Love and Struggle in Mao's Thought Raymond L. Whitehead,1977 Carl Schmitt, Mao Zedong and the Politics of Transition Qi Zheng,2015-10-22 This book develops a new way of reading and benefiting from Schmitt's legal and political theories. Zedong Mao,1990 New and annotated translations of philosophical essays written by Mao Zedong in 1937 which have come to be regarded as a cornerstone in the development of Chinese Marxism. The editor analyzes their textual philosophical and historical significance. World Christianity and Marxism Denis R. Janz,1998-04-09 Denis Janz argues that the encounter with Marxism has been the defining event for twentieth century Christianity. No other worldview shook Christianity more dramatically and no other movement had as profound an impact on so many. Now the Cold War is over and as we approach the end of the century we need, Janz says, to ask ourselves what happened. This book is the first unified and comprehensive attempt to analyze this historic meeting between these two antagonistic worlds of thought and action. The intellectual foundation of this antagonism is to be found in Karl Marx himself and thus the book begins with an account of Marx's assault on Christianity. All the diverse philosophical and political manifestations of Marxism were ultimately rooted in Marx's thought and supporters based their greater or lesser hostilities toward Christianity on their reading of his critique. Janz follows this with an overview of Christian responses to Marx extending from the mid 19th century to the onset of the Cold War. He argues that within this time frame Christianity's negation of Marx was not absolute: the loud no to Marx bore with it an important if muted yes. With this intellectual groundwork in place, Janz turns to an examination of the encounter as it unfolded in specific national contexts: the United States, the Soviet Union, Poland, Nicaragua, Cuba, China, and Albania. The experiences of these countries varied widely from Poland, where Christianity maintained its strongest independence, to Nicaragua, where a Christian alliance with Marxism contributed to revolutionary change, to Albania, where a Stalinist government attempted to abolish religion entirely. From this survey emerges the evidence that world Christianity has clearly internalized some of the prominent features of its antagonist, suggesting that the Marxist project is not as utterly defunct as many have assumed.

Black Womanist Ethics Katie G. Cannon,2006-02-09 This study articulates the distinctive moral character of the Afro American women's community. Beginning with a reconstructive history of the Afro American woman's situation in America, the work next traces the emergence of the Black woman's literary tradition and explains its importance in expressing the moral wisdom of Black women. The life and work of Zora Neale Hurston is examined in detail for her unique contributions to the moral tradition of the Afro American woman. A final chapter initiates a promising exchange between the works of Hurston and those of Howard Thurman and Martin Luther King Jr. A pioneering and multi-dimensional work, Black Womanist Ethics is at once a study in ethics, gender, and race. Jing Feng ,1974 Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States.
