Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,2004 American Book Publishing Record ,2004

Directories in Print ,2004 Pitch Like a Girl Ronna Lichtenberg,2004-12-09 Pitch Like a Girl offers proven techniques to maximize a woman's instinctive strengths and effectiveness in the workplace. Despite steady advancement part of the reason women still struggle to succeed in business is the discomfort they feel doing anything that feels like self promotion. That's why Ronna Lichtenberg, corporate veteran turned highly sought after management consultant developed a program for women that works with their unique advantages. Starting with recent developments in brain sex research and moving through social stereotypes Lichtenberg takes a fresh look at how women relate to work and shows them how to use their gifts to get what they want. The book includes easy to use tools, tips on managing communication styles and exercises that have been honed in Lichtenberg's many workshops. Whether giving women pragmatic advice on what to do about that infuriating boss, how to know how much money they should be making and how to get it or how to follow up without feeling like a beggar or a stalker Lichtenberg is real and really funny at the same time. Her advice ushers in a new world of possibilities for women who are ready for a success that feels right. The Third Wave of Historical Scholarship on Nigeria

Saheed Aderinto, Paul Osifodunrin, 2013-02-22 This festschrift in honor of Professor Ayodeji Olukoju, one of Nigeria's brightest historians, brings together scholarship representative of the third wave of historical scholarship on Nigeria. Olukoju, a pioneering historian of Nigerian maritime history, also produced significant revisionist scholarship in the areas of economic, urban, and infrastructure history. The contributions in this volume epitomize the groundbreaking directions of his career; they are marked by a search for new explanations and venture into uncharted terrain in Nigerian history. Aside from its critical engagement of Olukoju's impressive scholarship, this volume presents chapters on such underresearched aspects of Nigerian history as sexuality, children and youth, crime, memory, and HIV/AIDS. It offers historical explanations of a host of development challenges confronting Nigeria, Africa's most populous country, and resilient reinterpretations of the place of history in nation building. The contributors, pioneering experts in their various subfields, bring their research and teaching experience to the fore and deploy neglected data as they unfold topics that shed light on Nigeria, its peoples, and cultures. They show that history, both as a daily practice and as an academic endeavor, remains vital as Africans seek solutions to the continent's critical development challenges. Modelling the Costs of Environmental Policy Rob B. Dellink, 2005-01-01 Extending economic models to include environmental emissions and environmental policy is now commonplace. Yet the linking is often ad hoc and based on peculiar assumptions. In this book Rob Dellink shows how emissions and emission reduction policies for five different environmental issues can be included in a forward looking computable general equilibrium model building emissions into production and consumption functions. At the technical level the book is superb and stands out for its exact specification of how this is done Richard S J Tol Hamburg University Germany Free University Amsterdam The Netherlands and Carnegie Mellon University US This important new book enhances our understanding of the dynamic interactions between economic activity economic growth pollution abatement and environmental policy It addresses one main policy problem how can the direct and indirect costs of environmental policy for multiple pollutants be properly assessed in an applied model Handbook of Research on Open Source Software: Technological, Economic, and Social

Perspectives St.Amant, Kirk,Still, Brian,2007-04-30 This handbook of research is one of the few texts to combine Open Source Software OSS in public and private sector activities into a single reference source It examines how the use of OSS affects practices in society business government education and law Minerals Yearbook ,2002 Mother Earth and Uncle Sam Rena I. Steinzor,2009-05-21 In this compelling study Rena Steinzor highlights the ways in which the government over the past twenty years has failed to protect children from harm caused by toxic chemicals She believes these failures under funding excessive and misguided use of cost benefit analysis distortion of science and devolution of regulatory authority have produced a situation in which harm that could be reduced or eliminated instead persists Steinzor states that as a society we are neglecting our children s health to an extent that we would find unthinkable as individual parents primarily due to the erosion of the government s role in protecting public health and the environment At this pace she asserts our children will inherit a planet under grave threat We can arrest these developments if a critical mass of Americans become convinced that these problems are urgent and the solutions are near at hand By focusing on three specific case studies mercury contamination through the human food chain perchlorate rocket fuel in drinking water and the effects of ozone smog on children playing outdoors Steinzor creates an analysis grounded in law economics and science to prove her assertions about the existing dysfunctional system Steinzor then recommends a concise and realistic series of reforms that could reverse these detrimental trends and serve as a blueprint for restoring effective governmental intervention She argues that these recommendations offer enough material to guide government officials and advocacy groups toward prompt implementation for the sake of America s and the world s future generations The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009

So Much Stuff Chip Colwell,2023-11-06 How humans became so dependent on things and how this need has grown dangerously out of control Over three million years ago our ancient ancestors realized that rocks could be broken into sharp edged objects for slicing meat making the first knives This discovery resulted in a good meal and eventually changed the fate of our species and our planet With So Much Stuff archaeologist Chip Colwell sets out to investigate why humankind went from self sufficient primates to nonstop shoppers from needing nothing to needing everything Along the way he uncovers spectacular and strange points around the world an Italian cave with the world s first known painted art a Hong Kong skyscraper where a priestess channels the gods and a mountain of trash that rivals the Statue of Liberty Through these examples Colwell shows how humanity took three leaps that led to stuff becoming inseparable from our lives inspiring a love affair with things that may lead to our downfall Now as landfills brim and oceans drown in trash Colwell issues a timely call to reevaluate our relationship with the things that both created and threaten to undo our overstuffed planet
