Rebels And Revolutionaries In North China 1845 1945:

Rebels and Revolutionaries in North China, 1845-1945 Elizabeth J. Perry, 1980 Warfare in Chinese History H. J. Van Derven, 2000-01-01 Based on original sources and dealing with the subject from the earliest dynasty up to modernity this book uniquely combines chapters on strategy and tactics Both scope and approach make it a must not only for historians of China but with a view to its conclusions on the place of China in the context of global military history also for historians of comparative warfare in general

The Peasant Economy and Social Change in North China Philip Huang, 1985-06-01 The author presents a convincing new interpretation of the origins and nature of the agrarian crisis that gripped the North China Plain in the two centuries before the Revolution His extensive research included eighteenth century homicide case records a nineteenth century country government archive large quantities of 1930 s Japanese ethnographic materials and his own field studies in 1980 Through a comparison of the histories of small family farms and larger scale managerial farms the author documents and illustrates the long term trends of agricultural commercialization social stratification and mounting population pressure in the peasant economy He shows how those changes in the absence of dynamic economic growth combined over the course of several centuries to produce a majority not simply of land short peasants or of exploited tenants and agricultural laborers but of poor peasants who required both family farming and agricultural wage income to survive This interlocking of family farming with wage labor furnished a large supply of cheap labor which in turn acted as a powerful brake of capital accumulation in the economy The formation of such a poor peasantry ultimately altered both the nature of village communities and their relations with the elites and the state creating tensions that led in the end to revolution

China's Revolutions in the Modern World Rebecca E. Karl, 2020-01-28 A concise account of how revolutions made modern China and helped shape the modern world China s emergence as a twenty first century global economic cultural and political power is often presented as a story of what Chinese leader Xi Jinping calls the nation s great rejuvenation a story narrated as the return of China to its rightful place at the center of the world In China s Revolutions in the Modern World historian Rebecca E Karl argues that China s contemporary emergence is best seen not as a return but rather as the product of revolutionary and counter revolutionary activity and imaginings From the Taipings in the mid nineteenth century through nationalist anti imperialist cultural and socialist revolutions to today s capitalist inflected Communist State modern China has been made in intellectual dissonance and class struggle in mass democratic movements and global war in socialism and anti socialism in repression and conflict by multiple generations of Chinese people mobilized to seize history and make the future in their own name Through China s successive revolutions the contours of our contemporary world have taken shape This brief interpretive history shows how

A Decade of Upheaval Dong

Guoqiang, Andrew G. Walder, 2021-02-23 A revealing exploration of political disruption and violence in a rural Chinese county during the Cultural Revolution A Decade of Upheaval chronicles the surprising and dramatic political conflicts of a rural Chinese county over the course of the Cultural Revolution Drawing on an unprecedented range of sources including work diaries interviews internal party documents and military directives Dong Guoqiang and Andrew Walder uncover a previously unimagined level of strife in the countryside that began with the Red Guard Movement in 1966 and continued unabated until the death of Mao Zedong in 1976 Showing how the upheavals of the Cultural Revolution were not limited to urban areas but reached far into isolated rural regions Dong and Walder reveal that the intervention of military forces in 1967 encouraged factional divisions in Feng County because different branches of China's armed forces took various sides in local disputes The authors also lay bare how the fortunes of local political groups were closely tethered to unpredictable shifts in the decisions of government authorities in Beijing Eventually a backlash against suppression and victimization grew in the early 1970s and resulted in active protests which presaged the settling of scores against radical Maoism A meticulous look at how one overlooked region experienced the Cultural Revolution A Decade of Upheaval illuminates the all encompassing nature of one of the most unstable periods in modern Chinese history China's Motor Hill Gates, 2018-10-18 This monumental work reveals the continuities that underlie the changing surface of Chinese life from late imperial days to modern times With a perspective that encompasses a thousand years of Chinese history China's Motor provides a view of the social economic and political principles that have prompted people in widely varying circumstances to act believe and behave in ways that are labeled as Chinese This original reinterpretation of Chinese culture as meticulous in detail as it is vast in scope will revise not only the study of China but also the very terms of social analysis Events That Formed the Modern World Frank W. Thackeray, John E. Findling, 2012-05-31 This comprehensive five volume set contains readable essays that describe and interpret the most important global events since the European Renaissance some accompanied by related document excerpts and primary source materials What were the effects of the Age of Exploration on today's ethnic groups and social structure How did the development of moveable type pave the way for Facebook and Twitter Why is the Reformation so critical for understanding today's religious controversies This set will help readers answer these questions by exploring the most significant historical events of the modern world This five volume set covers times from the Renaissance to the present Each volume focuses on a specific historic period and examines 12 events within those time frames that changed the world Each entry provides an introduction that lays out factual material in a chronological manner an in depth essay interpreting the event's significance and an annotated bibliography of the most important current works on the topic Select entries are followed by primary sources pertaining to the event under consideration such as diary entries Targeted to both general readers as well as entry level university students this book also directly supports high school and undergraduate curricula allowing students to identify and contextualize events in order to think critically about their causes aftermath and legacy Schoolhouse Politicians Helen Roberta Chauncey, 1992-01-01 Scholarly study of the Chinese republic 1911-1949 has traditionally viewed the period through its shortcomings notably its failure to establish a secure political order thus allowing the chaos and violence of national power politics to overshadow formative developments taking place at the local level By focusing on the interaction of local politics and the central state Helen Chauncey argues for the importance of local initiative in defining the post imperial state and suggests a rethinking of our understanding of republican period politics Through the prism of educational circles in central Jiangsu province Schoolhouse Politicians challenges assumptions about local elite conservatism by showing how actively politics were pursued in local municipalities well removed from traditional centers of wealth and power It highlights the activism of political entrepreneurs in the arena of local schooling and interprets the apparent disorderly conduct of local republican politics in terms of the strategies activists used to test their right to public association with the central state and to determine what concerns could be addressed through such an association Pursuing a comprehensive approach to the study of local politics this interpretation is sensitive to political intent in a variety of cultural representations from school journals to teachers assemblies to the physical management of public space such as schoolhouses and exercise yards Schoolhouse Politicians makes a compelling case for the central importance of its immediate subject the growth of the elementary and secondary educational establishment as well as illuminating larger questions of state building This carefully crafted local history based on pioneering research is of significance to the field of modern Chinese history It is also a valuable addition to the recent comparative literature on state making that seeks by exploring a variety of occupations and social groups neglected by traditional histories to give due importance to those little studied experiences that helped shape the potential and limits of the modern state The Ecology of War in China Micah S. Muscolino, 2015 This book explores the interplay between war and the environment in Henan Province a hotly contested frontline territory that endured massive environmental destruction and human disruption during the conflict between China and Japan that raged during World War II In a desperate attempt to block Japan's military advance Chinese Nationalist armies under Chiang Kai shek broke the Yellow River's dikes in Henan in June 1938 resulting in devastating floods that persisted until after the war's end Greater catastrophe struck Henan in 1942-1943 when famine took some two million lives and displaced millions more Focusing on these war induced disasters and their aftermath this book conceptualizes the ecology of war in terms of energy flows through and between militaries societies and environments Ultimately Micah Muscolino argues that efforts to procure and exploit nature's energy in various forms shaped the choices of generals the fates of communities and the trajectory of environmental change in North China China's Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution Woei Lien Chong, 2002 Treating China's Cultural Revolution as much more than a political event this innovative volume explores its ideological dimensions The contributors focus especially on the CR's discourse of heroism and messianism and its demonization of the enemy as reflected in political practice official literature and propaganda art arguing that these characteristics can be traced back to hitherto neglected undercurrents of Chinese tradition Moreover while most studies of the Cultural Revolution are content to point to the discredited cult of heroism and messianism this book also explores the alternative discourses that have flourished to fill the resulting vacuum The contributors analyze the intense intellectual and artistic ferment in post Mao China that embody resistance to CR ideology as well as the urgent quest for authentic individuality new forms of social cohesion and historical truth Contributions by Anne Marie Brady Woei Lien Chong Lowell Dittmer Monika Gaenssbauer Nick Knight Stefan R Landsberger Nora Sausmikat Barend J ter Haar Natascha Vittinghoff and Lan Yang

The Republic of China Xavier Paules, 2023-11-08 The declaration of the Republic of China in 1912 signalled an entirely new era Not only did the revolution of 1911-12 bring about the fall of the Qing dynasty it also brought an end to the entire series of dynasties that had marked Chinese history for over two millennia Radical reforms since 1901 had culminated in the ending of the political status quo and the rejection of the very idea of empire Drawing on the most recent historical research Xavier Paul's provides a comprehensive account of the crucial but chaotic period that stretched from the founding of the Republic of China in 1912 to the civil war of 1945-9 which ended with the victory of the Chinese Communist Party CCP and the establishment of the People's Republic of China Paul's challenges various common claims about this period It is often assumed that the CCP was instrumental in bringing about key events by skilfully mobilizing the population to serve its ends Paul's argues by contrast that the CCP took advantage of fortunate circumstances and that even then it was only in a position to challenge the supremacy of the Guomindang as late as 1944 His analysis takes a broad view by considering the importance of political actors both within and external to the revolutionary movement enabling him to offer a balanced interpretation of the republican period which sheds new light on China's political cultural and economic development

Force and Contention in Contemporary China Ralph A. Thaxton, Jr, 2016-08-04 Why is contemporary China such a politically contentious place Relying on the memories of the survivors of the worst catastrophe of Maoist rule and documenting the rise of resistance and protest at the grassroots level this book explains how the terror hunger and loss of the socialist past influences the way in which people in the deep countryside see and resist state power in the reform era up to the present day repression of the People's Republic of China central government Ralph A Thaxton Jr provides us with a worm's eye view of an unknown China a China that cannot easily or fully be understood through made in the academy theories and frameworks of why and how rural people have engaged in contentious politics This book is a truly unique and disturbing look at how rural people relate to an authoritarian political system in a country that aspires to become a stable world power

Globalising Migration History, 2014-03-27 Globalizing Migration History is a major step forward in comparative global migration history Looking at the period 1500-2000 it presents a new universal method to quantify and qualify cross cultural migrations which makes it possible to detect regional trends and explain differences in migration patterns across the globe in the last half millennium The contributions in this volume written by specialists on Russia China

Japan India Indonesia and South East Asia show that such a method offers a fruitful starting point for rigorous comparisons Furthermore the volume is an explicit invitation to other economic cultural social and political historians to include migration more explicitly and systematically in their analyses and thus reach a deeper understanding of the impact of cross cultural migrations on social change Contributors are Sunil Amrith Ulbe Bosma Gijs Kessler Jelle van Lottum Jan Lucassen Leo Lucassen Mireille Mazard Adam McKeown Atsushi Ota Vijaya Ramaswamy Osamu Saito Jianfa Shen Ryuto Shimada Willard Sunderland and Yuki Umeno The Origins of the Cultural Revolution Roderick MacFarquhar,1999-11 This is the final volume in a trilogy that examines the politics personalities economics culture and international relations of China from the mid 1950s to the mid 1960s It seeks to answer the central question Why did Chairman Mao Zedong launch the Cultural Revolution 1966 76 which plunged China into chaos and almost destroyed its Communist Party The Coming of the Cataclysm starts with the great famine of the early 1960s which resulted in tens of millions of deaths and set in train a series of emergency measures that increasingly divided Mao from his comrades in arms His anger that they were prepared to adopt capitalist methods to rescue the country was sharpened by his belief that Moscow had actually gone capitalist and sold out to the imperialist West From 1961 to 1966 the period covered by this volume the increasingly urgent question for Mao was how to prevent a similar revolutionary degeneration in China The Cultural Revolution was his answer Drawing upon new evidence from Party documents personal interviews books and journals MacFarquhar details the growing rift between Mao and his colleagues as they attempted to cope with domestic privation and an increasingly hostile international environment until the Chairman finally decided to smash the unity of the Yan an Round Table by unleashing society against the party state

Carbon Technocracy Victor Seow,2023-05-10 A forceful reckoning with the relationship between energy and power through the history of what was once East Asia s largest coal mine The coal mining town of Fushun in China s Northeast is home to a monstrous open pit First excavated in the early twentieth century this pit grew like a widening maw over the ensuing decades as various Chinese and Japanese states endeavored to unearth Fushun s purportedly inexhaustible carbon resources Today the depleted mine that remains is a wondrous and terrifying monument to fantasies of a fossil fueled future and the technologies mobilized in attempts to turn those developmentalist dreams into reality In Carbon Technocracy Victor Seow uses the remarkable story of the Fushun colliery to chart how the fossil fuel economy emerged in tandem with the rise of the modern technocratic state Taking coal as an essential feedstock of national wealth and power Chinese and Japanese bureaucrats engineers and industrialists deployed new technologies like open pit mining and hydraulic stowage in pursuit of intensive energy extraction But as much as these mine operators idealized the might of fossil fuel driven machines their extractive efforts nevertheless relied heavily on the human labor that those devices were expected to displace Under the carbon energy regime countless workers here and elsewhere would be subjected to invasive techniques of labor control ever escalating output targets and the dangers of an increasingly exploited earth Although Fushun is no longer the coal capital it once was the pattern of aggressive fossil fueled development that led to its ascent endures As we confront a planetary crisis precipitated by our extravagant consumption of carbon it holds urgent lessons This is a groundbreaking exploration of how the mutual production of energy and power came to define industrial modernity and the wider world that carbon made Revolution in the Highlands Stephen C.

Averill,2006-11-06 This extensively researched and elegantly written study offers a fine grained analysis of the origins of the Chinese Communist Revolution in the countryside Building on decades of research in newly available sources and multiple trips to Jiangxi Stephen Averill provides a definitive local perspective on the rise of a revolution that reshaped China and the world A rich work of social history it goes beyond recently popular organizational approaches to explore the ways in which the party and social networks interpenetrated and interacted in the early stages of revolutionary base building The Jinggangshan highlands provided the base for Mao Zedong's first efforts at rural revolution Chinese histories and most Western accounts have focused on the heroic exploits of Mao and his Communist Party comrades battling the natural elements hostile military forces and skeptical authorities in the urban based Communist Central Committee This long awaited work penetrates the hagiographic haze of Mao centered analysis to provide a close narrative and rich social history of the Jinggangshan base The author explores the historical patterns of local strongman rule clientelist politics lineage conflict and ethnic struggle within which the party competed for power Through this multifaceted lens the revolutionary experience in Jinggangshan is equally dramatic but considerably more sobering than the conventional story Among Western studies of the Chinese revolution this work stands out as the definitive account of the critical moment in the 1920s when the physical and ideological center of the Communist movement shifted from the cities to the countryside This was a process of elite mediated political osmosis and adaptive compromises with local traditions The party was not simply an outside force manipulating social tensions for its own political ends There was instead an intricate interweaving of local networks and social cleavages in the highlands with the political structures and policy divisions of t
