other things that matter as much or more to our lives from microbes to technologies we use to make life more comfortable We need a new definition of what heredity is and through Carl Zimmer's lucid exposition and storytelling this resounding tour de force delivers it Weaving historical and current scientific research his own experience with his two daughters and the kind of original reporting expected of one of the world's best science journalists Zimmer ultimately unpacks urgent bioethical quandaries arising from new biomedical technologies but also long standing presumptions about who we really are and what we can pass on to future generations

Making Monsters David Livingstone Smith, 2021-10-12 A leading scholar explores what it means to dehumanize others and how and why we do it I wouldn't have accepted that they were human beings You would see an infant who's just learning to smile and it smiles at you but you still kill it So a Hutu man explained to an incredulous researcher when asked to recall how he felt slaughtering Tutsis in Rwanda in 1994 Such statements are shocking yet we recognize them we hear their echoes in accounts of genocides massacres and pogroms throughout history How do some people come to believe that their enemies are monsters and therefore easy to kill In Making Monsters David Livingstone Smith offers a poignant meditation on the philosophical and psychological roots of dehumanization Drawing on harrowing accounts of lynchings Smith establishes what dehumanization is and what it isn't When we dehumanize our enemy we hold two incongruous beliefs at the same time we believe our enemy is at once subhuman and fully human To call someone a monster then is not merely a resort to metaphor dehumanization really does happen in our minds Turning to an abundance of historical examples Smith explores the relationship between dehumanization and racism the psychology of hierarchy what it means to regard others as human beings and why dehumanizing others transforms them into something so terrifying that they must be destroyed Meticulous but highly readable Making Monsters suggests that the process of dehumanization is deeply seated in our psychology It is precisely
