Nub and Bow in History Michael Blair, 2011-06-07 Nub was my dad His name was Lawrence He is on the right His brother Theodore is on the left This picture was taken about 1948 Most of this book was put together to make fiction This book is about two boys that were brothers growing up about 1910 It has a lot of history religion and a cook book at the end Dad gave people nick names mine was Bow You pronounce it like Bow in Bow and Arrows Lots of names in which were used have been changed like Bow for my uncle The picture on the left of the back is of Earl Hamner and I There isn't and drugs killing bed hopping or bad language in it My other book that are out are Nub and Bow and Between the Tracks Stranger in a Strange Land Robert Anson Heinlein, 1987 This is the epic saga of an earthling Valentine Michael Smith born and educated on Mars who arrives on our planet with psi powers telepathy clairvoyance telekinesis and the ability to take control of the minds of others and yet with complete innocence regarding the mores of man Strange Encounters Sara Ahmed, 2013-02-01 Examining the relationship between strangers embodiment and community Strange Encounters challenges the assumptions that the stranger is simply anybody we do not recognize and instead proposes that he or she is socially constructed as somebody we already know Using feminist and postcolonial theory this book examines the impact of multiculturalism and globalization on embodiment and community whilst considering the ethical and political implication of its critique for post colonial feminism A diverse range of texts are analyzed which produce the figure of the stranger showing that it has alternatively been expelled as the origin of danger such as in neighbourhood watch or celebrated as the origin of difference as in multiculturalism The author argues that both of these standpoints are problematic as they involve stranger fetishism they assume that the stranger has a life of its own Empathy and the Strangeness of Fiction Maria C. Scott, 2020-03-02 Explores how and why narrative fiction engages empathy including Theory of Mind Offers a broad overview of current scientific work on the effects of fiction reading on empathy including Theory of Mind Provides an original intervention in the field of literary theory centring on the reflexive properties of the fictional stranger Includes stand alone close readings of three novels by important French authors This book studies recent psychological findings which suggest that reading fiction cultivates empathy encouraging us to be critically reflective suspicious readers as well as participatory nave readers Scott draws on literary theory and close readings to argue that engagement with fictional stories also teaches us to resist uncritical forms of empathy and reminds us of the limitations of our ability to understand other people The book treats figures of the stranger in Balzac's La Fille aux yeux d'or Stendhal's Le Rouge et le Noir and Sand's Indiana as emblematic of the strangeness of narrative fiction both drawing us in and keeping us at a distance The Golden Rule, 1896
