The Lord is My Counsel Marion E. Wade, Glenn D. Kittler, 1966      The Servicemaster Story Albert M.

Erisman, 2021-10-05 The ServiceMaster Story written by faith and business expert Albert M Erisman examines how the first five leaders of ServiceMaster a cleaning and restoration service company managed to develop and give deeper purpose to their employees while also growing into a financially successful organization From 1929 to 2001 ServiceMaster grew from a few people making their living in Chicago to a publicly traded company with revenues of 6 billion in forty countries with five different leaders Each leader built on the work of the previous leader focusing on helping workers to develop as people Their number one goal was to honor God in all we do ServiceMaster was considered by employees at all levels as a great place to work and was selected by Fortune magazine as the most admired service company in the world both in the 1980s and 1990s How did ServiceMaster manage to develop and give deeper purpose to employees doing menial jobs like cleaning floors and toilets and at the same time grow financially This book explores the way the five early leaders collaborated complemented each other and adapted to changing economic and cultural environments while creating value for workers shareholders and customers alike Key points and features An inspirational story that studies the balance between honoring God serving people and growing financially for those interested in the dynamics of work and faith in the workplace Includes photos and charts

The Blessings of Business Darren E. Grem, 2016-05-02 The Book of Matthew cautions readers that Ye cannot serve God and mammon But for at least a century conservative American Protestants have been trying to prove that adage wrong In The Blessings of Business Darren E Grem argues that while preachers activists and politicians have all helped spread the gospel American evangelicalism owes its enduring strength in a large part to private enterprise Grem argues for a new history of American evangelicalism demonstrating how its adherents strategically used corporate America its leaders businesses money ideas and values to advance their religious cultural and political movement Beginning before the First World War conservative evangelicals were able to use businessmen and business methods to retain and expand their public influence in a secularizing diversifying and liberalizing age In the process they became beholden to pro business stances on matters of theology race gender taxation trade and the state transforming evangelicalism itself into as much of an economic movement as a religious one The Blessings of Business tells the story of unlikely partnerships between well known champions of the evangelical movement such as Billy Graham and largely forgotten businessmen like Herbert Taylor J Howard Pew and R G LeTourneau Grem also shows how evangelicals set up their own pro business organizations and linked the quarterly and yearly growth of Christian businesses to their social religious and political aspirations Fascinating and provocative The Blessings of Business uncovers the strong ties that conservative Christians have forged between the Almighty and the almighty dollar      God at Work David W. Miller, 2007 In the 1980s Miller shows a complex set of independent developments gave rise to what is known as the Faith At Work movement He analyses the history of the movement examines membership profiles and modes of expression and constructs and proposes a new framework for discussing the movement

Evangelical Christian Executives Lewis D. Solomon, 2017-10-24 In Evangelical Christian Executives Dr Solomon has captured the essence of an effective and refreshingly different approach to business In telling the compelling stories of six Christian CEOs he shows us an alternative to an ethic of greed that has so tarnished corporate America John D Beckett CEO and Chairman of R W Beckett Corp Events of recent years have encouraged a high degree of skepticism and doubt about business institutions and markets In the face of widespread cynicism about corporate credibility business leaders are seeking to restore the trust and confidence not only of investors but of employees customers suppliers shareholders potential investors and the public at large In this volume Lewis D Solomon focuses on evangelical Christians who have founded or come to lead six firms He explores whether religion offers a constructive way to think about corporate governance and the tensions between profitability and social responsibility Solomon finds that many Christian executives have a private faith leading quietly by example Others want their faith to shine forth Solomon focuses on this latter group dividing them into two categories The first group he identifies as preachers who weave visible demonstrations of their faith into the fabric of their businesses The second are those who take a more sophisticated approach based on two biblical principles stewardship and or servant leadership In addition to examining how these leaders of faith have successfully brought their religious values into their businesses he assesses the consequences of incorporating their faith and values into their business organizations considering profitability employee and customer satisfaction legal and environmental compliance and charitable giving Together with these leadership styles and results Solomon presents three business models constant transformational and evolving that enable readers to gain a further understanding of the six companies While Solomon shows that it is possible to integrate financial profitability and broader religious goals he finds that it is difficult though not impossible to maintain a biblically based leadership style after a firm goes public or expands With the growth of evangelical Christianity in many sectors of American public life this volume will be of broad interest to business executives sociologists students of religion and economists Lewis D Solomon is Theodore Rinehart Professor of Business Law at the George Washington University Law School where he has taught corporate and tax law for over twenty five years A prolific author on legal business public policy and religious topics he has written over fifty books and numerous articles He is an ordained rabbi and interfaith minister
