Muerta De Hambre:

What is Eating Latin American Women Writers Renée Sum Scott, 2009 Latin American publications on weight and eating disorders abound especially in the fields of psychology and sociology However there are only a few articles addressing these themes in the fictional work of Latin American women authors What Is Eating Latin American Women Writers fills a theoretical void because it speaks to an ever growing interest in Latin American literature about women food and the body This study not only traces for the first time the historical development of the topics of food eating consumption and body image but also features well known authors and others who are yet to be discovered in United States The book contributes to the ongoing critical dialogue about women and food by offering an analysis of food weight and eating disorders in Latin American and Latina literary production

The Poetic and Real Worlds of César Vallejo (1892-1938) R. K. Britton, 2015-09-28 The world renowned Peruvian poet César Vallejo 1892 1938 was also a journalist essayist novelist and would be dramatist The study of his life and work has encountered problems since the 1950s stemming from the fact that half of his writing was published posthumously under editorship of doubtful accuracy The matter is further complicated in that his non poetic work has been neglected in favour of his verse A Struggle between Art and Politics reviews the evidence literary and historical now reliably to hand and assesses the often conflicting body of opinion his work has generated Three essential questions are pertinent Where should Vallejo be placed in the canon of twentieth century modernism What effect did his mid life conversion to Communism have on his writing How should his prose fiction journalism and essays be assessed in relation to his poetry There are few writers whose literary output follows the twists and turns of their lives more closely than César Vallejo's This new comparative study maps his career onto the cultural social political and historical backdrop to his life in Peru France Spain and Russia and analyses his writings in the light of his life circumstances Vallejo's journey from Peru the cultural periphery to the centre of inter war Paris his experience of European capitalism during the Depression and the confrontation of Communism and Fascism ultimately played out in the Spanish Civil War forced him to wage a personal struggle to reconcile art with life and politics This challenge is fought out in different ways in his various writings but nowhere more movingly passionately and humanely than in his posthumous poetry collections The Black Heralds 1918 Trilce 1922 Human Poems 1939 and Spain Take This Cup from Me 1939 Vallejo's poetry takes the Spanish language to an unprecedented level of emotional rawness and stretches its grammatical possibilities Striking against theology with the very rhetoric of the Christian faith Vallejo's is a tragic vision perhaps the only one in the canon of Spanish language literature in which salvation and sin are one and the same This edition includes notes on the translation and a fascinating translation memoir that traces Eshleman's long relationship with Vallejo's poetry An introduction and chronology provide further insights into Vallejo's life and work
