San Francisco Creation Of A City:

The Colonial History of the City of San Francisco John Whipple Dwinelle, 1866 San Francisco, Creation of a City
Thomas Moulin, Don DeNevi, 1978-01-01 Creating a Place For Ourselves Brett Beemyn, 2013-05-13
Creating a Place For Ourselves is a groundbreaking collection of essays that examines gay life in the United States before Stonewall and the gay liberation movement. Along with examining areas with large gay communities such as New York, San Francisco, and Fire Island, the contributors also consider the thriving gay populations in cities like Detroit, Buffalo, Washington D.C., Birmingham, and Flint, demonstrating that gay communities are truly everywhere. Contributors: Brett Beemyn, Nan Alamilla Boyd, George Chauncey, Madeline Davis, Allen Drexel, John Howard, David Johnson, Liz Kennedy, Joan Nestle, Esther Newton, Tim Retzlaff, Marc Stein, Roey Thorpe. Designing San Francisco Alison Isenberg, 2024-09-24
A major urban history of the design and development of postwar San Francisco. Designing San Francisco is the untold story of the formative postwar decades when U.S. cities took their modern shape amid clashing visions of the future. In this pathbreaking and richly illustrated book, Alison Isenberg shifts the focus from architects and city planners—those most often hailed in histories of urban development and design—to the unsung artists, activists, and others who played pivotal roles in rebuilding San Francisco between the 1940s and the 1970s. Previous accounts of midcentury urban renewal have focused on the opposing terms set down by Robert Moses and Jane Jacobs: put simply, development versus preservation. And have followed New York City models. Now Isenberg turns our attention west to colorful, pioneering, and contentious San Francisco, where unexpectedly fierce battles were waged over iconic private and public projects like Ghirardelli Square, Golden Gateway, and the Transamerica Pyramid. When large-scale redevelopment came to low-rise San Francisco in the 1950s, the resulting rivalries and conflicts sparked the proliferation of numerous allied arts fields and their professionals, including architectural model makers, real estate publicists, graphic designers, photographers, property managers, builders, sculptors, public interest lawyers, alternative press writers, and preservationists. Isenberg explores how these centrally engaged arts professionals brought new ideas to city, regional, and national planning and shaped novel projects across urban, suburban, and rural borders. San Francisco's rebuilding galvanized far-reaching critiques of the inequitable competition for scarce urban land and propelled debates over responsible public land stewardship. Isenberg challenges many truisms of this renewal era, especially the presumed male domination of postwar urban design, showing how women collaborated in city building long before feminism's impact in the 1970s. An evocative portrait of one of the world's great cities, Designing San Francisco provides a new paradigm for understanding past and present struggles to define the urban future. History of the San Francisco Committee of Vigilance of 1851 Mary Floyd Williams, 1921 The City Aroused Damon Scott, 2024-01-02
A history of San Francisco that studies change in the postwar urban landscape in relation to the city's queer culture. The City Aroused is a lively history of urban development and its influence on queer political identity in postwar San Francisco. By reconstructing the planning and queer history of waterfront drinking establishments Damon Scott shows that urban renewal was a catalyst for community organizing among racially diverse operators and patrons with far reaching implications for the national gay rights movement Following the exclusion of suspected homosexuals from the maritime trades in West Coast ports in the early 1950s seamen s hangouts in the city came to resemble gay bars Local officials responded by containing the influx of gay men to a strip of bars on the central waterfront while also making plans to raze and rebuild the area This practice ended when city redevelopment officials began acquiring land in the early 1960s Aided by law enforcement they put these queer social clubs out of business replacing them with heteronormative desexualized land uses that served larger postwar urban development goals Scott argues that this shift from queer containment to displacement aroused a collective response among gay and transgender drinking publics who united in solidarity to secure a place in the rapidly changing urban landscape
