Long Shadow:

Long Century's Long Shadow Kenneth S. Calhoon, 2021-06-25 The Long Century's Long Shadow approaches German Romanticism and Weimar cinema as continuous developments enlisting both in a narrative of reciprocal illumination The author investigates different moments and media as connected phenomena situated at alternate ends of the long nineteenth century but joined by their mutual rejection of the neo classical aesthetic standard of placid and weightless poise in numerous media including film painting sculpture prose poetry and dance Connecting Weimar filmmaking to Romantic thought and practice Kenneth S Calhoon offers a non technological aesthetic genealogy of cinema He focuses on well known literary and artistic works including films such as Nosferatu Metropolis Frankenstein and Fantasia the writings of Conrad Kafka Goethe and Novalis and the paintings of Caspar David Friedrich one of the leading artists of German Romanticism With an eye to the modernism of which Weimar filmmaking was a part The Long Century's Long Shadow employs the Romantic landscape in poetry and painting as a mirror in which to regard cinema

Casting a Long Shadow R. Wayne Tanner, 2010-09-16 This is but a glimpse at that struggle and how it not only impacted men and their families but a way of life that can still be seen in many parts of Florida if one is willing to take time and look Cowboys still saddle their horses and drive to an old set of cow pens and spend many an hour atop their favorite horse gathering working and selling a new calf crop They string miles of barbed wire and drive thousands of staples in fence rows built by their grandfathers and great grandfathers To many thou it is lost and only a fading dream Deep in the soul of Florida lies a great heritage called the True Florida Cracker Not the urbanized rednecks that can afford a pair of Wrangler jeans a shiny belt buckle a fancy felt hat and black pointed toed cowboy boots but the true country boy and girl Those who know the reason why you carry a pocket knife how to keep it sharp and not cut yourself Those who can appreciate a good pot of collard greens without the sweet cornbread you buy in a box Those who are not afraid of taking a firm hold on a catfish as it flops around and taking out the hook without getting stuck To those who had actually stepped into a fresh pile of cow crap and knows what it smells like and in a way appreciates the experience To those who were taught to say yes mam and no sir and remember what respect is To those who say to themselves that they were born in the wrong time

Temporalities, Texts, Ideologies Bobby Xinyue, 2024-01-11 Temporalities Texts Ideologies provides a new analysis of the significance of time in Classical and early modern literature demonstrating that literary temporality continually intervenes in questions of ontology hierarchy and politics Examining a diverse range of texts from Homeric epic to eighteenth century poems on the Last Judgement this collection of essays contends that temporality in literature sits at the heart of how authors from antiquity through to the early modern period understood and negotiated the structures that shaped their lives and may shape lives to come Approaching the topic through four themes the essays in this volume highlight the ways in which time is construed as relational contestable and politically inflected The authors show that variations in temporalities enable texts to critique the interactions or tensions between tradition and change agency and determinism social system and individual experience The result is a refreshing approach to literary figurations of time that responds to the recent temporal turn in the humanities engages with current critical trends such as ontological analysis and ecological criticism and opens up an exciting new direction for future research on the connection between time text and context

The Final Siege: Berlin 1945 Pasquale De Marco, 2025-07-11 The Final Siege Berlin 1945 is a riveting exploration of the Battle of Berlin in 1945 a pivotal moment that marked the end of World War II in Europe With meticulous research and captivating storytelling Pasquale De Marco delves into the strategic significance of Berlin the fierce fighting that ensued and the profound impact it left on the course of history In the heart of Nazi Germany Berlin stood as a symbol of unwavering resistance its defenses fortified to repel any invading force As the Soviet Red Army relentlessly pushed westward the city became the last bastion of Hitler's crumbling regime. The ensuing battle was a brutal urban conflict with every street building and alley transformed into a battlefield. Pasquale De Marco vividly portrays the human toll of the battle, capturing the desperation and resilience of the soldiers and civilians caught in the crossfire. The stories of individual soldiers, their courage and sacrifices, are interwoven with the grand narrative of the battle, creating a deeply moving and immersive experience for the reader. Beyond the military engagements, The Final Siege: Berlin 1945 also explores the political and ideological dimensions of the Battle of Berlin. The clash between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies over the future of postwar Europe set the stage for the Cold War, shaping the geopolitical landscape for decades to come. With its comprehensive analysis and gripping narrative, The Final Siege: Berlin 1945 is an essential read for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of this pivotal event. It is a stark reminder of the horrors of war and the indomitable spirit of those who lived through it. If you like this book, write a review.

Thermophysics and Temperature Control of Spacecraft and Entry Vehicles
Gerhard Heller, 2012-12-02
Progress in Astronautics and Aeronautics Volume 18
Thermophysics and Temperature Control of Spacecraft and Entry Vehicles is a selection of technical papers based on two American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics meetings, namely The Thermophysics Specialist Conference held in Monterey, California, on September 13-15, 1965, and the Third Aerospace Sciences Conference held in New York on January 1966. This book covers the most important problems of thermophysical research and technology. This volume is composed of six parts encompassing 42 chapters. Part I contains papers on the thermal radiation properties of solids, including measuring techniques for solar reflectance and infrared emittance determination, and a paper on radiative transfer. Part II deals with the lunar and planetary thermal environment and includes research papers on emissivities, reflectivities, and polarization by planetary atmospheres and planetary surfaces. Part III discusses the effects of the space environment on the optical properties of thermal control surfaces. This part also presents results of flight experiments with sensors of environmental effects and flight experience with thermal coatings of satellites. Part IV covers the thermophysical measurements of ablative materials and with the char layers formed during the actual vehicle entry period or during laboratory simulation tests. Part V looks into the two comparatively new areas of thermophysics, namely the thermal similitude, thermal modeling, and interface resistance of joints under space conditions. Part VI summarizes the practical experience in thermal design gained on spacecraft flights. Thermophysicists, space engineers and designers, and research workers who are interested in thermophysical technology will find this book invaluable.

War Stories
Philip Dwyer, 2016-11-01
Although war memoirs constitute a rich, varied literary form, they are often dismissed by historians as unreliable. This collection of essays is one of the first to explore the modern war memoir, revealing the genre's surprising capacity for breadth and sophistication while remaining sensitive to the challenges it poses for scholars. Covering conflicts from the Napoleonic era to today, the studies gathered here consider how memoirs have been used to transmit particular views of war, even as they have emerged within specific social and political contexts. The
