Asian Adoptions in the United States: Congressional Hearing, From Intercountry Adoption to Global Surrogacy Karen Smith Rotabi, Nicole F. Bromfield, 2016-12-12 Inter-country adoption has undergone a radical decline since 2004 when it reached a peak of approximately 45 000 children adopted globally Its practice had been linked to conflict poverty gender inequality and claims of human trafficking ultimately leading to the establishment of the Hague Convention on Inter-country Adoption HCIA This international private law along with the Convention on the Rights of the Child affirm the best interests of the child as paramount in making decisions on behalf of children and families with obligations specifically oriented to safeguards in adoption practices In 2004 as inter-country adoption peaked and then began a dramatic decline commercial global surrogacy contracts began to take off in India Global surrogacy gained in popularity owing in part to improved assisted reproductive technology methods the ease with which people can make global surrogacy arrangements and same sex couples seeking the option to have their own genetically related children Yet regulation remains an issue so much so that the Hague Conference on Private International Law has undertaken research and assessed the many dilemmas as an expert group considers drafting a new law with some similarities to the HCIA and a strong emphasis on parentage This ground breaking book presents a detailed history and applies policy and human rights issues with an emphasis on the best interests of the child within inter-country adoption and the new conceptions of protection necessary in global surrogacy To meet this end voices of surrogate mothers in the US and India ground discourse as authors consider the human rights concerns and policy implications For both inter-country adoption and global surrogacy the complexity of the social context anchors the discourse inclusive of the intersections of poverty and privilege This examination of the inevitable problems is presented at a time in which the pathways to global surrogacy appear to be shifting as the Supreme Court of India weighs in on the future of the industry there while Thailand Cambodia and other countries have banned the practice all together There is speculation that countries in Africa and possibly Central America appear poised to pick up the multi million dollar industry as the demand for healthy infants continues on
