Chicorel Index to Poetry in Anthologies and Collections in Print Marietta Chicorel, 1974 California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Richard Brautigan John F. Barber, 2014-12-09 Best known for his novel Trout Fishing in America American writer Richard Gary Brautigan 1935-1984 published eleven novels ten poetry collections and two story collections as well as five volumes of collected work several nonfiction essays and a record album of spoken voice recordings. Brautigan's idiosyncratic style and humor caused him to be identified with the counterculture movement of the 1960s. The authors of many of these 32 essays knew Brautigan personally and professionally others came to know and respect him through a cultivated connection with his writings. The essays many of which are new others of which were published in obscure journals combine personal remembrance of the man and critical appraisal of his still controversial works. Includes previously unpublished photographs and artworks

Knowing Fear Jason Colavito, 2007-11-26 Tracing the development of horror entertainment since the late 18th century this study argues that scientific discovery technological progress and knowledge in general have played an unparalleled role in influencing the evolution of horror. Throughout its many subgenres biological horror cosmic horror and others and formats film literature comics horror records humanity's uneasy relationship with its own ability to reason understand and learn. The text first outlines a loose framework defining several distinct periods in horror development then explores each period sequentially by looking at the scientific and cultural background of the period its expression in horror literature and its expression in horror visual and performing arts

No Requiem for the Space Age Matthew D. Tribbe, 2014-06-06 During the summer of 1969 the summer Americans first walked on the moon musician and poet Patti Smith recalled strolling down the Coney Island Boardwalk to a refreshment stand where pictures of Jesus President Kennedy and the astronauts were taped to the wall behind the register. Such was the zeitgeist in the year of the moon. Yet this holy trinity of 1960s America would quickly fall apart. Although Jesus and John F. Kennedy remained iconic by the time the Apollo Program came to a premature end just three years later few Americans mourned its passing. Why did support for the space program decrease so sharply by the early 1970s? Rooted in profound scientific and technological leaps rational technocratic management and an ambitious view of the universe as a realm susceptible to human mastery the Apollo moon landings were the grandest manifestation of postwar American progress and seemed to prove that the United States could accomplish anything to which it committed its energies and resources To the great dismay of its many proponents however NASA found the ground shifting beneath its feet as a fierce wave of anti rationalism arose throughout American society fostering a cultural environment in which growing numbers of Americans began to contest rather than embrace the rationalist values and vision of progress that Apollo embodied Shifting the conversation of Apollo from its Cold War origins to larger trends in American culture and society and probing an eclectic mix of voices from the era including intellectuals religious leaders rock musicians politicians and a variety of everyday Americans Matthew Tribbe paints an electrifying portrait of a nation in the midst of questioning the very values that had guided it through the postwar years as it began to develop new conceptions of progress that had little to do with blasting ever more men to the moon No Requiem for the Space Age offers a narrative of the 1960s and 1970s unlike any told before with the story of Apollo as the story of America itself in a time of dramatic cultural change Jubilee Hitchhiker William Hjortsberg,2012-04-01 Confident and robust Jubilee Hitchhiker is an comprehensive biography of late novelist and poet Richard Brautigan author of Troutfishing in America and A Confederate General from Big Sur among many others When Brautigan took his own life in September of 1984 his close friends and network of artists and writers were devastated though not entirely surprised To many Brautigan was shrouded in enigma erratic and unpredictable in his habits and presentation But his career was formidable an inspiration to young writers like Hjortsberg trying to get their start Brautigan s career wove its way through both the Beat influenced San Francisco Renaissance in the 1950s and the Flower Power hippie movement of the 1960s while he never claimed direct artistic involvement with either period Jubilee Hitchhiker also delves deeply into the spirited times in which he lived As Hjortsberg guides us through his search to uncover Brautigan as a man the reader is pulled deeply into the writer s world Ultimately this is a work that seeks to connect the Brautigan known to his fans with the man who ended his life so abruptly in 1984 while revealing the close ties between his writing and the actual events of his life Part history part biography and part memoir this etches the portrait of a man destroyed by his genius Writing for Real Ross M. Burkhardt,2003 Provides teachers with strategies to encourage their students to write The Postmodern Short Story Farhat Iftekharudin,Joseph Boyden,Mary Rohrberger,Jaie Claudet,2003-12-30 Short stories are usually defined in terms of characteristics of modernism in which the story begins in the middle develops according to a truncated plot and ends with an epiphany This approach tends to ignore postmodernism a movement often characterized by a negation of objective reality where plots are seemingly abandoned surfaces are extraordinary and symbols turn inward on themselves This book examines postmodern forms and characteristic themes by analyzing a group of short stories that make use of postmodern narrative strategies including nonfictional fiction gender profiling and death as an image The volume begins with a discussion of the blurred lines between fiction and nonfiction in the short story and imaginative personal essay It then looks at the role of women in works by such authors as Sandra Cisneros Leslie Marmon Silko Joyce Carol Oates and Lorrie Moore This is followed by a section of chapters on postmodern masculinity and short fiction The next section focuses on death as an image and theme in works by Richard Ford Richard Brautigan and James Joyce The final set of chapters considers postmodern short fiction from South Africa and Canada

The Zapple Diaries Barry Miles, 2016-09-27 A revealing history of the Beatles experimental record label as told by the label's manager In August 1968 the Beatles launched their greatest business enterprise Apple Records to international fanfare The less well known story is the introduction of their Zapple label about nine months later If Apple represented artists with new commercial opportunities Zapple offered more cutting edge freedom its mission was to distribute experimental music and spoken word recordings from the leading avant garde figures of the time The brainchild of Paul McCartney the label captured the counterculture spirit of the 1960s by collaborating with Yoko Ono alongside John Lennon Allen Ginsberg Richard Brautigan Charles Bukowski Lawrence Ferlinghetti and Charles Olson The Zapple Diaries is the first full length look at the enterprise as well as a true insider account from Barry Miles the label's manager who went on to become a leading authority and chronicler of 60s culture He provides insight into the colorful lives and working methods of the artists and discloses the fascinating story of the experimental venture ultimately offering up a revealing and engaging account of this little known chapter of Beatles history

Electromagnetic and Optical Pulse Propagation 2 Kurt E. Oughstun, 2010-07-23 Electromagnetic Optical Pulse Propagation presents a detailed systematic treatment of the time domain electromagnetics with application to the propagation of transient electromagnetic fields including ultrawideband signals and ultrashort pulses in homogeneous isotropic media which exhibit both temporal frequency dispersion and attenuation The development is mathematically rigorous with strict adherence to the fundamental physical principle of causality Approximation methods are based upon mathematically well defined asymptotic techniques that are based upon the saddle point method A detailed description is given of the asymptotic expansions used Meaningful exercises are given throughout the text to help the reader's understanding of the material making the book a useful graduate level text in electromagnetic wave theory for both physics electrical engineering and materials science programs Both students and researchers alike will obtain a better understanding of time domain electromagnetics as it applies to electromagnetic radiation and wave propagation theory with applications to ground and foliage penetrating radar medical imaging communications and the health and safety issues associated with ultrawideband pulsed fields Volume 2 presents a detailed asymptotic description of plane wave pulse propagation in dielectric conducting and semiconducting materials as described by the classical Lorentz model of dielectric resonance the Rocard Powles Debys model of orientational polarization and the Drude model of metals The rigorous description of the signal velocity of a pulse in a dispersive material is presented in connection with the question of superluminal pulse propagation
