Coleman,2012-04-01 Globalization includes complex processes easy to identify but difficult to explain Why for instance are globalizing processes so unevenly distributed between poor and wealthy countries What effect does this uneven distribution have on the everyday lives of ordinary people The contributors to this volume find answers to these questions in the Mediterranean a region divided between the people of the north shore who are engaged with Europe and modernized and their poorer neighbours to the south who struggle daily to attain the same standards of living and modes of governance as their more Westernized neighbours In these two regions divergent histories economies cultural and linguistic backgrounds education systems and political structures lead to explanations not only for uneven globalization but also for the wave of

Algeria Martin Evans,John Phillips,2008-01-14 After liberating itself from French colonial rule in one of the twentieth century s most brutal wars of independence Algeria became a standard bearer for the non aligned movement By the 1990s however its revolutionary political model had collapsed degenerating into a savage conflict between the military and Islamist guerillas that killed some 200 000 citizens In this lucid and gripping account Martin Evans and John Phillips explore Algeria s recent and very bloody history demonstrating how the high hopes of independence turned into anger as young Algerians grew increasingly alienated Unemployed frustrated by the corrupt military regime and excluded by the West the post independence generation needed new heroes and some found them in Osama bin Laden and the rising Islamist movement Evans and Phillips trace the complex roots of this alienation arguing that Algeria s predicament political instability pressing economic and social problems bad governance a disenfranchised youth is emblematic of an arc of insecurity stretching from Morocco to Indonesia Looking back at the pre colonial and colonial periods they place Algeria s complex present into historical context demonstrating how successive governments have manipulated the past for their own ends The result is a fractured society with a complicated and bitter relationship with the Western powers and an increasing tendency to export terrorism to France America and beyond
