Venus in Exile Wendy Steiner, 2002-11-15 In Venus in Exile renowned cultural critic Wendy Steiner explores the twentieth century's troubled relationship with beauty Disdained by avant garde artists feminists and activists beauty and its major symbols of art the female subject and ornament became modernist taboos To this day it is hard to champion beauty in art without sounding aesthetically or politically retrograde Steiner argues instead that the experience of beauty is a form of communication a subject object interchange in which finding someone or something beautiful is at the same time recognizing beauty in oneself This idea has led artists and writers such as Marlene Dumas Christopher Bram and Cindy Sherman to focus on the long ignored figure of the model who function in art as both a subject and an object Steiner concludes Venus in Exile on a decidedly optimistic note demonstrating that beauty has created a new and intensely pleasurable direction for contemporary artistic practice

We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger, 2022-10-04 A richly illustrated history of self taught artists and how they changed American art Artists without formal training who learned from family community and personal journeys have long been a presence in American art But it wasn't until the 1980s with the help of trailblazing advocates that the collective force of their creative vision and bold self definition permanently changed the mainstream art world In We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger traces the rise of self taught artists in the twentieth century and examines how despite wide ranging societal racial and gender based obstacles they redefined who could be rightfully seen as an artist and revealed a much more diverse community of American makers Lavishly illustrated throughout We Are Made of Stories features more than one hundred drawings paintings and sculptures ranging from the narrative to the abstract by forty three artists including James Castle Thornton Dial William Edmondson Howard Finster Bessie Harvey Dan Miller Sister Gertrude Morgan the Philadelphia Wireman Nellie Mae Rowe Judith Scott and Bill Traylor The book centralizes the personal stories behind the art and explores enduring themes including self definition cultural heritage struggle and joy and inequity and achievement At the same time it offers a sweeping history of self taught artists the critical debates surrounding their art and how museums have gradually diversified their collections across lines of race gender class and ability Recasting American art history to embrace artists who have been excluded for too long We Are Made of Stories vividly captures the power of art to show us the world through the eyes of another Published in association with the Smithsonian American Art Museum Exhibition Schedule Smithsonian American Art Museum Washington DC July 1 2022 March 26 2023
