Reflections Of Canada:

Ripostes Philip Marchand, 1998 Ripostes is a collection of essays on some salient features of the Canadian literary landscape a number of which were first published in the Toronto Star many of which appear in these pages for the first time Included are essays on Atwood Findley Ondaatje and Margaret Laurence as well as thematic explorations of Canadian literature such as an account of the demise of the Survival school of Canadian writing a look at the recent history of the Writers Union of Canada an examination of the role of fathers in Canadian fiction a study of the strange attraction of many of our writers to the occult and so on The tone is considered and critical rather than celebratory although the essays are respectful of the genuine achievements of Canadian literature in the past few decades They try to clear the air as it were of boosterism political correctness and other attitudes which hinder the appreciation and reception of good writing This is an honest re appraisal of Canadian literature undertaken at a time when we need no longer be overcome with relief and euphoria over the fact that some of our authors are now world famous or at least world famous in Hoboken New Jersey

Canadian Heritage, Reflections of Canada Rupert Matthews, Colour Library Books Ltd, 1985 Wake Up, Canada C. W. Peterson, 2017-09-18 Excerpt from Wake Up Canada Reflections on Vital National Issues There seems to be somewhere an unwritten law to the effect that no man shall write a book on any subject upon which he is not a recognised author ity This rule of course is frequently and pain fully violated It is going to be agrantly trans gressed in this case Much Of what appears in the following pages has doubtless been said before and probably much more effectively than I am able to say it The whole contents are merely random reflections on leading political and social questions Of the day If I have any apology to Offer for inflicting these upon the public in book form it is that I have perhaps enjoyed somewhat exceptional opportunities in the course Of a wildly varied career Of Observing many Of these problems from more than one angle About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Wake Up, Canada! Charles Walter Peterson, 1919 Reflections on Canada's Past, Present and Future in International Law/Réflexions sur le passé, le présent et l'avenir du Canada en droit international Oonagh E. Fitzgerald, Valerie Hughes, Mark Jewett, 2018-06-30 Marking 150 years since Confederation provides an opportunity for Canadian international law practitioners and scholars to reflect on Canada s rich history in international law and governance where we find ourselves today in the community of nations and how we might help shape a future in which Canada s rules based and progressive approach to international law gains ascendancy This collection of essays each written in the official language chosen by the authors provides a thoughtful perspective on Canada's past and present in international law surveys the challenges that lie before us and offers renewed focus for Canada's pursuit of global justice and the rule of law Part I explores the history and practice of international law including sources of international law Indigenous treaties international treaty diplomacy domestic reception of international law and Parliament's role in international law Part II explores Canada's role in international law governance and innovation in the broad fields of economic environmental and intellectual property law Part III explores Canadian perspectives on developments in international human rights and humanitarian law including judicial implementation of these obligations international labour law business and human rights international criminal law war crimes child soldiers and gender Reflections on Canada's Past Present and Future in International Law R flexions sur le pass le pr sent et l avenir du Canada en droit international demonstrates the pivotal role that Canada has played in the development of international law and signals the essential contributions the country is poised to make in the future

Reflections of a Siamese Twin John Ralston Saul, 1998 In Reflections of a Siamese Twin Saul turns his eye from a reinterpretation of the Western world to an examination of Canada itself Caught up in crises political economic and social Canada continues to flounder unable to solve or even really identify its problems Instead we assert absolute differences between ourselves we are English or we are French Natives or Europeans early immigrants or newly arrived from the east or from the west Or we bow to ideologies and deny all differences in the name of nationalism unity or equality In a startling exercise in reorientation John Ralston Saul makes sense of Canadian myths real false denied and reconciles them with the reality of today's politics culture and economics

Reflections on Canada's Past, Present and Future in International Law Oonagh E. Fitzgerald, Mark Jewett, Valerie Hughes, 2018-06

Travels with Elly Larry MacDonald, 2019-08-08 This non-fiction book views Canada from a personal perspective similar to John Steinbeck's view of America in his 1960 book Travels with Charley The author travels from coast to coast in a trailer with his wife and pets including their Standard Poodle Elly in order to gain a better understanding of his adopted country Interspersed between descriptions of history cultures places and icons are the author's reflections on various things such as Elly's antics signage ferries political injustice environmental issues and animal instincts To provide a canine's perspective Elly reflects on things of interest to her including cats cows and other critters but especially cats Where was Canada's first settlement What is its prettiest town When and where was its most devastating shipwreck And who was its greatest hero Find out by reading this account of the author's journey through a unique and wondrous country brimming with marvelous natural and man-made icons But above all the author's interactions with its hospitable people make him justifiably proud to be Canadian An informative read for armchair travelers with a spirit of adventure for those wanting to learn more about Canada and for any cross-Canada traveler especially RVers and dog lovers
