User-Innovation Viktor Braun, Cornelius Herstatt, 2009-06-06 Economic growth is highly dependent on technological progress and innovation yet the sources from which these innovations originate are still largely misunderstood and untapped Recent research has demonstrated that users rather than manufacturers are often a critical source of innovation in numerous fields from extreme sports to medical devices to software This book systematically identifies the most important barriers to user innovation and critically evaluates the democratization of innovation argument by critically assessing the main legal economic technological and societal barriers to user innovation for the first time and proposing alternative possibilities Through original research the author reveals the dynamics of user innovation and offers strategies for minimizing those factors that inhibit and stifle the spread of this phenomenon From this analysis it becomes clear that user innovation has become more difficult over time and that the problem is now of how manufacturers can enable users to overcome the discussed barriers and simultaneously benefit from such consumer driven activities Arguing that licenses are not just an important technology commercialization instrument but are tools critical to generating innovations the author explains how licenses can in certain situations be employed to help users overcome some of the barriers to user innovation User Innovation Barriers to Democratization and IP Licensing is a practical guidebook as well as a startlingly original work of scholarship that will be essential reading for years to come

V. Vara Prasad, Julia Compton, Ruben G. Echeverria, 2023-11-06 Seed system of Pakistan: Policy challenges and prospects Rana, Abdul Wajid, Gill, Sitara, Akram, Iqra, 2022-09-26 The seed industry in Pakistan has undergone significant developments since the 1950s and has transitioned from Green Revolution to Gene Revolution The 2015 amendment in the Seed Act 1976 and the enactment of Plant Breeders Rights Act and Rules have provided long awaited intellectual property protection for proprietary seed Notwithstanding this fundamental change the challenge of effective enforcement of intellectual property rights remains This paper presents how the seed industry has evolved over the years through evaluating the regulatory and institutional framework along with looking into the major challenges that still plague the seed system of Pakistan It also explores how the private sector can be incentivized to invest in the seed sector while protecting the farmers rights Findings reveal that there seems to be a lot of scope for strengthening the seed system of Pakistan via encouraging private sector participation mainly through developing proactive markets with strong institutional mechanism along with scientific and time bound regulatory approval framework An appraisal of the international best practices divulges that technological backstopping developing public private partnerships building institutional capacity for effective enforcement of regulatory regime and availability of information to farmers for selecting quality seed are equally vital for creating a well functioning seed system in Pakistan History of Soybeans and Soyfoods in Mexico and Central America (1877-2009): Extensively Annotated Bibliography and Sourcebook William Shurtleff, Akiko Aoyagi, 2009 Commodification of Global Agrifood Systems and Agro-Ecology Yıldız Atasoy, 2017-05-18 This book explores the shifting relations of food provisioning in Turkey from a comparative global political economy perspective It offers in depth ethnographic analysis interviews and historical insights into the ambiguities and diversities that simultaneously affect the changing conditions of food and agriculture in Turkey Specific issues examined include the commodification of land food and labour the expansion and deepening of industrial standardization the expansion of a supermarket model and concomitant changes in as well as the simultaneous co existence of traditional methods of production and marketing Contrasting observations are drawn from diverse locales to provide examples of convergence divergence and cohabitation in relation to transnationally advocated industrial models Commodification of Global Agrifood Systems and Agro Ecology employs a form of comparative perspective that allows the particular processes of restructuring of agrifood relations in Turkey to be simultaneously distinguished from yet related to changes taking place in global power dynamics Y ld z Atasoy explores agrifood transformation in Turkey with a unique approach that considers a plurality of intertwined normative influences ontological beliefs cultural religious narratives political struggles and critical interpretive positions Based on original research the book treats changes in food provisioning as an analytical thread capable of uncovering how the normative acceptability of capitalized agriculture and techno scientific innovation is entangled with processes of class formation growing inter capitalist competition and Islamic politics Such processes in turn frame income wealth generation landscape management agro ecological dynamics and labour practices as well as the taste and smell of place

Regulating Technology Patrick van Zwanenberg, Adrian Ely, Adrian Smith, 2013-11-26 Examining the regulation of technologies this book explores how the drive to harmonize regulatory policies across the world is at odds with the increasingly diverse local settings in which they are implemented The authors use a framings approach that starts with the concerns and experiences of technology users and works upwards in order to examine how best to improve regulation The book centres around two in depth case study topics regulation of transgenic cotton seed and regulation of antibiotics compared across situations in China and Argentina The authors examine how high level initiatives in regulatory harmonization and regulatory capacity building compare with national policies day to day enforcement realities on the ground and with the way poorer users experience these technologies Through these studies the authors offer ways to rethink regulation in order to realign the power and politics at play and create more effective regulation for technology users around the world Published in association with the Economic and Social Research Council ESRC

Transformative Pathways to Sustainability Adrian Ely, 2021-09-02 Transformations to sustainability are increasingly the focus of research and policy discussions around the Sustainable Development Goals However the different roles played by transdisciplinary research in contributing to social transformations across diverse settings have been neglected in the literature Transformative Pathways to Sustainability responds to this gap by presenting a set of coherent theoretically informed and methodologically innovative experiments from around the world that offer important insights for this growing field The book draws on content and cases from across the Pathways Transformative Knowledge Network an international group of six regional hubs working on sustainability challenges in their own local or national contexts Each of these hubs reports on their experiences of transformation laboratory processes in the following areas sustainable agricultural and food systems for healthy livelihoods with a focus on sustainable agri food systems in the UK and open source seeds in Argentina low carbon energy and industrial transformations focussing on mobile enabled solar home systems in Kenya and social aspects of the green transformation in China and water and waste for sustainable cities looking at Xochimilco wetland in Mexico and Gurgaon in India The book combines new empirical data from these processes with a novel analysis that represents both theoretical and methodological contributions It is especially international in its scope drawing inputs from North and South mirroring the universality of the

Sustainable Development Goals The book is of vital interest to academics action researchers and funders policy makers and civil society organisations working on transformations to sustainability The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com/books/oa/edit/10.4324/9780429331930 transformative pathways sustainability pathways network has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Seed Sovereignty, Food Security Vandana Shiva, 2016-02-02 In this unique anthology women from around the world write about the movement to change the current industrial paradigm of how we grow our food As seed keepers and food producers as scientists activists and scholars they are dedicated to renewing a food system that is better aligned with ecological processes as well as human health and global social justice Seed Sovereignty Food Security is an argument for just that a reclaiming of traditional methods of agricultural practice in order to secure a healthy nourishing future for all of us Whether tackling the thorny question of GMO safety or criticizing the impact of big agribusiness on traditional communities these women are in the vanguard of defending the right of people everywhere to practice local biodiverse and organic farming as an alternative to industrial agriculture
