

Water, Water, Everywhere

Water, water, everywhere,
To wash my hands and wash my hair.
It's nice to drink it by the pool,
Slurp it, sip it, nice and cool.

It comes from clouds don't you know,
Falls as rain and also snow.
Keep it clean or you will be
Sick as sick, as sick as can be!

We are lucky here at school,
To have clean water to keep us cool.
We drink water every day.
In the pool we like to play.

Seeking a Home for Poetry in a Nomadic World Silvia Panicieri,2020-01-28 This thoroughly researched overview on one of the most absorbing literary phenomena of recent decades the trespassing of cultural and linguistic borders departs from the canonical point of view offered by the English works of the Nobel laureate Russian American poet and essayist Joseph Brodsky to approach the work of the emerging Hungarian English poet gnes Leh czky Through the epistemological filter offered by some guiding texts such as Bauman Hall Braidotti and many others this study allows the reader to discover the recounting of a search for an identity where the adoption of English as an artistic vehicle is only the first thread that unites the two nomadic authors Striving to locate language and identity Brodsky and Leh czky face the limits of doing so due to the fluid and nomadic nature of language itself This suggests if not answers then new ways of expression which draw the language of our future Made Thing: an Anthology of Contemporary Southern Poetry, 2nd Ed (p) Leon Stokesbury,1999 The second edition features twelve new poets as well as new work by Donald Justice T R Hummer Dave Smith Pattiann Rogers Andrew Hudgins Henry Taylor Gerald Barrax Rodney Jones and others Among the new additions are Mark Jarman Cathy Smith Bowers and Charlie Smith Many teachers realize that the best way to get their students to relate to poetry is to show them poems that contain landscapes and subjects they understand and can identify with Leon Stokesbury has put together a richly varied collection used in classrooms not only in the South but all over the country as a means of studying the important influence of southern poetry on American literature With the publication of the second edition of The Made Thing Stokesbury has marked the end of the twentieth century and the rise to prominence of southern writers This collection serves as a substantial sampling of poets whose works span more than five decades and who explore the rich personal and cultural history that extends beyond the boundaries of the South

Written on Water Takashi Kojima,2011-11-08 This collection of classical poetry was selected from the Man yoshu the oldest and most important collection of Japanese poetry Despair and hope are two emotions commonly voiced by poets in the Man yoshu Although written over thirteen hundred years ago the poems retain a rare freshness an originality that delights and fascinates even today Part of the collection s originality is due to its variety of authors from members of the aristocracy to commoners from the lowest ranks The poems cover a wide range of content and expression from court poets highly polished verses to anonymous poems that read like folk songs Poems about love are common but the treatment of love varies from anguished pinning to wondrous celebration to bitter denunciation What the various Man yo poems do have in common is emotional fire amazing candor and eloquent expression of feeling not found in later Japanese poetry It is these characteristics that have earned the Man yoshu a constant and devoted readership over the centuries
