Perspectives In The Philosophy Of Language A Concise Anthology:

Perspectives in the Philosophy of Language Robert J. Stainton, 2000-06-09 This concise and affordable anthology is designed for use as a textbook in both undergraduate and graduate courses in philosophy of language It aims to provide a core of essential primary sources and may be used either on its own or in conjunction with a secondary source Rethinking the Hollywood Teen Movie Frances Smith, 2018-06-30 An analysis of novelistic explorations of modernism in mathematics and its cultural interrelations

Philosophy of Language in Uruguay Carlos Enrique Caorsi, Ricardo J. Navia, 2024-05-15 In Europe and later in the United States the revitalization of the philosophy of language emerged from the need to address certain perplexities concerning formal disciplines and to work out certain complexities found within philosophy In Uruguay philosophy of language began with Carlos Vaz Ferreira as an analysis of the common and argumentative uses of language but then expanded to address typically philosophical questions Edited by Carlos Enrique Caorsi and Ricardo J Navia Philosophy of Language in Uruguay Language Meaning and Philosophy demonstrates the different directions in which philosophy of language has developed in Uruguay in the last twenty years giving a representative picture of how philosophical approaches from a linguistic perspective have developed in this Latin American country Uruguayan philosophy has a very small international presence but it has long produced works within the philosophical explorations of language that are worthy of being better known The contributors dissect these explorations through epistemology linguistics argumentation and cognitive sciences to discover how philosophers of language such as Vaz Ferreira have grown to understand the complexities of language and how it affects us today

The Conflicted Mind Geoffrey Beattie, 2017-11-01 One of the greatest paradoxes of human behavior is our tendency to say one thing and do something completely different We think of ourselves as positive and fair minded caring about other people and our environment yet our behavior lets us down time and time again Part of the reason for this is that we may have two separate selves two separate and dissociated mental systems one conscious reflective and rational and one whose motives and instincts are rooted in the unconscious and whose operation resists reflection no matter how hard we try In all kinds of areas of our life love politics race smoking survival one system seems to make very different sorts of judgements to the other and is subject to distinct hidden biases The Conflicted Mind explores how and why this system operates as it does and how we may use that knowledge to promote positive behaviour change However the conflicted mind is a broader concept than just the clash between potential hypothetical systems of thinking because in one form or another it forms the very pillars on which the edifice of social psychology is built This unique book therefore examines key social psychology theories and research in a new light including Festinger s concept of cognitive dissonance Milgram s obedience experiments Bateson s description of conflict in communications and Bartlett s explorations of the constructive nature of human memory Geoffrey Beattie argues that although these classic studies were sometimes great and imaginative beginnings they were also full of flaws which social psychology must remedy if it is to make the kind of impact it aspires to In doing so he offers a ground breaking perspective on why we think and act in the way we do to see what lessons can be learned for the discipline of social psychology going forward Written in the author s distinct open and engaging style The Conflicted Mind is a fascinating resource for researchers specialists and students in the field as well as the general reader

Beyond Civilization and Barbarism Brendan Lanctot,2013-12-12 Beyond Civilization and Barbarism examines how various cultural forms promoted competing political projects in Argentina during the decades following independence from Spain This turbulent period has long been characterized as a struggle between two irreconcilable forces the dictatorship of Juan Manuel de Rosas 1829 1852 versus a dissident intellectual elite Most famously Domingo Faustino Sarmiento described the conflict in his canonical Facundo 1845 as a clash between civilization and barbarism which has become a catchphrase for the experience of modernity throughout Latin America Against the grain of this durable script Beyond Civilization and Barbarism examines an extensive corpus to demonstrate how adversaries of the period used similar rhetorical strategies appealed to the same basic political ideals of republican government and were preoccupied with defining and interpellating the pueblo or people In other words their collective struggle was fundamentally modern and waged on a mutually intelligible discursive terrain

Architecture and Silence Christos P. Kakalis, 2019-08-23 This book explores the role of silence in how we design present and experience architecture Grounded in phenomenological theory the book builds on historical theoretical and practical approaches to examine silence as a methodological tool of architectural research and unravel the experiential qualities of the design process Distinct from an entirely soundless experience silence is proposed as a material condition organically incorporated into the built and natural landscape Kakalis argues that either human or atmospheric silence is a condition of waiting for a sound to be born or a new spatio temporal event to emerge In silence therefore we are attentive and attuned to the atmosphere of a place The book unpacks a series of stories of silence in religious topographies urban landscapes film and theatre productions and architectural education with contributed chapters and interviews with Jeff Malpas and Alberto Perez Gomez Aimed at postgraduate students scholars and researchers in architectural theory it shows how performative and atmospheric qualities of silence can build a new understanding of architectural experience information services on day to day activities from a range of contemporary technical and socio cultural perspectives This collection also creates a sound theoretical basis for information systems and new research opportunities in the field

Approximative Justice and Cross-Border Evidence in the EU Anna G. Waldenström, 2025-03-25 This book confronts the difficulties raised by cross border evidence in order to propose a new understanding of justice as approximative Can there be any common sense of justice across the European Union EU This book takes up this question which is raised directly in cases where the understanding of cross border evidence encounters national and linguistic differences The interpretive challenges this introduces impact the possibility of justice in a way that the book argues cannot be resolved with recourse to some ideal of harmonization that would simply flatten these differences Rather these cases taken here from Sweden and France raise a practical but also a theoretical question about how justice can be done In response the book draws on contemporary theorizations of justice to argue against a common sense of justice in the sense of what would be a correct legal judgment In its place the book elaborates an idea of justice that maintains rather than collapsing the differences presented in cases of cross border evidence and which therefore aims to be approximative or good enough rather than simply correct This book will be of interest to readers in legal theory socio legal studies comparative law and European Union law

Methods of Desire Aurora Donzelli, 2019-08-31 Since the Asian financial crisis of the late 1990s Indonesia has undergone a radical program of administrative decentralization and neoliberal reforms In Methods of Desire author Aurora Donzelli explores these changes through an innovative perspective one that locates the production of neoliberalism in novel patterns of language use and new styles of affect display Building on almost two decades of fieldwork Donzelli describes how the growing influence of transnational lending agencies is transforming the ways in which people desire and voice their expectations intentions and entitlements within the emergent participatory democracy and restructuring of Indonesia s political economy She argues that a largely overlooked aspect of the Era Reformasi concerns the transition from a moral regime centered on the expectation that desires should remain hidden to a new emphasis on the public expression of individuals aspirations The book examines how the large scale institutional transformations that followed the collapse of the Suharto regime have impacted people s lives and imaginations in the relatively remote and primarily rural Toraja highlands of Sulawesi A novel concept of the individual as a bundle of audible and measurable desires has emerged one that contrasts with the deep rooted reticence toward the expression of personal preferences The spreading of foreign discursive genres such as customer satisfaction surveys training sessions electoral mission statements and fundraising auctions and the diffusion of new textual artifacts such as checklists flowcharts and workflow diagrams are producing forms of citizenship political participation and moral agency that contrast with the longstanding epistemologies of secrecy typical of local styles of knowledge and power Donzelli's long term ethnographic study examines how these foreign protocols are being received absorbed and readapted in a peripheral community of the Indonesian archipelago Combining a telescopic perspective on our contemporary moment with a microscopic analysis of conversational practices the author argues that the managerial forms of political rationality and the entrepreneurial morality underwriting neoliberal apparatuses proliferate through the working of small cogs that is acts of speech By examining these concrete communicative exchanges she sheds light on both the coherence and inconsistency underlying the worldwide diffusion of market logic to all domains of life Suzan-Lori Parks Kevin J. Wetmore Jr, Alycia Smith-Howard, 2007-11-15 Suzan Lori Parks confirmed herself as one of the most exciting and successful playwrights of her generation when her work Topdog Underdog was awarded the 2002 Pulitzer Prize making her the only African American woman to win the award Despite the cultural weight of this achievement Parks remains difficult both to pigeonhole and to summarize This volume seeks to provide a context for her work with essays from major and emerging scholars addressing the importance of factors such as gender ethnicity language and history in plays from her first major work Imperceptible Mutabilities of the Third Kingdom to the 365 Days 365 Plays project Suzan Lori Parks A Casebook represents the first major study of this unique voice in contemporary drama Contributors Leonard Berkman Jason Bush Shawn Marie Garrett Andrea Goto Heidi Holder Barbara Ozieblo Kevin J Wetmore Jr and Harvey Young Kevin J Wetmore Jr is Professor of Theatre at Loyola Marymount University as well as being a professional actor and director of the Comparative Drama Conference He is the author of The Athenian Sun in an African Sky and Black Dionysus Greek Tragedy and African American Theatre Alycia Smith Howard an Assistant Professor at New York University in the Gallatin School of Individualized Study where she is the Artistic Director of the Gallatin Arts Festival and the Book Reviews Editor at the New England Theatre Journal A Fellow of the Folger Shakespeare Library her areas of specialization include Shakespeare performance history feminist theatre aesthetics and literature and drama of the south The Philosophy and Psychology of

Commitment John Michael, 2021-11-14 The phenomenon of commitment is a cornerstone of human social life Commitments make individuals behavior predictable thereby facilitating the planning and coordination of joint actions involving multiple agents Moreover commitments make people willing to rely upon each other and thereby contribute to sustaining characteristically human social institutions such as jobs money government and marriage However it is not well understood how people identify and assess the level of their own and others commitments The Philosophy and Psychology of Commitment explores and explains the philosophical and cognitive intricacies of commitment John Michael considers how commitments motivate us and their often implicit and tacit nature To flesh out the philosophical framework of his argument

he draws on experimental work with young children adults and human robot interaction within the context of joint action considering the role of the emotions and whether very young children are sensitive to commitment Providing an important account of the nature and operation of commitment this book is essential reading for those working in philosophy of psychology cognitive science experimental philosophy and social and developmental psychology It will also be of interest to those working in emerging fields such as human robot interaction and behavioural economics
