Long Liberated Ladies:

Bad Girls Go Everywhere Jennifer Scanlon, 2010-08-31 The biography of the revolutionary magazine editor who created the Cosmo Girl before Sex and the City's Carrie Bradshaw was even born. As the author of the iconic Sex and the Single Girl 1962 and the editor in chief of Cosmopolitan magazine for over three decades Helen Gurley Brown 1922-2012 changed how women thought about sex, money, and their bodies in a way that resonates in our culture today. In Jennifer Scanlon's widely acclaimed biography the award-winning scholar reveals Brown's incredible life story from her escape from her humble beginnings in the Ozarks to her eyebrow-raising exploits as a young woman in New York City and her late-blooming career as the world's first lipstick feminist. A mesmerizing tribute to a legend, Bad Girls Go Everywhere will appeal to everyone from Sex and the City and Mad Men fans to students of women's history and media studies.

Women Remember Anne Smith, 2013-05-07 In this fascinating book originally published in 1989, Anne Smith records interviews with a group of octogenarian women covering all social classes and a great variety of experience. She allows the women to speak for themselves, bringing to light the submerged history of ordinary women's lives. This book should be of interest to a wide general readership as well as students of British social history and women's studies.

The Naked Woman Desmond Morris, 2005 Internationally bestselling author and world famous human behaviorist Desmond Morris turns his attention to the female form, taking the reader on a guided tour of the female body from head to toe. Highlighting the evolutionary functions of various physiological traits, Morris's study explores the various forms of enhancement and constraint that human societies have developed in the quest for the perfect female form. This is very much vintage Desmond Morris delivered in his trademark voice: direct, clear, focused, and communicating what is often complex detail in simple language. In THE NAKED WOMAN Desmond builds on his unrivalled experience as an observer of the human animal while tackling one of his most fascinating and challenging subjects to date.

Publisher description

The Other Country Mṛṇāla Pāṇḍe, 2011 A collection of essays on some of the most vexing issues troubling Indian society today.

Resources in Women's Educational Equity, Women, Wellness, and the Media

Margaret C. Wiley, Barbara Barnett, 2009-05-27 As a former nurse and someone who now teaches Women's Studies, I have long been interested in the politics of health care. Today most Americans would agree that our health care system is broken. We pay more for health care than any nation in the world, yet in 2007 the World Health Organization ranked us as 37th in quality of health care. Forty-six million Americans are now without health insurance. What is happening here? And just where are all these dollars going? In Women, Wellness, and the Media, thirteen scholars from a wide range of disciplines examine the relationship between media stereotypes and women's health. They look at several images of women: the perfect mom, the straight bikini-clad sixteen-year-old blond who has been air-brushed to perfection, the wild black Jezebel who struts her stuff, and the shriveled-up menopausal crone. The writers point out that these images are making millions of dollars for all sorts of businesses ranging from the pharmaceutical industry to women's magazines. Scholars have long noted that stereotypes disempower women in Women's Wellness and the Media; we see how these stereotypes actually harm women's health while turning millions in corporate profits.

Master The Nursing School and Allied Health Entrance Exams Marion F. Gooding, 2008-01-17 Prepares the reader for the entrance exams required by nursing and allied health programs offering reviews of subjects tested and practice exams.

Women Who Invented the Sixties Steve Golin, 2022-09-20 While there were many protests in the 1950s against racial segregation, economic inequality, urban renewal, McCarthyism, and the nuclear buildup, the movements that took off in the early 1960s were qualitatively different. They were sustained, not momentary; they were national, not just local; they changed public opinion rather than being ignored. Women Who Invented the Sixties tells the story of how four women helped define the 1960s and made a lasting impression for decades to follow. In 1960, Ella Baker played the key role in the founding of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which became an essential organization for students during the civil rights movement and the model for the antiwar and women's movements. In 1961, Jane Jacobs published The Death and Life of Great American Cities, changing the shape of urban planning irrevocably. In 1962, Rachel Carson published Silent Spring, creating the modern environmental movement. And in 1963, Betty Friedan wrote The Feminine Mystique, which sparked second-wave feminism and created lasting changes for women. Their four separate interventions helped together to end the 1950s and invent the 1960s. Women Who Invented the Sixties situates each of these four women in the 1950s: Baker's early activism with the NAACP and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Jacobs's work with Architectural Forum and her growing involvement in neighborhood protest; Carson's conservation efforts and publications; and Friedan's work as a labor journalist and the discrimination she faced before exploring their contributions to the 1960s and the movements they each helped shape.

Male and Female Made in God's Image Frances O'Dair, 2019-04-04 In this era of distorted ideas about our inherent roles, identities, and purposes as men and women, it has never been as important that we seek reconciliation in marriage and families so there can be a more rational approach to the real problems the whole world suffers. We must disseminate God's truth and extinguish the lies and myths that Satan has embedded into the hearts and minds of many people. Building on these ideas in Male and Female Made in God's Image, author Frances O'Dair offers her perspective on dating, marriage, and family, which she believes reflects the experiences of most married couples before the sexual revolution of the 1960s. She encourages men and women to reflect on the wise or self-serving natures of their past dating and mating choices. If we can stop the reckless self-gratifying use of human sexuality with our children, our loving direction and understanding of God's truth can set them free from the temptations that have been passed down to recent generations. We must be ready to admit that sexual freedom is a myth and isn't intended for the well-being of men, women, children, and the unborn. This faith-inspired treatise explores the true source of happiness, meaning, and fulfillment that God has planned for everyone within the sacrament of marriage and the family circle.

Education and the Female Superhero Andrew L. Grunzke, 2019-12-17 Considering a variety of female superhero narratives including World War II era Wonder Woman comics the 1970s television programs The Secrets of Isis and The Bionic Woman and the more recent Buffy the Vampire Slayer Education and the Female Superhero Slayers Cyborgs Sorority Sisters and Schoolteachers argues that they share a vision of education as the path to female empowerment In his analysis Andrew L Grunzke examines female superheroes who are literally teachers or students exploring examples of female superheroes whose alter egos work as schoolteachers or attend school during the workday and fight evildoers when they are outside the classroom Taking a broader view of education Grunzke argues that the superheroine in popular media often sees and articulates her own role as being an educator In these narratives female superheroes often take it upon themselves to teach self defense tactics prevent victimization and encourage people especially female victims to pursue formal education Moreover Grunzke shows how superheroines tend to see their relationship with their adversaries as rehabilitative and educative trying to set them on the correct path rather than merely subdue or dominate them

Women of Color and the Reproductive Rights Movement Jennifer Nelson, 2003-10 Uncovers the truth behind the ideas struggles and eventually success of Black and Puerto Rican Nationalists regarding key feminist issues of the 1960s 1970s and 1980s While most people believe that the movement to secure voluntary reproductive control for women centered solely on abortion rights for many women abortion was not the only or even primary focus Jennifer Nelson tells the story of the feminist struggle for legal abortion and reproductive rights in the 1960s 1970s and early 1980s through the particular contributions of women of color She explores the relationship between second wave feminists who were concerned with a woman's right to choose Black and Puerto Rican Nationalists who were concerned that Black and Puerto Rican women have as many children as possible for the revolution and women of color themselves who negotiated between them Contrary to popular belief Nelson shows that women of color were able to successfully remake the mainstream women's liberation and abortion rights movements by appropriating select aspects of Black Nationalist politics including addressing sterilization abuse access to affordable childcare and healthcare and ways to raise children out of poverty for feminist discourse

Nigerian Film Culture and the Idea of the Nation Tsaior, James Tar, Ugochukwu, Françoise, 2017-09-17 Collectively the essays brought together in this book represent a discursive confluence on Nollywood as a local film culture with a global character aspiration and reach The governing concern of the book is that texts including film texts are animated by a particular sociology and anthropology which gives them concrete existence and meaning The book argues that Nollywood the Nigerian video film text is deeply rooted in the sub soil of its social and cultural milieu Nollywood is therefore engaged in the relentless negotiation and renegotiation of the everyday lives of the people against the backdrop of their cultural traditions social contradictions and the politics of their ethnic national identity longing and belonging The essays weave an intricate and delicate argument about the critical role of Nollywood to the idea of nationhood and the logic of its narration with implications for language politics and culture in Africa The book is a valuable addition to the critical discourse on the important place of film and cinema studies in national engineering processes
