenty first century George Lipsitz author of The Possessive Investment in Whiteness David Roediger has been showing us all for years how whiteness is a marked and not a neutral color in the history of the United States Colored White with its synthetic sweep and new historical investigations marks yet another advance In the burgeoning literature on whiteness this book stands out for its lucid unjargonridden lively prose its groundedness its analytic clarity and its scope Michael Rogin author of Blackface White Noise Anywhere But Here Kendahl Radcliffe,Jennifer Scott,Anja Werner,2014-12-31 Contributions by Keiko Araki Ikaweba Bunting Kimberly Cleveland Amy Caldwell de Farias Kimberli Gant Danielle Legros Georges Douglas W Leonard John Maynard Kendahl Radcliffe Edward L Robinson Jr Jennifer Scott and Anja Werner Anywhere But Here brings together new scholarship on the cross cultural experiences of intellectuals of African descent since the eighteenth century The book embraces historian Paul Gilroy s prominent thesis in The Black Atlantic Modernity and Double Consciousness and posits arguments beyond The Black Atlantic s traditional organization and symbolism Contributions are arranged into three sections that highlight the motivations and characteristics connecting a certain set of agents thinkers and intellectuals the first Re ordering Worldviews Rebellious Thinkers Poets Writers and Political Architects the second Crafting Connections Strategic and Ideological Alliances and the third Cultural Mastery in Foreign Spaces Evolving Visions of Home and Identity These essays expand categories and suggest patterns at play that have united individuals and communities across the African diaspora They highlight the stories of people who from their intercultural and often marginalized positions challenged the status quo created strategic and at times unexpected international alliances cultivated expertise and cultural fluency abroad as well as crafted physical and intellectual spaces for their self expression and dignity to thrive What for example connects the eighteenth century Igbo author Olaudah Equiano with 1940s literary figure Richard Wright nineteenth century expatriate anthropologist Antenor Fermin with 1960s Haitian migrants to the Congo Japanese Pan Asianists and Southern Hemisphere Aboriginal activists with Jamaican born Marcus Garvey or Angela Davis with artists of the British Black Arts Movement Ingrid Pollard and Zarina Bhimji They are all part of a mapping that reaches across and beyond geographical historical and ideological boundaries typically associated with the Black Atlantic They reflect accounts of individuals and communities equally united in their will to seek out better lives often as the title suggests anywhere but here

The Other Side of Color David C. Driskell, 2001 This volume presents selections from the highly respected Cosby collection of African American art Their introductions elaborate on their strong belief that African American families should themselves seek to preserve their cultural history and not rely on the mainstream They also provide interesting background about how they began their collection and what owning the art has meant to them The essay by Driskell curator author and scholar places each artist within the context of his or her era from the late 1700s to the present and explores the historical biographical social and political background of each period Also contains biographies of the artists Beautifully illustrated with 91 color plates and several other illustrations Oversize 10 25x13 25 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
