

The background of the book cover is a painting of a Catskill landscape. It features rolling hills and mountains in shades of blue and purple, a river or stream winding through the valley, and a stone wall in the foreground. The sky is a mix of white and yellow, suggesting a bright, hazy day. The overall style is impressionistic.

Essays on Catskill Land and Lore Mapping the Adirondacks Thatcher Hogan, 2024-09-15 New York State's famous Adirondack landscape is immense spanning over six million acres of public forests lakes rivers mountains and private lands In full color featuring hundreds of detailed maps and photos Mapping the Adirondacks celebrates it all with the first clear account of the original surveyor who explored and fully comprehended it Verplanck Colvin Everywhere below Colvin wrote were lakes and mountains so different from all maps yet so immovably true His monumental accomplishment helped motivate the citizens of New York in 1894 to legally protect it for generations to come As an eighteen year old budding travel writer explorer and surveyor Colvin began personally mapping a half million acres of true Adirondack wilderness in 1865 Then shortly after the state began partially funding his audacious project Colvin reinvented himself as the Superintendent of a Survey of the Adirondack Wilderness and hired another equally intrepid surveyor to help his ever dependable friend Mills Blake They extended the scope and granularity of their survey several times hired hundreds of Adirondack guides and other talented people to assist and devoted twenty eight years to the challenge of professionally surveying the Adirondacks Author Thatcher Hogan has carefully gleaned narratives and illustrations from Colvin's notoriously dense annual reports and reassembled them with additional historic photographs to chronicle a compelling true story of rugged exploration After a novice's explanation of Colvin and Blake's surveying terms the book follows their progress with one hundred of Hogan's new maps and summit views The Adirondack landscape remains formidable and fascinating many of the views are those that Colvin first discovered Along the way Hogan uncovers a story of intense ambition physical hardships and a weatherproof friendship The state's meager investment in their work paid off many times over Colvin and Blake's surveys provided New York with the incontrovertible evidence needed to prevail in hundreds of complex Adirondack land disputes Most significantly it enabled the state to consolidate and expand its extraordinary Adirondack Forest Preserves the prized mountains forests and waters of today's beloved Park History of Greene County, New York, 1884 The Story of a Forest Robert Kuhn McGregor, 2018-02-13 The re-established forests of the Upper Delaware exist as a living reminder of centuries of both exploitation and good intentions Emerging after the last glaciation they were first modified by Native Americans to promote hunting and limited agriculture The forests began to disappear as Europeans clear cut farmland and fed sawmills and tanneries The advent of the railroad accelerated demand and within 30 years industry had consumed virtually every mature tree in the valley leaving barren hillsides subject to erosion and flooding Even as unchecked cutting continued conservation efforts began to save what little remained A century and a half later a forest for the 21st century has emerged an ecological patchwork protected by a web of governmental agencies yet still subject to danger from humans Murder in the Catskills Norman James Van Valkenburgh, 1992 Contemporary Archaeology and the City Laura McAtackney, Krysta

Ryzewski, 2017-07-14 Contemporary Archaeology and the City foregrounds the archaeological study of post industrial and other urban transformations through a diverse international collection of case studies Over the past decade contemporary archaeology has emerged as a dynamic force for dissecting and contextualizing the material complexities of present day societies Contemporary archaeology challenges conventional anthropological and archaeological conceptions of the past by pushing temporal boundaries closer to if not into the present The volume is organized around three themes that highlight the multifaceted character of urban transitions in present day cities creativity ruination and political action The case studies offer comparative perspectives on transformative global urban processes in local contexts through research conducted in the struggling post industrial cities of Detroit Belfast Indianapolis Berlin Liverpool Bel m and post Apartheid Cape Town as well as the thriving urban centres of Melbourne New York City London Chicago and Istanbul Together the volume contributions demonstrate how the contemporary city is an urban palimpsest comprised by archaeological assemblages of the built environment the surface and buried sub surface that are traces of the various pasts entangled with one another in the present This volume aims to position the city as one of the most important and dynamic arenas for archaeological studies of the contemporary by presenting a range of theoretically engaged case studies that highlight some of the major issues that the study of contemporary cities pose for archaeologists
