Fate Unknown Dan Stone,2023-06-06 Dan Stone tells the story of the last great unknown archive of Nazism the International Tracing Service Set up by the Allies at the end of World War II the ITS has worked until today to find missing persons and to aid survivors with restitution claims or to reunite them with loved ones From retracing the steps of the death marches with the aim of discovering the burial sites of those murdered across the towns and villages of Central

Europe to knocking on doors of German foster homes to find the children of forced labourers Fate Unknown uncovers the history of this remarkable archive and its more than 30 million documents Under the leadership of the International Committee of the Red Cross the tracing service became one of the most secretive of postwar institutions unknown even to historians of the period Delving deeply into the archival material Stone examines the little known sub camps and after the war survivors experience of displaced persons camps bringing to life remarkable stories of tracing Fate Unknown combs the archives to reveal the real horror of the Holocaust by following survivors horrific journeys through the Nazi camp system and its aftermath The postwar period was an age of shortage of resources bitterness and revenge Yet the ITS tells a different story of international collaboration of commitment to justice and of helping survivors and their relatives in the context of Cold War suspicion These stories speak to a remarkable attempt by the ITS before the Holocaust was a matter of worldwide interest to carry out a programme of ethical repair and to counteract some of the worst effects of the Nazis crimes

Life with a Star Jiří Weil, Rita Klímová, 1998 Set during the Nazi occupation of Prague Life with a Star records the day to day life of Josef Roubicek an ex bank clerk who discovers that the prosaic world he has always inhabited is suddenly off limits to him because he is a Jew One of the most powerful works to emerge from the Holocaust it is a fierce and necessary work of art The New York Times

Life and Loss in the Shadow of the Holocaust Rebecca Boehling, Uta Larkey, 2011-06-16 A family's recently discovered correspondence provides the inspiration for this fascinating and deeply moving account of Jewish family life before during and after the Holocaust Rebecca Boehling and Uta Larkey reveal how the Kaufmann Steinberg family was pulled apart under the Nazi regime and dispersed over three continents The family's unique eight way correspondence across two generations brings into sharp focus the dilemma of Jews in Nazi Germany facing the painful decisions of when if and to where they should emigrate The authors capture the family members fluctuating emotions of hope optimism resignation and despair as well as the day to day concerns experiences and dynamics of family life despite increasing persecution and impending deportation Headed by two sisters who were among the first female business owners in Essen the family was far from conventional and their story contributes new dimensions to our understanding of Jewish life in Germany and in exile during these dark years

Wayward Threads Robert B. Goldmann, 1997 This is an English language publication of a Holocaust memoir with a strong American dimension It tells the story of Robert Goldmann's youth in a small village in Germany his experience in the early Nazi years in Frankfurt his forced emigration in 1939 and his subsequent career in the United States including service with the Voice of America brushes with McCarthyism and a brief tenure as head of the European bureau of the Anti Defamation League

My Gaze Is Turned Inward Gertrud Kolmar, 2004-08-26 So a picture of Gertrud Kolmar a gifted Jewish writer struggling to sustain her art and family emerges from these eloquent and allusive letters Written in the stolen moments before her day as a forced laborer in a munitions factory began the letters tell of Kolmar's move from the family home in Finkenkrug to a three room flat in Berlin which she and her father must soon share with other displaced Jews They describe her factory work as a learning experience and assert in the face of ever worsening conditions that true art never dependent on comfort or peace is capable of triumphing over time and place

Generation Exodus Walter Laqueur, 2003-10-23 This text is a generational history of the young people whose lives were irrevocably shaped by the rise of the Nazis Half a million Jews lived in Germany when Hitler came to power in 1933 Over the next decade thousands would flee Among these refugees teens and young adults formed a remarkable generation They were old enough to appreciate the loss of their homeland and the experience of flight but often young and flexible enough to survive and even flourish in new environments This generation has produced such disparate figures as Henry Kissinger and Dr Ruth Westheimer Walter Laqueur has drawn on interviews published and unpublished memoirs and his own experiences as a member of this group of refugees to paint a vivid and moving portrait of Generation Exodus

Lala's Story Lala Fishman, Steven Weingartner, 1997 Lala a blonde Aryan looking Polish Jew details her struggles to survive the Nazi occupation by passing as a Christian Gentile The author now lives in Skokie IL

The Jewish War Henryk Grynberg, Celina Wieniewska, Richard Lourie, 2001 To maintain the facade the boy adopts a false life where his father is a captured officer and he himself must study catechism and take first communion

Waiting for Hope Angelika Königseder, Juliane Wetzel, 2001 After the defeat of Germany in World War II more than a hundred thousand Jewish survivors of the Holocaust were transported to camps maintained by the allies for displaced persons DPs In this new history historians Angelika Königseder and Juliane Wetzel offer a social and cultural history of the post WWII displaced persons camps Starting with the discovery of death camps by Allied forces Königseder and Wetzel describe the inadequate preparations made for the survivors The soldiers were ill equipped to deal with the physical wreckage and mental anguish of their charges but American rabbis soon arrived to perform invaluable work helping the survivors cope The historians also devote attention to autonomous Jewish life in and near the camps theater groups and orchestras prospered schools were founded a tuberculosis hospital and clinic for DPs was established and underground organizations handled illegal immigration to Israel and trained soldiers to fight in Palestine Drawing on original documents and the work of other historians Waiting for Hope sheds light on a largely unknown period in postwar Jewish history and shows that the suffering of the survivors did not end with the war

Heshel's Kingdom Dan Jacobson, 1999 The Orthodox rabbi Heshel Melamed's sudden death by heart attack in 1919 set his widow and children free to leave Lithuania the country that he insisted be their home In light of the Holocaust that took place in Europe twenty years later his death became ironically a gift of life Heshel Melamed's family left Europe before the war and settled safely in South Africa In Heshel's Kingdom Dan Jacobson recounts his journey in the 1990s to post Communist Lithuania where he searched for traces of his grandfather Heshel's world More than a genealogical narrative however this deeply personal memoir becomes at times a philosophical tableau of secularism religion family and modern Judaism
