Rhetoric, Law, and the Mystery of Salvation in Romans 7:1-6 Keith Augustus Burton, 2001 Many have come to conclusion that Romans 7 1 6 indicated a deficiency in Paul s ability to construct a coherent argument This study suggests that interpretive problems should be eliminated if the pericope is approached with the right methods Romans 7 1 6 examined as a rhetorical treatise is a paradigmatic argument which is both structurally and logically coherent A full understanding also demands a re evaluation of the meaning and reference of law in Romans Utilizing semantic analyses the author suggests that law often refers to the Decalogue In this pericope Paul demonstrates how a sinful individual who is condemned by law is transformed into a spiritual individual who is commended by law

SAMPLE TEXT OF COMMENTS Gospel means good news Jews would associate this good news with Isaiah 52 7 Non Jews would think of the good news of an emperor s accession to power birthday visit to a city military victory or bringing of prosperity to the empire But Mark s good news has to do with the salvation and victory brought by Jesus over evil in all its demonic and physical forms The gospel of Jesus Christ therefore means the gospel about Jesus Christ and refers to a proclaimed message the voice of one crying out not a book though because books like Mark s contain that proclaimed message the term came to refer to those books in the capitalized form of Gospels to distinguish them from the message kept uncapitalized as gospel

Practical Predestinarians in England, c. 1590-1640 Leif Dixon, 2016-04-08 The belief that God eternally and unalterably decrees the election of one part of humankind and the reprobation of the rest has not aged well but in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries the doctrine of predestination was publicised and popularised to an extent unparalleled in the history of Christianity Why was this How successfully was the doctrine able to mix with other ideas and to what effect And did belief in predestination encourage confidence or despair Practical Predestinarians is a study of the ways in which the doctrine of predestination was understood and communicated by churchmen in late Tudor and early Stuart England It connects with debates about the popularity of Protestantism during England's long reformation as well as with the question of whether predestination tended toward inclusive or divisive and conformist or subversive applications Intersecting with recent debates about the popular reception of Protestant preaching this book focusses upon the pastoral message itself it is therefore an investigation into the public face of English Calvinism      Critical and Exegetical Commentary on the New Testament: Romans William Purdie Dickson, Heinrich August Wilhelm Meyer, Frederick Crombie, 1880      Signposts Earl F. Palmer, 1990      Paul's Letter to the Romans Ben Witherington, 2004-03-02 While Paul's letter to the Romans is the most studied and commented on document from the biblical period the major exegetical books on Romans from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries have been overwhelmingly shaped by the Reformed tradition Through a careful survey of work on Romans by both ancient Church Fathers and modern exegetical scholars Ben Witherington III here argues that the interpretation of Romans since the Reformation has been far too indebted to and at key points led astray by Augustinian readings of the text as filtered through Luther Calvin and others In this first full scale socio rhetorical commentary on Romans Witherington gleans fresh insights from reading the text of Paul's epistle in light of early Jewish theology the historical situation of Rome in the middle of the first century A D and Paul's own rhetorical concerns Giving serious consideration to the social and rhetorical background of Romans allows readers to hear Paul on his own terms not just through the various voices of his later interpreters Witherington's groundbreaking work also features a new clear translation of the Greek text and each section of the commentary ends with a brief discussion titled Bridging the Horizons which suggests how the ancient text of Romans may speak to us today
