Observatory where astronomers first discovered evidence that the universe is expanding Meteor Crater where Apollo astronauts trained for the moon and Native American tribes with their own ancient rich ways of relating to the cosmos With the personal poetic style of the very best literary nature writing Don Lago explores how these landscapes have offered humans a deeper sense of connection with the universe While most nature writing never leaves the ground Lago is one of the few writers who has applied it to the universe seeking ties between humans and the astronomical forces that gave us birth Nowhere else in the world is the link between earth and sky so powerful Lago witnesses a solar eclipse over the Grand Canyon climbs primeval volcanos and sees the universe in tree rings Through ageless Native American ceremonies modern telescopes and even dreams of flying saucers Lago who is not only a poet but a true philosopher of science strives to find order and meaning in the world and brings out the Southwest s beauty and mystery      Sands of Mars Arthur Charles Clarke,1954      Fantastic Cities Stefan Rabitsch,Michael Fuchs,Stefan L. Lorenz,James R. Zimbelman,2014-04-22 This book describes how sand dunes work why they are the way they are in different settings and how they are being studied Particular attention is paid to their formation and appearance elsewhere in the solar system New developments in knowledge about dunes make for an interesting story like the dunes themselves dune science is dynamic and the visual appeal of Aeolian geomorphology ensures that this is an attractive volume The book is divided into 4 parts the first of which introduces dunes as a planetary phenomenon showing a landscape reflecting the balance of geological processes volcanism impact tectonics erosion deposition of sediments Dunes are then considered as emergent dynamical systems the interaction of sand and wind

conspires to generate very characteristic and reproducible shapes Analogies are given with other emergent structures such as patterned ground before the influence of dunes on desert peoples and infrastructure is studied together with their use as forensic climatological indicators Dune Physics is looked at with regard to the mechanics of sand the physics of wind saltation interaction of sand and air dunes versus ripples and transverse Aeolian ridges the classification of dune morphology and the sources and sinks of sand Dune Trafficability considers soil mechanics effects on mobility on Earth Mars and elsewhere In the second part Earth Mars Titan and other moons and planets are examined beginning with a survey of the major deserts and dunefields on Earth The authors then turn to Mars and its environment sediment type dune stratigraphy sediment source and sinks and the association of dunes with topographic features Titan follows its thick cold atmosphere methane dampness low gravity morphology interaction with topography and the implications of dunes for climate and winds Dunes elsewhere conclude this part There are few dunefields on Venus but there is a possibility of Aeolian transport on Triton and volcanic related windstreaks on Io

Martian Gullies and their Earth Analogues S.J. Conway, J.L. Carrivick, P.A. Carling, T. de Haas, T.N. Harrison, 2019-01-21 Gullies on Mars resemble terrestrial gullies involved in the transport of abundant material down steep slopes by liquid water However liquid water should not be stable at the Martian surface The articles in this volume present the two main opposing theories for Martian gully formation climate driven melting of surficial water ice deposits and seasonal dry ice sublimation The evidence presented ranges from remote sensing observations to experimental simulations to comparison with Earth analogues The opposing hypotheses imply either that Mars has been unusually wet in the last few million years or that it has remained a cold dry desert both with profound implications for understanding the water budget of Mars and its habitability The debate questions the limits of remote sensing data and how we interpret active processes on extra terrestrial planetary surfaces even beyond those on Mars as summarized by the review paper at the beginning of the book
