Commerce Today ,1971 America's Founding Food Keith Stavely,Kathleen Fitzgerald,2006-03-08 From baked beans to apple cider from clam chowder to pumpkin pie Keith Stavely and Kathleen Fitzgerald s culinary history reveals the complex and colorful origins of New England foods and cookery Featuring hosts of stories and recipes derived from generations of New Englanders of diverse backgrounds America s Founding Food chronicles the region s cuisine from the English settlers first encounter with Indian corn in the early seventeenth century to the nostalgic marketing of New England dishes in the first half of the twentieth century Focusing on the traditional foods of the region including beans pumpkins seafood meats baked goods and beverages such as cider and rum the authors show how New Englanders procured preserved and prepared their sustaining dishes Placing the New England culinary experience in the broader context of British and American history and culture Stavely and Fitzgerald demonstrate the importance of New England s foods to the formation of American identity while dispelling some of the myths arising from patriotic sentiment At once a sharp assessment and a savory recollection America s Founding Food sets out the rich story of the American dinner table and provides a new way to appreciate American history Rhetorical Landscapes in America Gregory Clark,2021-11-24 A panoramic explanation of civic tourism and the shaping of a national identity At the same time a reading of Kenneth Burke and of tourist landscapes in America Gregory Clark s new study explores the rhetorical power connected with American tourism Looking specifically at a time when citizens of the United States first took to rail and then highway to become sightseers in their own country Clark traces the rhetorical function of a wide ranging set of tourist experiences He explores how the symbolic experiences Americans share as tourists have helped residents of a vast and diverse nation adopt a national identity In doing so he suggests that the rhetorical power of a national culture is wielded not only by public discourse but also by public experiences Clark examines places in the American landscape that have facilitated such experiences including New York City Shaker villages Yellowstone National Park the Lincoln Highway San Francisco s 1915 Panama Pacific International Exposition and the Grand Canyon He examines the rhetorical power of these sites to transform private individuals into public citizens and he evaluates a national culture that teaches Americans to experience certain places as potent symbols of national community

Invoking Burke's concept of identification to explain such rhetorical encounters Clark considers Burke's lifelong study of symbols linguistic and otherwise and their place in the construction and transformation of individual identity Clark turns to Burke's work to expand our awareness of the rhetorical resources that lead individuals within a community to adopt a collective identity and he considers the implications of nineteenth and twentieth century tourism for both visual rhetoric and the rhetoric of display Proceedings of the 1994 Northeastern Recreation Research Symposium Gail A.
