of domestic and communal spaces that provide respite from migratory paths negotiate transnational relationships or establish a new home In doing so we explore literary texts that question challenge and deepen our understanding of the experience of migration through the use of space and place The texts in question examine three levels of transnational spaces intimate spaces such as family personal growth or sexuality inherited spaces reflected in generational conflicts religious identity and inherited histories and national spaces that look at issues of broader national identities The texts we examine engage with transnational communities within the United States and the ways in which narratives reimagine new space to negotiate change and create new norms These narratives can sometimes bridge both cultures or can sometimes result in a violent sense of displacement Each chapter problematizes a different aspect of transcultural adaptation and the geographic ties of each community focus reflect the multicultural reality of the U S with connections to Asia the Caribbean Europe the Middle East and Latin America Swapo's Struggle for Namibia, 1960-1991 Lauren Dobell,1998 Brazil and the Transnational Human Rights Movement, 1964-1985 Anna Grimaldi,2023-02-07 Brazil and Transnational Human Rights Movement 1964 1985 explores how solidarity for Brazil contributed to the global human rights movement of the 1970s Through protests petitions posters and numerous other cultural artistic and media based campaigns solidarity for Brazil popularised the language of human rights and prompted the international community to join the fight against the country s military regime But solidarity for Brazil also reframed the debate on human rights itself stretching the concept beyond mainstream interpretations that emphasised the violation of basic individual rights such as the use of torture and political imprisonment to also incorporate social and economic rights inequality indigenous minorities and the human rights responsibilities of multinational companies and development projects Crucial to this process were multiple networks of exiles catholic activists journalists and academics between Brazil and Western Europe who drew from the Latin American experience to challenge mainstream narratives of human rights from below The Jacobites at Urbino E.
