Staging Masculinity Carla J. McDonough, 2006-07-19 The men in plays such as Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman or Sam Shepard's True West are often presented as universal little attention is given to the gender dynamics involved in the characters This work looks at how contemporary playwrights including Miller Shepard Eugene O'Neill David Mamet and August Wilson stage masculinity in their works It becomes apparent that male playwrights return often to the issues of troubled manhood usually masked in other issues such as war business or family The plays indicate both the attractiveness of the model of traditional masculinity and the illusive nature of this image which all too often fractures and fails the characters who pursue it O'Neill's play The Hairy Ape and the character Yank receive much attention

Tragicomedy and Contemporary Culture John Orr, 2016-07-27 This study examines the historical relationship between tragicomedy in the modernist theatre and the performative culture of Western consumer societies While discussing a wide range of playwrights it focusses specifically on the work of Samuel Beckett Harold Pinter and Sam Shepard Their plays it is argued illuminate the forms of pleasure fear performance and corruption which dominate our daily lives Tragicomedy is seen as unique because of the existential playfulness and confusion of its protagonists and because of its muted vision of apocalypse in the nuclear age
