A Literary History of the American West Western Literature Association (U.S.), 1987 Literary histories of course do not have a reason for being unless there exists the literature itself This volume perhaps more than others of its kind is an expression of appreciation for the talented and dedicated literary artists who ignored the odds avoided temptations to write for popularity or prestige and chose to write honestly about the American West believing that experiences long known to be of historical importance are also experiences that need and deserve a literature of importance New Directions in Later Medieval Manuscript Studies Derek Pearsall, 2000 Influential scholars from Britain and North America discuss future directions in rapidly expanding field of manuscript study The study of manuscripts is one of the most active areas of current research in medieval studies manuscripts are the basic primary material evidence for literary scholars historians and art historians alike and there has been an explosion of interest over the past twenty years Manuscript study has developed enormously codices are no longer treated as inert witnesses to a culture whose character has already been determined by the modern scholar but are active participants in a process of exploration and discovery The articles collected here discuss the future of this process and vital questions about manuscript study for tomorrow's explorers They deal with codicology and book production with textual criticism with the material structure of the medieval book with the relation of manuscripts to literary culture to social history and to the medieval theatre and with the importance to manuscript study of the emerging technology of computerised digitisation and hypertext display The essays provide an end of millennium perspective on the most vigorous developments in a rapidly expanding field of study Contributors A I Doyle C David Benson Martha W Driver J P Gumbert Kathryn Kerby Fulton Linne R Mooney Eckehard Simon Alison Stones John Thompson DEREK PEARSALL is former Professor and Co Director of the Centre for Medieval Studies York and Professor of English at Harvard University The History of the Epic A. Johns-Putra, 2006-07-11 This book presents a history of the epic from the classical age to the present day It deals not just with the well know epics of antiquity and the Renaissance but also pursues developments in more recent literature and film It offers an exploration of the changes that have taken place in the genre from Homer to Hollywood Autobiographical Occasions and Original Acts Albert E. Stone, 1982-09 Stone rescues autobiography from the thickets of recent critical theory in which the life portrayed has often seemed less important than the inventive literary techniques He argues that the techniques are important because knowledge of the life is important to our culture Restricting himself primarily to 16 writers of the 20th century Stone juxtaposes two or three figures in given chapters such as Becoming a Woman in Male America Margaret Mead and Anais Nin and Two Recreate One The Act of Collaboration in Recent Black Autobiography Ossie Guffy Nate Shaw Malcolm X Other writers considered are W E B DuBois Henry Adams Black Elk Thomas Merton Louis Sullivan Richard Wright Norman Mailer Frank Conroy and Lillian Hellman Romantic Europe and the Ghost of Italy Joseph Luzzi, 2008-11-24 This groundbreaking study considers Italian Romanticism and the modern myth of Italy Ranging across European and international borders he examines the metaphors facts and fictions about Italy that were born in the Romantic age and continue to haunt the global literary imagination Theism in the Discourse of Jonathan Edwards R. C. De Prospe, 1985 This book proposes that a new semiotic category called theism can more intelligibly classify the discursive pattern that precedes modern humanism in American literature than such standard historicist categories as Puritanism or Calvinism or medievalism and that the writings of Jonathan Edwards exemplify this theist discursive pattern ENGLISH LITERATURE ADVANCING THROUGH HISTORY 1 - Old English (Anglo-Saxon) and Medieval Periods Petru Golban, 2020-11-24 It appears that literary work possesses eternal temporal validity due to its autonomous aesthetic value whereas criticism provides points of view having temporary and transitory significance Despite such claims the vector of methodology in our series of books dealing with the history of English literature relies on Viktor Shklovsky T S Eliot Mikhail Bakhtin and especially Yuri Tynyanov whose main reasoning would be that literature is a system of dominant central and peripheral marginalized elements to us tradition centre versus innovation margin engaged in a battle for supremacy demarginalization and the right to form a new literary system and the development or historical advancement of literature is the substitution of systems Roman Jakobson and French structuralism on the whole later Linda Hutcheon with her system and constant and Bran Nicol with the dominant to say nothing about Itamar Even Zohar and his theory of polysystem to a certain extent Julia Kristeva and even Homi Bhabha as well as our humble contribution by means of the books in the present series we would like to believe maintain Tynyanov's line of thinking and concepts alive which have developed and emerged nowadays more like a kind of neo formalism Routledge Revivals: New Directions in Literary History (1974) Ralph Cohen, 2017 First published in 1974 New Directions in Literary History is a collection of theoretical essays on literary history written by an international group of scholars It is the first comprehensive attempt to present the approaches to literary history that have developed from phenomenology from stylistics to linguistics from Marxist reconsiderations of literature from interdisciplinary studies and from analyses of audience response The essays deal with crucial problems in the study of literature the relation of the contemporary critic to the works of the past the place of method in literary study and the role of readers of different periods in providing a guide to interpretation Works from the Middle Ages to contemporary literature are discussed by the contributors who do not neglect the practical implications of the theoretical issues treated Provided by publisher ENGLISH LITERATURE ADVANCING THROUGH HISTORY 3 - The Seventeenth Century Petru Golban, 2021-12-24 The present book is third in a series of works which aim to expose the complexity and essence power and extent of the major periods movements trends genres authors and literary texts in the history of English literature Following this aim the series will consist of monographs which cover the most important ages and experiences of English literary history including Anglo Saxon or Old English period the Middle Ages the Renaissance the Restoration neoclassicism romanticism Victorian Age and the twentieth century and contemporary literary backgrounds The reader of these volumes will acquire the knowledge of literary terminology along with the theoretical and critical perspectives on certain texts and textual typology belonging to different periods movements trends and genres The reader will also learn about the characteristics and conventions of these literary periods and movements trends and genres main writers and major works and the literary interaction and continuity of the given periods Apart from an important amount of

Comparative Cultural Studies and Latin America Sophia A. McClennen, Earl E. Fitz, 2004 The genesis of Comparative Cultural Studies and Latin America stems from the contributors conviction that given its vitality and excellence Latin American literature deserves a more prominent place in comparative literature publications curricula and disciplinary discussions The editors introduce the volume by first arguing that there still exists in some quarters a lingering bias against literature written in Spanish and Portuguese Secondly the authors assert that by embracing Latin American literature and culture more enthusiastically comparative literature would find itself reinvigorated placed into productive discourse with a host of issues languages literatures and cultures that have too long been paid scant academic attention Following an introduction by the editors the volume contains papers by Gene H Bell Villada on the question of canon by Gordon Brotherston and L cia de S on the First Peoples of the Americas and their literature by Elizabeth Coonrod Mart nez on the Latin American novel of the 1920s by Rom n de la Campa on Latin American Studies by Earl E Fitz on Spanish American and Brazilian literature by Roberto Gonz lez Echevarra on Latin American and comparative literature by Sophia A McClennen on comparative literature and Latin American Studies by Alberto Moreiras on Borges by Julio Ortega on the critical debate about Latin American cultural studies by Christina Marie Tourino on Cuban Americas in New York City by Mario J Vald s on the comparative history of literary cultures in Latin America and by Lois Parkinson Zamora on comparative literature and globalization The volume also contains a bibliography of scholarship in comparative Latin American culture and literature and biographical abstracts of the contributors to the volume

Reading for History in the Damascus Document Maxine L. Grossman, 2018-12-24 Scholars tend to view the Damascus Document as a historical source but a reading of the text in light of contemporary audience oriented literary criticism finds its emphasis in the ideological construction of history and communal identity rather than in the preservation of a historical record An introduction to contemporary literary criticism is followed by a series of thematic readings focusing on historical narrative priestly imagery and gender in the covenant community Each theme is examined in terms of its potential for multiple sometimes contradictory interpretations and for its place in the larger sectarian discourse This study offers an alternative approach to the historiography of ancient Jewish sectarianism acknowledging the presence of competing claims to shared traditions and the potential for changes in textual interpretation over time or among diverse communities

The Critical History of Edgar Allan Poe's The Narrative of Arthur Gordon Pym Ronald C. Harvey, 2015-12-22 The Critical History of Edgar Allan Poe's The Narrative of Arthur Gordon Pym A Dialogue with Unreason traces the complex scattered criticism of Poe's most anomalous work as it has steadily grown in prominence to a central position in the study of Poe and American literature The winding route the criticism of Pym has charted as convoluted as the narrative itself has been a history of disagreement at almost every level at which critics and scholars read texts including the nature and genre of the work the seriousness or levity of the author's intent and its stature as a work of genius hackwork or something in between The unique set of thematic and narrative problems the work poses has eluded every hermeneutic structure brought against it so far consistently undermining the very reading strategies it seems to invite The only comprehensive critical history and bibliography of Pym this study fills a large hole Poe scholars have long felt as it analyzes the ways in which critics and critical camps have attempted to confront rationalize contain or evade its novel and disturbing features In the process the criticism is correlated with the popular reception and the international response Because literary history has entangled no author with his work more than Poe ultimately this book is as much a study of Poe as of Pym At every point therefore this study embeds the critical response to Pym in the history of Poe studies in general as well as in the larger context of American literary theory and history Includes bibliography and index

Poetry and Autobiography Jo Gill, Melanie Waters, 2013-12-16 This collection makes a critical and creative intervention into ongoing debates about the relationship between poetry and autobiography Drawing on recent theories of life writing the essays in the first part of this volume provide new analyses of works by a range of poets dating from the early modern period to the present day Exploring the autobiographical resonances of poems by Martha Moulsworth Mina Loy Anne Sexton Joe Brainard Edward Kamau Braithwaite and Gwyneth Lewis the authors here examine the extent to which discourses of truth and authenticity have been implicated in traditional interpretations of lyric poetry In doing so they endeavour to illuminate the complex intersections and divergences of poetry and autobiography asking what these forms might learn from each other about issues of shared concern from questions of identity and textuality to those of reference and audience The creative reflections which form the second part of the collection develop and respond to these questions in various suggestive and original ways here poetry and prose are used in order to test the relationship between poetry and life writing and to explore issues of memory time place subjectivity and voice This book was published as a special issue of Life Writing
