Saints & Sinners Eamon Duffy, 2006-01-01 Pavernes historie indtil idag Humanism and Empire Alexander Lee, 2018-02-02 For more than a century scholars have believed that Italian humanism was predominantly civic in outlook Often serving in communal government fourteenth century humanists like Albertino Mussato and Coluccio Salutati are said to have derived from their reading of the Latin classics a rhetoric of republican liberty that was opposed to the tyranny of neighbouring signori and of the German emperors In this ground breaking study Alexander Lee challenges this long held belief From the death of Frederick II in 1250 to the failure of Rupert of the Palatinate's ill fated expedition in 1402 Lee argues the humanists nurtured a consistent and powerful affection for the Holy Roman Empire Though this was articulated in a variety of different ways it was nevertheless driven more by political conviction than by cultural concerns Surrounded by endless conflict both within and between city states the humanists eagerly embraced the Empire as the surest guarantee of peace and liberty and lost no opportunity to invoke its protection Indeed as Lee shows the most ardent appeals to imperial authority were made not by signorial humanists but by humanists in the service of communal regimes The first comprehensive synoptic study of humanistic ideas of Empire in the period c 1250 1402 this volume offers a radically new interpretation of fourteenth century political thought and raises wide ranging questions about the foundations of modern constitutional ideas As such it is essential reading not just for students of Renaissance Italy and the history of political thought but for all those interested in understanding the origins of liberty

The Lithic Garden Mailan S. Doquang, 2018-01-11 The Lithic Garden offers innovative perspectives on the role of ornament in medieval church design Focusing on the foliate friezes articulating iconic French monuments such as Amiens Cathedral it demonstrates that church builders strategically used organic motifs to integrate the interior and exterior of their structures thus reinforcing the connections and distinctions between the entirety of the sacred edifice and the profane world beyond its boundaries With this exquisitely illustrated monograph Mailan S Doquang argues that contrary to widespread belief monumental flora was not just an extravagant embellishment or secondary byproduct but a semantically charged critical design component that inflected the stratified spaces of churches in myriad ways By situating the proliferation of foliate friezes within the context of the Crusades The Lithic Garden provides insights into the networks of exchange between France Byzantium and the Levant contributing to the global turn in art and architectural History
