Embracing the East Mari Yoshihara, 2003 As exemplified by Madame Butterfly East West relations have often been expressed as the relations between the masculine dominant West and the feminine submissive East Yet this binary model does not account for the important role of white women in the construction of Orientalism Mari Yoshihara's study examines a wide range of white women who were attracted to Japan and China in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century and shows how through their engagement with Asia these women found new forms of expression power and freedom that were often denied to them in other realms of their lives in America She demonstrates how white women's attraction to Asia shaped and was shaped by a complex mix of exoticism for the foreign admiration for the refined desire for power and control and love and compassion for the people of Asia Through concrete historical narratives and careful textual analysis she examines the ideological context for America's changing discourse about Asia and interrogates the power and appeal as well as the problems and limitations of American Orientalism for white women's explorations of their identities Combining the analysis of race and gender in the United States and the study of U S Asian relations Yoshihara's work represents the transnational direction of scholarship in American Studies and U S history In addition this interdisciplinary work brings together diverse materials and approaches including cultural history material culture visual arts performance studies and literary analysis Embracing the East was the winner of the 2003 Hiroshi Shimizu Award of the Japanese Association for American Studies best book in American Studies by a junior member of the association

American Art Pottery Alice Cooney Frelinghuysen, Martin Eidelberg, Adrienne Spinozzi, 2018-09-25 p p1 margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px font 14 0px Verdana At the height of the Arts and Crafts era in Europe and the United States American ceramics were transformed from industrially produced ornamental works to handcrafted art pottery Celebrated ceramists such as George E Ohr Hugh C Robertson and M Louise McLaughlin and prize winning potteries including Grueby and Rookwood harnessed the potential of the medium to create an astonishing range of dynamic forms and experimental glazes Spanning the period from the 1870s to the 1950s this volume chronicles the history of American art pottery through more than three hundred works in the outstanding collection of Robert A Ellison Jr In a series of fascinating chapters the authors place these works in the context of turn of the century commerce design and social history Driven to innovate and at times fiercely competitive some ceramists strove to discover and patent new styles and aesthetics while others pursued more utopian aims establishing artist communities that promoted education and handwork as therapy Written by a team of esteemed scholars and copiously illustrated with sumptuous images this book imparts a full understanding of American art pottery while celebrating the legacy of a visionary collector Rookwood Pottery Jeffrey B. Snyder, 2005 Over 800 color photos display the ceramic art pottery made by Rookwood Pottery from 1880 through 1967 Hand painted decoration by Albert R and Anna Marie Valentien Matt Daly William Hentschel Kate C Matchette Mary Nourse and Kataro Shirayamadani among others are shown on vases urns candlesticks and plates The text provides a history of the company a detailed bibliography and an index Inventing Ideas B. Zorina Khan, 2020 What determines why some countries succeed and others fall behind Economists have long debated the sources of economic growth resulting in conflicting and often inaccurate claims about the role of the state knowledge patented ideas monopolies grand innovation prizes and the nature of disruptive technologies B Zorina Khan s Inventing Ideas overturns conventional thinking and meticulously demonstrates how and why the mechanism design of institutions propels advances in the knowledge economy and ultimately shapes the fate of nations Drawing on the experiences of over 100 000 inventors and innovations from Britain France and the United States during the first and second industrial revolutions 1750 1930 Khan s comprehensive empirical analysis provides a definitive micro foundation for endogenous macroeconomic growth models This groundbreaking study uses comparative analysis across time and place to show how different institutions affect technological innovation and growth Khan demonstrates how top down innovation systems in which elites state administrators or panels make key economic decisions about prizes rewards and the allocation of resources prove to be ineffective and unproductive By contrast open access markets in patented ideas increase the scale and scope of creativity foster diversity and inclusiveness generate greater knowledge spillovers and enhance social welfare in the wider population When institutions are associated with rewards that are misaligned with economic value and productivity the negative consequences can accumulate and reduce comparative advantage at the level of individuals and nations alike So who will arise as the global leader of the twenty first century The answer depends on the extent to which we learn and implement the lessons from the history of innovation and enterprise Claude Raguet Hirst Claude Raguet Hirst, Martha M. Evans, National Museum of Women in the Arts (U.S.), Columbus Museum of Art, 2004 This is the first publication devoted to Hirst s oils and watercolors and her
