Explaining Postconflict Reconstruction Desha M. Girod, 2015 The international community has donated nearly one trillion dollars during the last four decades to reconstruct post conflict countries Where did the money go This book argues that foreign aid only fosters reconstruction when post conflict leaders are desperate for income and thus depend on aid that comes with reconstruction strings attached

Community Rights, Conservation and Contested Land Fred Nelson, 2010-08-12 Natural resource governance is central to the outcomes of biodiversity conservation efforts and to patterns of economic development particularly in resource dependent rural communities The institutional arrangements that define natural resource governance are outcomes of political processes whereby numerous groups with often divergent interests negotiate for access to and control over resources These political processes determine the outcomes of resource governance reform efforts such as widespread attempts to decentralize or devolve greater tenure over land and resources to local communities This volume examines the political dynamics of natural resource governance processes through a range of comparative case studies across east and southern Africa These cases include both local and national settings and examine issues such as land rights tourism development wildlife conservation participatory forest management and the impacts of climate change and are drawn from both academics and field practitioners working across the region Published with IUCN The Bradley Fund for the Environment SASUSG and Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Hard Target Stephan Haggard, Marcus Noland, 2017-05-30 Because authoritarian regimes like North Korea can impose the costs of sanctions on their citizens these regimes constitute hard targets Yet authoritarian regimes may also be immune and even hostile to economic inducements if such inducements imply reform and opening This book captures the effects of sanctions and inducements on North Korea and provides a detailed reconstruction of the role of economic incentives in the bargaining around the country's nuclear program. Stephan Haggard and Marcus Noland draw on an array of evidence to show the reluctance of the North Korean leadership to weaken its grip on foreign economic activity. They argue that inducements have limited effect on the regime and instead urge policymakers to think in terms of gradual strategies. Hard Target connects economic statecraft to the marketization process to understand North Korea and addresses a larger debate over the merits and demerits of engagement with adversaries.
