Sam Selvon's Dialectal Style And Fictional Strategy:

Sam Selvon's Dialectal Style and Fictional Strategy Clement H. Wyke, 2011-11-01 Sam Selvon a contemporary writer of major importance is well known to British and Caribbean readers but his work including ten novels has not attained the prominence it deserves internationally This study is a literary analysis of Selvon's use of Trinidad Creole English as an important component of his style and method of fictional composition Wyke follows the development of Selvon's writing from his early to his late career starting with his first novel A Brighter Sun 1952 continuing with The Lonely Londoners 1956 and the short stories Ways of Sunlight 1957 and devoting a large part of the book to Selvon's middle and later years focusing on such novels as I Hear Thunder 1963 The Housing Lark 1965 and Those Who Eat the Cascardura 1972 He finishes with the last two works of Selvon's trilogy Moses Ascending 1975 and Moses Migrating 1983 The book reveals Selvon as a serious pioneer in the use of dialect in narration instead of mainly in the dialogue of novels and other fiction writing Wyke's concise and penetrating analysis of individual novels and short stories including the lyrical story My Girl and the City and his demonstration of features of Trinidad Creole English as a versatile tool in the hands of a novelist will appeal to literary critics as well as to those who are interested in the relationship between linguistics and literary criticism Selvon's work often combines an interesting and humorous yet serious portrayal of the Commonwealth experience which will sound familiar to Caribbean English and Canadian audiences This book will introduce new readers to his oeuvre and will be particularly appealing to those examining the connection between the Caribbean Canada and Britain places where Selvon has lived and from where he draws the rich material he uses to create his art

London From Punk to Blair Joe Kerr, Andrew Gibson, 2013-06-01 London from Punk to Blair is a rich portrait of Europe's foremost capital An array of contributors including poets journalists teachers historians wanderers drinkers photographers and foodies offer a selection of personal and subjective readings of the city since the late 70s These essays chart a variety of literal and metaphorical explorations through modern and postmodern London showing how it works and how it fails to work what makes it vibrant and what makes it seedy From West End galleries to strip pubs in Shoreditch from millionaires' loft apartments to buses and suburban Tube stops from film fashion and gay clubs to punk bands ruinous factories pigeon filth and the vagaries of weather London from Punk to Blair embraces the city like no other book has before This revised edition includes a new introduction by editor Joe Kerr that brings the book up to date and gives the essays context for the post recession world Full of insight into the diverse experiences that constitute the recent history of London Architects Journal This rewarding collection brings into clear focus those dramatic shifts in the fortunes of the metropolis Beautiful revealing insights into particular ways of understanding and using the city London Society Journal

Narratives of Obeah in West Indian Literature Janelle Rodriques, 2019-04-05 This book explores representations of Obeah a name used in the English Creole speaking Caribbean to describe various African derived syncretic Caribbean religious practices across a range of prose fictions published in the twentieth century by West Indian authors In the Caribbean and its diasporas Obeah often manifests in the casting of spells the administration of baths and potions of various oils herbs roots and powders and sometimes spirit possession for the purposes of protection revenge health and well being In most Caribbean territories the practice and practices that may resemble it remains illegal Narratives of Obeah in West Indian Literature analyses fiction that employs Obeah as a marker of the Black folk aesthetics that are now constitutive of West Indian literary and cultural production either in resistance to colonial ideology or in service of the same These texts foreground Obeah as a social and cultural logic both integral to and troublesome within the creation of such a thing as West Indian literature and culture at once a product of and a foil to Caribbean plantation societies This book explores the presentation of Obeah as an unruly narrative subject one that not only subverts but signifies a lasting Afro folk sensibility within colonial and postcolonial writing of the West Indies Narratives of Obeah in West Indian Literature will be of interest to scholars and students of Caribbean Literature Diaspora Studies and African and Caribbean religious studies it will also contribute to dialogues of spirituality in the wider Black Atlantic

The Novels of Samuel Selvon Roydon Salick, 2001-04-30 The author of such works as A Brighter Sun 1952 The Lonely

Londoners 1956 and The Plains of Caroni 1970 West Indian novelist Samuel Selvon is attracting growing amounts of scholarly attention Nonetheless criticism of his works has largely been imbalanced with most scholarship focusing primarily on his language This book corrects that imbalance by placing Selvon s novels within historical sociological and ideological contexts A new interpretation of Selvon s achievement as a novelist the volume looks for the first time at his works in terms of categories of novels peasant middle class and immigrant The book demonstrates that each category is different from the others and that novels within categories are similar Thus it provides a coherent vision of Selvon s canon It illustrates as well the development of Selvon s philosophy of West Indians as peasant bourgeois and immigrant In doing so it explores the significance of ethnicity in his works and discusses Selvon s imaginative apotheosis of the Indo Trinidadian peasant and the diminution of the Afro Trinidadian immigrant The volume also studies Selvon s fictional and rhetorical techniques and argues that his works range from Bildungsroman to picaresque to epic to satire The Storyworld Accord Erin James,2015-07-01

Storyworlds mental models of context and environment within which characters function is a concept used to describe what happens in narrative Narratologists agree that the concept of storyworlds best captures the ecology of narrative interpretation by allowing a fuller appreciation of the organization of both space and time by recognizing reading as a process that encourages readers to compare the world of a text to other possible worlds and by highlighting the power of narrative to immerse readers in new and unfamiliar environments Focusing on the work of writers from Trinidad and Nigeria such as Sam Selvon and Ben Okri The Storyworld Accord investigates and compares the storyworlds of nonrealist and postmodern postcolonial texts to show how such narratives grapple with the often collapsed concerns of subjectivity representation and environment bringing together these narratological and ecocritical concerns via a mode that Erin James calls econarratology Arguing that postcolonial ecocriticism like ecocritical studies has tended to neglect imaginative representations of the environment in postcolonial literatures James suggests that readings of storyworlds in postcolonial texts helps narrative theorists and ecocritics better consider the ways in which culture ideologies and social and environmental issues are articulated in narrative forms and structures while also helping postcolonial scholars more fully consider the environment alongside issues of political subjectivity and sovereignty Unexpected Pleasures Lauryl Tucker,2022-01-15

What are the sources and the effects of the pleasurable feeling of power that genre gives us What happens to that power when conventionality tips into parody In this book Lauryl Tucker explores the connection between genre parody and queerness in twentieth century British fiction Teasing out the parodic sensibility of writers including Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen Sam Selvon Dorothy Sayers Stella Gibbons and Zadie Smith Unexpected Pleasures offers an innovative reading of works that seem to excessively obey the rules of genre By oversupplying the pleasurable sense of knowledge and the illusion of predictive power that genre confers these works play with readerly expectation in order to expose and queer a broader set of assumptions about desire resolution and futurity Unexpected Pleasures expands on a burgeoning critical interest in genre as an interpretive tool and further diversifies the archive and methodology of queer critique Gathering a surprising group of writers together it reveals new throughlines between middlebrow and highbrow and among modernist mid century and contemporary literature This book will interest scholars of modernist and contemporary British literature as well as readers interested in narrative and queer theory Journal of West Indian Literature ,1996

The Routledge Companion to Anglophone Caribbean Literature Michael A. Bucknor,Alison Donnell,2011-06-14 This Companion is divided into six sections that provide an introduction to and critical history of the field discussions of key texts and a critical debate on major topics such as the nation race gender and migration In the final section contributors examine the material dissemination of Caribbean literature and point towards the new directions that Caribbean literature and criticism are taking English Literature and the Other Languages ,2022-06-08 The thirty essays in English Literature and the Other Languages trace how the tangentiality of English and other modes of language affects the production of English literature and investigate how questions of linguistic code can be made accessible to literary analysis This collection studies multilingualism from the Reformation onwards when Latin was an alternative to the emerging vernacular of the Anglican nation the eighteenth century confrontation between English and the languages of the colonies the process whereby the standard British English of the colonizer has lost ground to independent englishes American Canadian Indian Caribbean Nigerian or New Zealand English that now consider the original standard British English as the other languages the interaction between English and a range of British language varieties including Welsh Irish and Scots the Lancashire and Dorset dialects as well as working class idiom Chicano literature translation and self translation Ezra Pound s revitalization of English in the Cantos and the psychogrammar and comic dialogics in Joyce s Ulysses As Norman Blake puts it in his Afterword to English Literature and the Other Languages There has been no volume such as this which tries to take stock of the whole area and to put multilingualism in literature on the map It is a subject which has been neglected for too long and this volume is to be welcomed for its brave attempt to fill this lacuna Callaloo ,1993 Some special issues devoted to the literatures of other minorities Narratives of Community in the Black British Short Story Bettina Jansen,2018-08-16 Narratives of Community in the Black British Short Story offers the first systematic study of black British short story writing tracing its development from the 1950s to the present with a particular focus on contemporary short stories by Hanif Kureishi Jackie Kay Suhayl Saadi Zadie Smith and Hari Kunzru By combining a postcolonial framework of analysis with Jean Luc Nancy s deconstructive philosophy of community the book charts key tendencies in black British short fiction and explores how black British writers use the short story form to combat deeply entrenched notions of community and experiment with non essentialist alternatives across differences of ethnicity culture religion and nationality Atlantic Passages Mark Looker,1996 Caribbean novelist Sam Selvon was part of the new wave of post war West Indian writers George Lamming V S Naipaul and Derek Walcott among others who would redefine what English literature meant In novels such as A Brighter Sun and The Lonely Londoners Selvon invented a literary language at once playful and engaging moving to the rhythms of both literary modernism and Caribbean folk tales and calypsos Atlantic Passages is the first book length study to place Selvon's fiction at the center of postcolonial theoretical debates It measures Selvon's novels against their social and cultural contexts gauging their productive counterpoise with ideas of history and community More fully than any previous study it maps the landscape of Selvon's novels and their fictional confrontation with modernity in the immigrant enclaves of London and the newly independent Caribbean islands
