Glaeser,1990 Topics dealt with Bioscience and biotechnology Industry and technology Safety and environmental protection Geo and space sciences Scientific aspects of collecting and distributing data Legal and social aspects of data dissemination Innovations in data handling Data for Science and Technology Phyllis S. Glaeser,2013-10-22 Data for Science and Technology covers the proceedings of the Seventh International CODATA Conference This text is comprised of 133 chapters with a total of 180 papers from 400 hundred authors which cover CODATA concerned with environmental and energy questions along with problems of data banking and telecommunications network operations This book provides valuable assessment of data and points out alternatives trends and requirements for the future such as production and use of data in pure applied sciences data for the development of human settlements in a dynamic world informatical analysis of scientific research activities and data on our evolutionary heritage Researchers from all scientific fields will find this book a great source reference material since it presents research from various disciplines

Organizing Knowledge Jennifer Rowley,Richard Hartley,2017-05-15 The fourth edition of this standard student text Organizing Knowledge incorporates extensive revisions reflecting the increasing shift towards a networked and digital information environment and its impact on documents information knowledge users and managers Offering a broad based overview of the approaches and tools used in the structuring and dissemination of knowledge it is written in an accessible style and well illustrated with figures and examples The book has been structured into three parts and twelve chapters and has been thoroughly updated throughout Part I discusses the nature structuring and description of knowledge Part II with its five chapters lies at the core of the book focusing as it does on access to information Part III explores different types of knowledge organization systems and considers some of the management issues associated with such systems Each chapter includes learning objectives a chapter summary and a list of references for further reading This is a key introductory text for undergraduate and postgraduate students of information management Manual of Online Search Strategies C.J.

Armstrong,J.A. Large,2018-12-20 Published in 1992 like the first this second edition is not intended as introductory textbook command driven Boolean searching It is targeted at online searchers who already have some knowledge of command languages and may be proficient searchers on databases in one or two subject areas but when required to venture into new and less familiar territory still need guidance It is also offered to end users who possess the subject expertise but lack of information retrieval know how The Manual is offered as a guide to database selection and a navigational aid through the twists and turns of the retrieval maze at least some of the dead ends and backtracking may thereby be avoided This volume written by experts in their various fields deals with the subject coverage and record structures of specific databases offers comparisons between databases context indexing procedures updating policies etc discusses the choice between online and CD ROM sources and between hosts if online is selected and illustrates strategies with numerous search extracts

Advances in Knowledge Discovery and Data Mining Ming-Syan Cheng,Philip S. Yu,Bing Liu,2003-08-01 Knowledge discovery and data mining have become areas of growing significance because of the recent increasing demand for KDD techniques including those used in machine learning databases statistics knowledge acquisition data visualization and high performance computing In view of this and following the success of the five previous PAKDD conferences the sixth Pacific Asia Conference on Knowledge Discovery and Data Mining PAKDD 2002 aimed to provide a forum for the sharing of original research results innovative ideas state of the art developments and implementation experiences in knowledge discovery and data mining among researchers in academic and industrial organizations Much work went into preparing a program of high quality We received 128 submissions Every paper was reviewed by 3 program committee members and 32 were selected as regular papers and 20 were selected as short papers representing a 25% acceptance rate for regular papers The PAKDD 2002 program was further enhanced by two keynote speeches delivered by Vipin Kumar from the Univ of Minnesota and Rajeev Rastogi from AT T In addition PAKDD 2002 was complemented by three tutorials XML and data mining by Kyuseok Shim and Surajit Chadhuri mining customer data across various customer touchpoints at commerce sites by Jaideep Srivastava and data clustering analysis from simple groupings to scalable clustering with constraints by Osmar Zaiane and Andrew Foss The Upper Atmosphere Walter Dieminger,Gerd K. Hartmann,Reinhart Leitinger,2012-12-06 Especially due to the increasing environmental problems there is a need to collect as many data as possible in the upper atmosphere

This book serves as a general multidisciplinary guide and introduction for a more effective use of the large amount of now available data from the Earth's atmosphere. It also shows the problems of the use of large amounts of time series data for basic science as well as for environmental monitoring and the related information systems. The book is aimed for scientists and students interested in the Earth's atmosphere which is vital for the understanding of environmental changes in the global system Earth.

A Question of Balance National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Commission on Physical Sciences, Mathematics, and Applications, Committee for a Study on Promoting Access to Scientific and Technical Data for the Public Interest, 2000-01-15. New legal approaches such as the European Union's 1996 Directive on the Legal Protection of Databases and other legal initiatives now being considered in the United States at the federal and state level are threatening to compromise public access to scientific and technical data available through computerized databases. Lawmakers are struggling to strike an appropriate balance between the rights of database rights holders who are concerned about possible commercial misappropriation of their products and public interest users of the data such as researchers, educators, and libraries. A Question of Balance examines this balancing act. The committee concludes that because database rights holders already enjoy significant legal, technical, and market-based protections, the need for statutory protection has not been sufficiently substantiated. Nevertheless, although the committee opposes the creation of any strong new protective measures, it recognizes that some additional limits against wholesale misappropriation of databases may be necessary. In particular, a new properly scoped and focused U.S. statute might provide a reasonable alternative to the European Union's highly protectionistic database directive. Such legislation could then serve as a legal model for an international treaty in this area. The book recommends a number of guiding principles for such possible legislation as well as related policy actions for the administration.

Modeling Complex Data for Creating Information Jacques-Emile Dubois, Nahum Gershon, 2012-12-06. J. E. DUBOIS and N. GERSHON. As with Volume 1 in this series, this book was inspired by the Symposium on Communications and Computer Aided Systems held at the 14th International CODATA Conference in September 1994 in Chambéry, France. This book was conceived and influenced by the discussions at the Symposium and most of the contributions were written following the Conference. Whereas the first volume dealt with the numerous challenges facing the information revolution, especially its communication aspects, this one provides an insight into the recent tools provided by computer science for handling the complex aspects of scientific and technological data. This volume, Modeling Complex Data for Creating Information, is concerned with real and virtual objects often involved with data handling processes encountered frequently in modeling physical phenomena and systems behavior. Topics concerning modeling complex data for creating information include: Object-oriented approach for structuring data and knowledge; Imprecision and uncertainty in information systems; Fractal modeling and shape and surface processing; Symmetry applications for molecular data. The choice of these topics reflects recent developments in information systems technologies. One example is object-oriented technology Recently research development and applications have been using object oriented modeling for computer handling of data and data management Object oriented technology offers increasingly easy to use software applications and operating systems As a result science and technology research and applications can now provide more flexible and effective services
