Northern Renaissance Art Susie Nash, 2008-11-27 This book offers a wide ranging introduction to the way that art was made valued and viewed in northern Europe in the age of the Renaissance from the late fourteenth to the early years of the sixteenth century Drawing on a rich range of sources from inventories and guild regulations to poetry and chronicles it examines everything from panel paintings to carved altarpieces While many little known works are foregrounded Susie Nash also presents new ways of viewing and understanding the more familiar such as the paintings of Jan van Eyck Rogier van der Weyden and Hans Memling by considering the social and economic context of their creation and reception Throughout Nash challenges the perception that Italy was the European leader in artistic innovation at this time demonstrating forcefully that

Northern art and particularly that of the Southern Netherlands dominated visual culture throughout Europe in this crucial period

The Expert Versus the Object Ronald D. Spencer, 2004-04 The authenticity of art has always commanded the attention of experts dealers collectors and the art minded public especially those who relish the Robin Hoods of art forgery who deceive rich collectors and pompous experts This book of essays edited by a lawyer specializing in art law and authenticity proposes to make the question of authenticity more easily understood The main points to be argued are 1 that the perception of form in a work of art is not unlike other types of evidence accepted in courts of law 2 that in determining authenticity experts must adopt a careful organized approach and 3 that all authentication should be based on the consensus of experts at arm s length from an object

Looking at Paintings Tiarna Doherty, Anne T. Woollett, 2009 Fully revised and updated here is a concise and authoritative guide to the technical terms most commonly used in painting What is tempera What is foreshortening What is fresco These are just some 100 terms that are explained and illustrated in this authoritative volume

An Introduction to the Making of Western Art Susan L. Green, 2024-03-29 This book is the first introduction to Western art that not only considers how choice of materials can impact form but also how objects in different media can alter in appearance over time and the role of conservators in the preservation of our cultural heritage The first four chapters cover wall and easel paintings sculpture drawings and prints from the late Middle Ages to the present day They examine with numerous examples how these works have been produced how they might have been transformed and how efforts regarding their preservation can sometimes be misleading or result in controversy The final two chapters look at how photography new techniques and modern materials prompted innovative ways of creating art in the twentieth century and how the rapid expansion of technology in the twenty first century has led to a revolution in how artworks are constructed and seen generating specific challenges for collectors curators and conservators alike This book is primarily directed at undergraduates interested in art history museum studies and conservation but will also be of interest to a more general non specialist audience

Raman Spectroscopy in Archaeology and Art History Peter Vandenabeele, Howell Edwards, 2018-10-26 Ten years after the first volume this book highlights the important contribution Raman spectroscopy makes as a non destructive method for characterising the chemical composition of objects with archaeological and historical importance The original book was ground breaking in its concept but the past ten years have seen some advancement into new areas consolidation of some of the older ones and novel applications involving portable instrumentation on site in museums and in the field This new volume maintains the topic at the cutting edge the Editors have approached prominent contributors to provide case studies sorted into themes Starting with a Foreword from the British Museum Director of Scientific Research and an Introduction from the Editors which offer general background information and theoretical context the contributions then provide global perspectives on this powerful analytical tool Aimed at scientists involved in conservation conservators and curators who want to better understand their collections at a material level and researchers of cultural heritage

Innovation and Visualization Amy Ione, 2005 Amy Ione s Innovation and Visualization is the first in detail account that relates the development of visual images to innovations in art communication scientific research and technological advance Integrated case studies allow Ione to put aside C P Snow s two culture framework in favor of cross disciplinary examples that refute the science humanities dichotomy The themes which range from cognitive science to illuminated manuscripts and media studies will appeal to specialists artists art historians cognitive scientists etc interested in comparing our image saturated culture with the environments of earlier eras The scope of the examples will appeal to the generalist

Raman Spectroscopy in Cultural Heritage Preservation Howell G. M. Edwards, Peter Vandenabeele, Philippe Colomban, 2022-10-13 This book addresses the application of Raman spectroscopic techniques to a range of diverse problems which arise in the study conservation and restoration of artefacts and sites closely related to our cultural heritage as well as in authentication These themes are naturally wider than what at first might be considered as artworks and archaeological artefacts and the topics include pigments paintings ceramics glass sculpture and patination corrosion textiles industrial archaeology the degradation and preservation of biomaterials mummies and human skeletal remains An interesting feature is the inclusion of modern case studies which describe specific problems and approaches to the Raman spectral analysis of items important to our cultural heritage The text is prefaced with an introduction to the important parameters used in nondestructive Raman measurements and also highlights some future applications based upon novel miniaturised instrumentation for in field studies and potential screening work which will identify specimens which would repay further studies in the laboratory An attempt is made to give a snapshot of the state of the art evolution since the beginning of the technique 1970s and to point out potential further development The book is co edited by three international experts with many years experience in the application of Raman spectroscopy to artworks archaeological artefacts and in the investigation of materials and sites for cultural heritage preservation and each editor has undertaken to write individual chapters and different topics personally The adopted approach is designed to convey the sort of information which has become available from the adoption of analytical Raman spectroscopy to different problems in the field of cultural heritage preservation through the spectral interrogation of artefacts and how the interpretation of the spectral data can assist museum curators archaeologists and cultural heritage historians in the preservation and conservation of ancient materials and sites a particular advantage in this respect is the ability of Raman spectroscopy to determine generally in a strictly noninvasive procedure at the laboratory or on site with mobile instruments the presence of both organic and inorganic components in a particular specimen together nondestructively without any chemical and mechanical pretreatment being undertaken which is an essential requirement for rare and valuable samples An important aside from this work is the means of spectral identification of ongoing biodeterioration and biological colonisation in specimens in storage and the effects of environmental deterioration such as humidity and temperature upon their integrity

Implication Alan C. Braddock, 2023-05-16 Readers of Implication will come away convinced that all art regardless of historical period context genre or medium has an ecological connection to the world in which it was created Ecocriticism is an interdisciplinary mode of inquiry that examines the environmental significance of art literature and other creative endeavors In Implication An Ecocritical Dictionary for Art History Alan C Braddock a pioneer in art historical ecocriticism presents a fascinating group of key terms and case studies to demonstrate that all art is ecological in its interconnectedness with the world The book adopts a dictionary style format although not in a conventional sense

Drawing inspiration from French surrealist writer Georges Bataille this dictionary presents carefully selected words that link art history to the environmental humanities not only ecocriticism but also environmental history science politics and critical animal studies A wide array of creative works from different cultures and time periods reveal the import of these terms and the inescapable entanglement of art with ecology Ancient Roman mosaics Song dynasty Taihu rocks a Tlaxcalan lienzo early modern European engravings and altarpieces a Kongo dibondo nineteenth century landscape paintings by African American artist Edward Mitchell Bannister French Impressionist urban scenes and contemporary activist art among other works here disclose the intrinsic ecological conditions of art

Pigments Barbara H. Berrie, Caroline Fowler, Karin Leonhard, Ittai Weinryb, 2024-06-04 A concise illustrated history of one of art's most important and elusive elements Over the millennia humans have used pigments to decorate narrate and instruct Charred bone ground earth stones bugs and blood were the first pigments New pigments were manufactured by simple processes such as corrosion and calcination until the Industrial Revolution introduced colors outside the spectrum of the natural world Pigments brings together leading art historians and conservators to trace the history of the materials used to create color and their invention across diverse cultures and time periods This richly illustrated book features incisive historical essays and case studies that shed light on the many forms of pigments the organic and inorganic the edible and the toxic and those that are more precious than gold It shows how pigments were as central to the earliest art forms and global trade networks as they are to commerce ornamentation and artistic expression today The book reveals the innate instability and mutability of most pigments and discusses how few artworks or objects look as they did when they were first created From cave paintings to contemporary art Pigments demonstrates how a material understanding of color opens new perspectives on visual culture and the history of art

Computer Analysis of Images and Patterns Xiaoyi Jiang, Nicolai Petkov, 2009-08-29 It was an honor and a pleasure to organize the 13th International Conference on Computer Analysis of Images and Patterns CAIP 2009 in Münster Germany CAIP has been held biennially since 1985 Berlin 1985 Wismar 1987 Leipzig 1989 Dresden 1991 Budapest 1993 Prague 1995 Kiel 1997 Ljubljana 1999 Warsaw 2001 Groningen 2003 Paris 2005 and Vienna 2007 Initially this conference series served as a forum for getting together scientists from East and West Europe Nowadays CAIP enjoys a high international visibility and attracts participants from all over the world For CAIP 2009 we received a record number of 405 submissions All papers were reviewed by two and in most cases three reviewers Finally 148 papers were selected for presentation at the conference resulting in an acceptance rate of 36% All Program Committee members and additional reviewers listed here deserve a great thanks for their timely and competent reviews The accepted papers were presented either as oral presentations or posters in a single track program In addition we were very happy to have Aljoscha Smolic and David G Stork as our invited speakers to present their work in two fascinating areas

With this scientific program we hope to continue the tradition of CAIP in providing a forum for scientific exchange at a high quality level. A successful conference like CAIP 2009 would not be possible without the support of many institutions and people. First of all we like to thank all the authors of submitted papers and the invited speakers for their contributions. The Steering Committee members were always there when advice was needed.

Leonardo Da Vinci Walter Isaacson, 2017-10-17
The 1 New York Times bestseller. A powerful story of an exhilarating mind and life, a study in creativity: how to define it, how to achieve it. The New Yorker: Vigorous, insightful. The Washington Post: A masterpiece. San Francisco Chronicle: Luminous. The Daily Beast: He was history's most creative genius. What secrets can he teach us? The author of the acclaimed bestsellers Steve Jobs, Einstein, and Benjamin Franklin brings Leonardo da Vinci to life in this exciting new biography. Based on thousands of pages from Leonardo's astonishing notebooks and new discoveries about his life and work, Walter Isaacson weaves a narrative that connects his art to his science. He shows how Leonardo's genius was based on skills we can improve in ourselves, such as passionate curiosity, careful observation, and an imagination so playful that it flirted with fantasy. He produced the two most famous paintings in history, The Last Supper and the Mona Lisa. But in his own mind, he was just as much a man of science and technology. With a passion that sometimes became obsessive, he pursued innovative studies of anatomy, fossils, birds, the heart, flying machines, botany, geology, and weaponry. His ability to stand at the crossroads of the humanities and the sciences made iconic by his drawing of Vitruvian Man made him history's most creative genius. His creativity, like that of other great innovators, came from having wide-ranging passions. He peeled flesh off the faces of cadavers, drew the muscles that move the lips, and then painted history's most memorable smile. He explored the math of optics, showed how light rays strike the cornea, and produced illusions of changing perspectives in The Last Supper. Isaacson also describes how Leonardo's lifelong enthusiasm for staging theatrical productions informed his paintings and inventions. Leonardo's delight at combining diverse passions remains the ultimate recipe for creativity. So too does his ease at being a bit of a misfit, illegitimate, gay, vegetarian, left-handed, easily distracted, and at times heretical. His life should remind us of the importance of instilling both in ourselves and our children not just received knowledge but a willingness to question it, to be imaginative, and like talented misfits and rebels in any era, to think different.

The Varnish and the Glaze Marjolijn Bol, 2023-04-21
A new history of the techniques, materials, and aesthetic ambitions that gave rise to the radiant verisimilitude of Jan van Eyck's oil paintings on panel. Panel painters in both the middle ages and the fifteenth century created works that evoke the luster of precious stones, the sheen of polished gold and silver, and the colorful radiance of stained glass. Yet their approaches to rendering these materials were markedly different. Marjolijn Bol explores some of the reasons behind this radical transformation by telling the history of the two oil painting techniques used to depict everything that glistens and glows: varnish and glaze. For more than a century after his death, the fifteenth-century painter Jan van Eyck was widely credited with inventing varnish and oil paint on account of his unique visual realism. Once this was revealed to be a myth, the verisimilitude of his work was attributed instead to a new translucent painting technique the glaze Today most theories about how Van Eyck achieved this realism revolve around the idea that he was the first to discover or refine the glazing technique Bol however argues that rather than being a fifteenth century refinement varnishing and glazing began centuries before Drawing from an extensive body of recipes Bol pieces together how varnishes and glazes were first developed as part of the medieval art of material mimesis Artisans embellished metalwork and wood with varnishes and glazes to imitate gold and gems infused rock crystal with oil resin and colorants to imitate more precious minerals and oiled parchment to transform it into the appearance of green glass Likewise medieval panel painters used varnishes and glazes to create the look of enamel silk and more The explorations of materials and their optical properties by these artists stimulated natural philosophers to come up with theories about transparent and translucent materials produced by the earth Natural historians influenced by medieval artists understanding of refraction and reflection developed theories about gems their creation and their optical qualities
