San Diego An Introduction To The Region N:

San Diego's Hybrid Urban Borderlands Albert Rossmeier, 2023-08-29 This study aims for a wider understanding of the redevelopment processes that emerged several decades ago in downtown San Diego and now gradually spread over the downtown edges into the inner ring. Perspectively situated in the fields of urban landscape and urban border studies, the research project outlines how the eastward redevelopment wave in San Diego contests socialized neighborhood boundary perceptions by transforming the former first tier suburbs from disinvested communities into urban villages and trendy places to be. The study shows how the redevelopment perforates, dissolves, and shifts socialized linear neighborhood boundaries into areas that are simultaneously part of the one and the other neighborhood. In the present work, the resulting rather undefined or stretched border areas have been referred to as hybrid urban borderlands. This notion is a novel conceptual approach that can be deemed a promising lens for future studies on neighborhood change, urban redevelopment, and socio-spatial re-interpretation beyond the context of San Diego.

San Diego's North Park North Park Historical Society, 2014-09-08 Hip and historic North Park fascinates with its commercial energy and Craftsman charm. The community has always embodied an enterprising spirit. In the 1870s, cronies of Alonzo Horton mapped neighborhoods north of Balboa Park in a patchwork of individual subdivisions. Four decades later, John Spreckelss streetcars finally brought investors, residents, and shopkeepers, creating San Diego's slice of Bungalow Heaven. Baseball great Ted Williams played on North Park's fields, and tennis star Maureen Connolly trained on its courts. The local shops served as a regional commercial center after World War II, and the Toyland Parade attracted 300,000 spectators. Although decades of decline followed, the exciting 1950s North Park is flourishing again in a renaissance initiated by the restoration of the elegant North Park Theatre in 2005. This pictorial history tells the classic story of a boom, bust, and boom.

North American Borders in Comparative Perspective Guadalupe Correa-Cabrera, Victor Konrad, 2020-04-07 The northern and southern borders and borderlands of the United States should have much in common; instead, they offer mirror articulations of the complex relationships and engagements between the United States, Mexico, and Canada. In North American Borders in Comparative Perspective, leading experts provide a contemporary analysis of how globalization and security imperatives have redefined the shared border regions of these three nations. This volume offers a comparative perspective on North American borders and reveals the distinctive nature first of the overportrayed Mexico-U.S. border and then of the largely overlooked Canada-U.S. border. The perspectives on either border are rarely compared. Essays in this volume bring North American borders into comparative focus; the contributors advance the understanding of borders in a variety of theoretical and empirical contexts pertaining to North America with an intense sharing of knowledge, ideas, and perspectives. Adding to the regional analysis of North American borders and borderlands, this book cuts across disciplinary and topical areas to provide a balanced comparative view of borders. Scholars, policy makers, and practitioners convey perspectives on current research and understanding of the United States borders.

with its immediate neighbors Developing current border theories the authors address timely and practical border issues that are significant to our understanding and management of North American borderlands The future of borders demands a deep understanding of borderlands and borders This volume is a major step in that direction Contributors Bruce Agnew Donald K Alper Alan D Bersin Christopher Brown Emmanuel Brunet Jaily Irasema Coronado Guadalupe Correa Cabrera Michelle Keck Victor Konrad Francisco Lara Valencia Tony Payan Kathleen Staudt Rick Van Schoik Christopher Wilson Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2002 United States.
