Action Research Jean McNiff, 2002-01-22 Since the first edition of this established text was published in 1988 action research has gained ground as a popular method amongst educational researchers and in particular for practising teachers doing higher level courses In this new edition Jean McNiff provides updates on methodological discussions and includes new sections of case study material and information on supporting action research The book raises issues about how action research is theorised whether it is seen as a spectator discipline or as a real life practice and how practitioners position themselves within the debate It discusses the importance for educators of understanding their own work and showing how their educative influence can lead to the development of good orders in formal and informal learning settings and in the wider community This second edition comes at a time when after years of debate over what counts as action research it is now considered an acceptable and useful part of mainstream research practice Ethics and Children's Literature Claudia Mills, 2016-05-13 Exploring the ethical questions posed by in and about children's literature this collection examines the way texts intended for children raise questions of value depict the moral development of their characters and call into attention shared moral presuppositions The essays in Part I look at various past attempts at conveying moral messages to children and interrogate their underlying assumptions What visions of childhood were conveyed by explicit attempts to cultivate specific virtues in children What unstated cultural assumptions were expressed by growing resistance to didacticism How should we prepare children to respond to racism in their books and in their society Part II takes up the ethical orientations of various classic and contemporary texts including prosaic ethics in the Hundred Acre Wood moral discernment in Narnia ethical recognition in the distant worlds traversed by L. Engle and virtuous transgression in recent Anglo American children's literature and in the emerging children's literature of 1960s Taiwan Part III's essays engage in ethical criticism of arguably problematic messages about our relationship to nonhuman animals about war and about prejudice The final section considers how we respond to children's literature with ethically focused essays exploring a range of ways in which child readers and adult authorities react to children's literature Even as children's literature has evolved in opposition to its origins in didactic Sunday school tracts and moralizing fables authors parents librarians and scholars remain sensitive to the values conveyed to children through the texts they choose to share with them From Children's Literature to Readers Theatre Elizabeth A. Poe, 2013-03-19

Life After Death Alan Segal,2010-06-23 A magisterial work of social history Life After Death illuminates the many different ways ancient civilizations grappled with the question of what exactly happens to us after we die In a masterful exploration of how Western civilizations have defined the afterlife Alan F Segal weaves together biblical and literary scholarship sociology history and philosophy A renowned scholar Segal examines the maps of the afterlife found in Western religious texts and reveals not only what various cultures believed but how their notions reflected their societies realities and ideals and why those beliefs changed over time He maintains that the afterlife is the mirror in which a society arranges its concept of the self The composition process for Judaism Christianity and Islam begins in grief and ends in the victory of the self over death Arguing that in every religious tradition the afterlife represents the ultimate reward for the good Segal combines historical and anthropological data with insights gleaned from religious and philosophical writings to explain the following mysteries why the Egyptians insisted on an afterlife in heaven while the body was embalmed in a tomb on earth why the Babylonians viewed the dead as living in underground prisons why the Hebrews remained silent about life after death during the period of the First Temple yet embraced it in the Second Temple period 534 B C E 70 C E and why Christianity placed the afterlife in the center of its belief system He discusses the inner dialogues and arguments within Judaism and Christianity showing the underlying dynamic behind them as well as the ideas that mark the differences between the two religions In a thoughtful examination of the influence of biblical views of heaven and martyrdom on Islamic beliefs he offers a fascinating perspective on the current troubling rise of Islamic fundamentalism In tracing the organic historical relationships between sacred texts and communities of belief and comparing the visions of life after death that have emerged throughout history Segal sheds a bright revealing light on the intimate connections between notions of the afterlife
