Past Minds Luther H Martin, Jesper Sørensen, 2016-06-16 How do historians understand the minds motivations intentions of historical agents What might evolutionary and cognitive theorizing contribute to this work What is the relation between natural and cultural history Historians have been intrigued by such questions ever since publication in 1859 of Darwin's The Origin of Species itself the historicization of biology This interest reemerged in the latter part of the twentieth century among a number of biologists philosophers and historians reinforced by the new interdisciplinary finding of cognitive scientists about the universal capacities of and constraints upon human minds The studies in this volume primarily by historians of religion continue this discussion by focusing on historical examples of ancient religions as well as on the theoretical promises and problems relevant to that study

African Hosts & Their Guests W. E. A. van Beek, Annette M. Schmidt, 2012 Africa is a theme park for Western tourists to experience untouched wilderness untamed nature and truly authentic cultures where the hosts too are part of a discourse about the other and ourselves about wildness danger and roots Tourism is important for Africa international tourist arrivals to Africa continue to grow income from tourism is crucial to national economies and tourism investments are considered among the most profitable This edited volume deals with the interaction of local communities with tourists coming into their areas and villages Based upon a common theoretical approach fourteen cases of African tourism are discussed which involve direct contact between hosts and guests The viewpoint throughout is from the side of the locals establishing how the processes of interaction shape each small scale destination Crucial in Africa is the fact that the large majority of tourism is game oriented and the interaction between locals and visitors is very much tainted by this fact Central is the notion of the tourist bubble the infrastructure that is generated locally and internationally for hosting tourists as it is this institutional interface that tends to impact on the local society and culture not the tourists themselves directly The examples come from all over Africa from the Sahara to the Eastern Cape and from Kenya to Ghana All contributions are based upon original fieldwork Walter van Beek is professor of anthropology at Tilburg University and Senior Researcher at the African Studies Centre Leiden Annette Schmidt is curator of the African department at the National Museum of Ethnology in Leiden and is an archaeologist with a long experience in cultural management projects

Culturing the Body Benjamin Collins, April Nowell, 2024-03-01 The human body is both the site of lived experiences and a means of communicating those experiences to a diverse audience Hominins have been culturing their bodies that is adding social and cultural meaning through the use of pigments and objects for over 100 000 years There is archaeological evidence for practices of adornment of the body by late Pleistocene and early Holocene hominins including personal ornaments clothing hairstyles body painting and tattoos These practices have been variously interpreted to reflect differences such as gender status and ethnicity to attract or intimidate others and as indices of a symbolically mediated self and personal identity These studies contribute to a novel and growing body of evidence for diversity of cultural expression in the past something that is a hallmark of human cultures today

Acts of Transgression Catherine Boule, 2019-02-01 Fifteen writers explore the experimental interdisciplinary and radically transgressive field of contemporary live art in South Africa focusing on a wide range of perspectives personalities and theoretical concerns Contemporary South African society is chronologically post apartheid but it continues to grapple with material redress land redistribution and systemic racism Acts of Transgression represents the complexity of this moment in the rich potential of a performative art form that transcends disciplinary boundaries and aesthetic conventions The contributors who are all significantly involved in the discipline of performance art probe its intersection with crisis and socio political turbulence shifting notions of identity and belonging embodied trauma and loss Narratives of the past and visions for the future are interrogated through memory and the archive thus destabilising entrenched colonial systems Collectively analysing the work of more than 25 contemporary South African artists including Athi Patra Ruga Mohau Modisakeng Steven Cohen Dean Hutton Mikhael Subotzky Tracey Rose and Donna Kukama among others the analysis is accompanied by a visual record of more than 50 photographs For those working in the fields of theatre performance studies and art this is a must have collection of critical essays on a burgeoning and exciting field of contemporary South African research

Encounters between Jesuits and Protestants in Africa Robert Aleksander Maryks, Festo Mkenda, S.J., 2018-01-03 Protestants entering Africa in the nineteenth century sought to learn from earlier Jesuit presence in Ethiopia and southern Africa The nineteenth century was itself a century of missionary scramble for Africa during which the Jesuits encountered their Protestant counterparts as both sought to evangelize the African native Encounters between Jesuits and Protestants in Africa edited by Robert Alexander Maryks and Festo Mkenda S J presents critical reflections on the nature of those encounters in southern Africa and in Ethiopia Madagascar the Democratic Republic of Congo and Fernando Po Though largely marked by mutual suspicion and outright competition the encounters also reveal personal appreciations and support across denominational boundaries and thus manifest salient lessons for ecumenical encounters even in our own time This volume is the result of the second Boston College International Symposium on Jesuit Studies held at the Jesuit Historical Institute in Africa Nairobi Kenya in 2016 Thanks to generous support of the Institute for Advanced Jesuit Studies at Boston College it is available in Open Access

The Donkey in Human History Peter Mitchell, 2018-02-14 Donkeys carried Christ into Jerusalem while in Greek myth they transported Hephaistos up to Mount Olympos and Dionysos into battle against the Giants They were probably the first animals that people ever rode as well as the first used on a large scale as beasts of burden Associated with kingship and the gods in the ancient Near East they have been and in many places still are a core technology for moving people and goods over both short and long distances as well as a supplier of muscle power for threshing and grinding grain pressing olives raising water ploughing fields and pulling carts to name just a few of the uses to which they have been put Yet despite this they remain one of the least studied and most widely ignored of all domestic animals consigned to the margins of history like so many of those who still depend upon them Spanning the globe and extending from the donkey's initial domestication up to the present this book seeks to remedy this situation by using archaeological evidence in combination with insights from history and anthropology to resituate the donkey and its hybrid offspring such as the mule in the unfolding of human history looking not just at what donkeys and mules did but also at how people have thought about and understood them Intended in part for university researchers and students working in the broad fields of world history archaeology animal history and anthropology but it should also interest anyone keen to learn more about one of the most widespread and important of the animals that people have domesticated

The Oxford Handbook of African Archaeology Peter Mitchell, Paul Lane, 2013-07-04 Africa has the longest and arguably the most diverse archaeological record of any of the continents It is where the human lineage first evolved and from where Homo sapiens spread across the rest of the world Later it witnessed novel experiments in food production and unique trajectories to urbanism and the organisation of large communities that were not always structured along strictly hierarchical lines Millennia of engagement with societies in other parts of the world confirm Africa's active participation in the construction of the modern world while the richness of its history ethnography and linguistics provide unusually powerful opportunities for constructing interdisciplinary narratives of Africa's past This Handbook provides a comprehensive and up to date synthesis of African archaeology covering the entirety of the continent's past from the beginnings of human evolution to the archaeological legacy of European colonialism As well as covering almost all periods and regions of the continent it includes a mixture of key methodological and theoretical issues and debates and situates the subject's contemporary practice within the discipline's history and the infrastructural challenges now facing its practitioners Bringing together essays on all these themes from over seventy contributors many of them living and working in Africa it offers a highly accessible contemporary account of the subject for use by scholars and students of not only archaeology but also history anthropology and other disciplines

Historical Archaeology in Africa Peter R. Schmidt, 2006-08-11 Historical Archaeology in Africa is an inquiry into historical questions that count proposing different ways of thinking about historical archaeology Peter Schmidt challenges readers to expand their horizons Confronting topics of oral traditions the role of cultural landscapes in social memory and historical misrepresentations of various cultures Schmidt calls for a new pathway to an enriched more nuanced and more inclusive historical archaeology Allowing Africa to speak for itself without colonial interpreters Historical Archaeology in Africa will be of interest not only to historians and archaeologists but to all concerned with Africa's past and present

A Scientific Bibliography of the Far Northern Drakensberg Rodney Moffett, 2023-04-14 This Scientific Bibliography of the Far Northern Drakensberg is a continuation by the AfriMontane Research Unit of the University of the Free State ARU to document published and other similar works on the mountains of the summer rainfall area of South Africa It follows A Scientific Bibliography of the Drakensberg Maloti and Adjacent Lowlands which was published in 2020 Moffett 2020 and which covered the area between the North Eastern Cape and the North Eastern Free State The current work extends this northward by including articles and publications dating back to 1875 E Cohen on the Lydenburg goldfields reaching as far as the Wolkberg and Woodbush near Tzaneen in Limpopo Province Figure 1 shows the boundary of the area covered and although referred to as the Far Northern Drakensberg in this work it is identical to that described as the LMEE Limpopo Mpumalanga Eswatini Escarpment by Clarke et al 2022 Although slightly separate from the lower escarpment the mountainous Barberton and adjacent Eswatini area as well as the Leolo Mountains in eastern Sekhukhuneland are also included Details on how the boundary in figure 1 was determined are given in Clark et al 2022 Bibliographies on two further ranges in the summer rainfall area viz the Magaliesberg in Gauteng province and the Soutpansberg in Limpopo province are to be the subject of future compilations

Routledge Companion to Global Heritage Conservation Vinayak Bharne, Trudi Sandmeier, 2019-02-12 The act of identifying protecting restoring and reusing buildings districts and built landscapes of historic and cultural significance is at its best a reflective and consequential process of urban and socio economic reform It has the potential to reconcile conflicting memories meanings and cultural tensions bridging and expanding the perceived boundaries of multiple disciplines towards bigger aspirations of city making and social justice How and where do such aspirations overlap and differ across nations and societies across the world In places with different histories governance structures regulatory stringency and populist dispositions who are the specific players and what are the actual processes that bring about bigger and deeper change beyond just the conservation of an architectural or urban entity of perceived value This collection of scholarly articles by theorists academics and practitioners explores the global complexity guises and potential of heritage conservation Going from Tokyo to Cairo Shenzhen to Rome and Delhi to Moscow this volume examines a vast range of topics indigenous habitats urban cores vernacular infrastructure colonial towns squatters burial sites war zones and modern landmarks It surfaces numerous inherent issues water stress deforestation social oppression poverty religion immigration and polity expanding the definitions of heritage conservation as both a professional discipline and socio cultural catalyst This book argues that the intellectual and praxis limits of heritage conservation as the agency of reading defining and intervening with built heritage can be expansive aimed at bigger positive change beyond a specific subject or object plural enmeshed with multiple fields and specializations and empathetic born from the actual socio political realities of a place
