Mexican Macaws Comparative Osteology And Survey Of Remains From The Southwest:

Mexican Macaws Lyndon Lane Hargrave, 1970 The Anthropological Papers of the University of Arizona is a peer reviewed monograph series sponsored by the School of Anthropology Established in 1959 the series publishes archaeological and ethnographic papers that use contemporary method and theory to investigate problems of anthropological importance in the southwestern United States Mexico and related areas The American Southwest and Mesoamerica Jonathon E.

Ericson, Timothy G. Baugh, 2013-11-11 Regional approaches to the study of prehistoric exchange have generated much new knowledge about intergroup and regional interaction The American South west and Mesoamerica Systems of Prehistoric Exchange is the first of two volumes that seek to provide current information regarding regional exchange on a continental basis From a theoretical perspective these volumes provide important data for the comparative analysis of regional systems relative to sociopolitical organization from simple hunter gatherers to those of complex sociopolitical entities like the state Although individual regional exchange systems are unique for each region and time period general patterns emerge relative to sociopolitical organization Of significant interest to us are the dynamic processes of change stability rate of growth and collapse of regional exchange systems relative to sociopolitical complexity These volumes provide basic data to further our understanding of prehistoric exchange systems The volume presents our current state of knowledge about regional exchange systems in the American Southwest and Mesoamerica Each chapter synthesizes the research findings of a number of other researchers in order to provide a synchronic view of regional interaction for a specific chronological period A diachronic view is also provided for regional interaction in the context of the developments in regional sociopolitical organization Most authors go beyond description by proposing alternative models within which to understand regional interaction The book is organized by geographical and chronological divisions to provide units of the broader mosaic of prehistoric exchange systems Puebloan Ruins of the Southwest Arthur H. Rohn, William M. Ferguson, 2006-05-31

Puebloan Ruins of the Southwest offers over 325 color photos showing Puebloan culture from its prehistoric beginnings through twenty five hundred years of growth and change ending with the modern day Pueblo Indians of New Mexico and Arizona Vertebrate Faunal Remains from Grasshopper Pueblo, Arizona John W. Olsen, 1990-01-01 Grasshopper Pueblo is a large fourteenth century community in the forested Mogollon highlands of central Arizona This book is an examination of the entire suite of animal remains from the site Prehistoric Culture Change on the Colorado Plateau Shirley

Powell, Francis E. Smiley, 2016-02 A collection of writings by participants in the Black Mesa Archaeological Project offers a synthesis of Kayenta area archaeology examining the ancestral Puebloan and Navajo occupation of the Four Corners region and analysing faunal lithic ceramic chronometric and human osteological data to construct an account of the prehistory and ethnohistory of northern Arizona that demonstrates how organizational variation and other aspects of culture change are largely a response to a changing natural environment Early Southwest Ornithologists, 1528-1900 Dan Lewis

Fischer,2001-10 Dan Fischer identifies those individuals who documented the natural history of the Southwest and summarizes their contributions to our knowledge about the region s birds particularly through discovering and naming them He tells why the ornithologists came to the region what they saw who described and named the new discoveries and who were the first to sketch or paint new birds BOOK JACKET Attorneys General of the United States, 1789-1985 ,1985

The Architecture and Material Culture of 29SJ1360, Chaco Canyon, New Mexico Peter J. McKenna,1985 Mimbres Society Valli S. Powell-Marti,Patricia A. Gilman,2019-11-01 The enchanting pottery created by the Mimbres people of southwestern New Mexico is considered by many scholars to be unique among all the ancient art traditions of North America Distinguished by their elaborate hand painted black on white designs Mimbres vessels have inspired artists and collectors and many insist that they are unrivaled in several millennia of pottery making While the attention to the extraordinary Mimbres painted pottery is well merited the focus on its artistry alone has obscured other equally remarkable achievements and compelling questions about this unique and sophisticated society Was the society as truly egalitarian as it has often been suggested Was the pottery produced by specialists How did Mimbres architecture among the first to break living spaces into apartment style room blocks reflect the relationships among individuals families and communities Did aggregate housing units translate into social equality or did subtle hierarchies exist Tracing the way technology evolved in ceramic decoration architecture and mortuary practices this collection of eight original contributions brings new insights into previously unexplored dimensions of Mimbres society The contributors also provide vivid examples of how today s archaeologists are linking field data to social theory Identifying and Interpreting Animal Bones April M. Beisaw,2013-11-21 Offering a field tested analytic method for identifying faunal remains along with helpful references images and examples of the most commonly encountered North American species Identifying and Interpreting Animal Bones A Manual provides an important new reference for students avocational archaeologists and even naturalists and wildlife enthusiasts Using the basic principles outlined here the bones of any vertebrate animal including humans can be identified and their relevance to common research questions can be better understood Because the interpretation of archaeological sites depends heavily on the analysis of surrounding materials soils artifacts and floral and faunal remains it is important that non human remains be correctly distinguished from human bones that distinctions between domesticated and wild or feral animals be made correctly and that evidence of the reasons for faunal remains in the site be recognized But the ability to identify and analyze animal bones is a skill that is not easy to learn from a traditional textbook In Identifying and Interpreting Animal Bones veteran archaeologist and educator April Beisaw guides readers through the stages of identification and analysis with sample images and data also illustrating how specialists make analytical decisions that allow for the identification of the smallest fragments of bone Extensive additional illustrative material from the author s own collected assemblages and from those in the Archaeological Analytical Research Facility at Binghamton University in New York are also available in the book s online supplement There
