The Languages and Linguistics of Mainland Southeast Asia Paul Sidwell, Mathias Jenny, 2021-08-23 The handbook will offer a survey of the field of linguistics in the early 21st century for the Southeast Asian Linguistic Area The last half century has seen a great increase in work on language contact work in genetic theoretical and descriptive linguistics and since the 1990s especially documentation of endangered languages The book will provide an account of work in these areas focusing on the achievements of SEAsian linguistics as well as the challenges and unresolved issues and provide a survey of the relevant major publications and other available resources We will address Survey of the languages of the area organized along genetic lines with discussion of relevant political and cultural background issues Theoretical descriptive and typological issues Genetic classification and historical linguistics Areal and contact linguistics Other areas of interest such as sociolinguistics semantics writing systems etc Resources major monographs and monograph series dictionaries journals electronic data bases etc Grammar sketches of languages representative of the genetic and structural diversity of the region

Conceptualizations of Time Barbara Lewandowska-Tomaszczyk, 2016-06-14 As time cannot be observed directly it must be analyzed in terms of mental categories which manifest themselves on various linguistic levels In this interdisciplinary volume novel approaches to time are proposed that consider temporality without time on the one hand and the coding of time in language including sign language and gestures on the other The contributions of the volume demonstrate that time is conceptualized not only in terms of space but in terms of other domains of human experience as well Renowned specialists in the study of time the authors of this volume investigate this fascinating topic from a variety of perspectives philosophical linguistic anthropological neuro psychological and computational demonstrating a familiarity with both classical and recent approaches to the study of time and including up to date corpus based methods of study The volume will be of interest to philosophers linguists including specialists in cognitive linguistics corpus linguistics and computational linguistics anthropologists neuro psychologists translators language teachers and graduate students

Cognitive Approaches to Tense, Aspect, and Epistemic Modality Adeline Patard, Frank Brisard, 2011 This volume addresses problems of semantics regarding the analysis of tense and aspect TA markers in a variety of languages including Arabic Croatian English French German Russian Thai and Turkish Its main interest goes out to epistemic uses of such markers whereby epistemic modality is understood as indicating a degree of compatibility between the modal world and the factual world Declerck All contributions moreover tackle these problems from a more or less cognitive point of view with some of them insisting on the need to provide a unifying explanation for all usage types temporal and non temporal and all of them accepting the premise that the semantics of TA categories essentially refers to subjective rather than objective concerns The volume also represents one of the first attempts to gather accounts of TA marking in various languages that are explicitly set within the framework of Cognitive Grammar Ultimately this volume aims to contribute to establishing an awareness that modal meaning elements are directly relevant to the analysis of the grammar of time
