these pages the reader will not find picturesque folksy or touristy renditions of Hispanic culture. Instead, Short Fiction by Hispanic Writers of the United States brings together works that are clear, incisive, and authentic representations of Hispanic life in the United States. The selections are as diverse as Hispanic culture itself and as varied as the personalities of their authors. Here are Max Martínez's outrageous challenge of racial and social structures, Roberta Fernández's construction of Hispanic women's aesthetics, Roberto Fernández's subversion of the English language, Nicholasa Mohr's humorous attack on patriarchy, and Judith Ortiz Cofer's poetic evocation of childhood and biculturalism. This collection engages in aesthetic and cultural experience that will result in a redefined canon and a new identity for the country as a whole. They are refocusing our perception of ourselves as a people and a culture. The pressure and the commitment to do so, of course, make for excellence and innovation in literary expression. It also makes for enjoyable reading. Short Fiction by Hispanic Writers of the United States is recommended for the general fiction reader and for use in high school and college literature classes in search of a multicultural perspective.

Family Madness Thomas Keneally, 1993-10. The fatal and desperate politics of Eastern Europe collide with the comparative innocence and complacency of suburban Australian life in this powerful and disturbing love story about two families and the madness that invades their lives. Terry Delaney's comfortable life is upset when he falls in love with Danielle Kabbel, daughter of charismatic emigre Rudi Kabbel, and succumbs to Rudi's obsessive visions of approaching doom.

The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Latino Literature Nicolás Kanellos, 2008-08-30. From East L.A. to the barrios of New York City and the Cuban neighborhoods of Miami, Latino literature or literature written by Hispanic peoples of the United States is the written word of North America's vibrant Latino communities. Emerging from the fusion of Spanish, North American, and African cultures, it has always been part of the American mosaic. Written for students and general readers, this encyclopedia surveys the vast landscape of Latino literature from the colonial era to the present. Aiming to be as broad and inclusive as possible, the encyclopedia covers all of native North American Latino literature as well as that created by authors originating in virtually every country of Spanish America and Spain. Included are more than 700 alphabetically arranged entries written by roughly 60 expert contributors. While most of the entries are on writers such as Julia Alvarez, Sandra Cisneros, Lorna Dee Cervantes, Oscar Hijuelos, and Piri Thomas, others cover genres, ethnic and national literatures, movements, historical topics and events, themes, concepts, associations, and organizations, and publishers and magazines. Special attention is given to the cultural, political, social, and historical contexts in which Latino literature has developed. Entries cite works for further reading, and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography. The encyclopedia gives special attention to the social, cultural, historical, and political contexts of Latino literature, thus making it an ideal tool to help students use literature to learn about history and cultural diversity.

Neo-Victorian Families Christian Gutleben, 2011. Tracing representations of reimagined Victorian families in literature, film, and television and social discourse, this collection the second volume in Rodopi's Neo Victorian Series analyses the historical trajectory of persistent but increasingly contested cultural myths that coalesce around the heterosexual couple and nuclear family as the supposed normative foundation of communities and nations past and present. It sheds new light on the significance of families as a source of fluctuating cultural capital deployed in diverse arenas from political debates, social policy and identity politics to equal rights activism and analyses how residual as well as emergent ideologies of family are mediated and critiqued by contemporary arts and popular culture. This volume will be of interest to researchers and students of neo Victorian studies as well as scholars in contemporary literature and film studies, cultural studies and the history of the family. Situating the nineteenth century family both as a site of debilitating trauma and the means of ethical resistance against multivalent forms of oppression, neo Victorian texts display a fascinating proliferation of alternative family models, albeit overshadowed by the apparent recalcitrance of familial ideologies to the same historical changes. neo Victorianism reflects and seeks to promote within the cultural imaginary.

Thomas Keneally's Career and the Literary Machine Paul Sharrad, 2019-08-30 Booker Prize winner and Living National Treasure Thomas Keneally still divides critical opinion: he is both a morally challenging stylist and a commercial hack, a wise commentator on society and a garrulous leprechaun. Such judgements are located in the cultural politics of Australia but also linked to ideas about what a literary career should look like. Thomas Keneally's Career and the Literary Machine charts Keneally's production and reception across his three major markets, noting clashes between national interests and international reach, continuity of themes and variety of topics, settings and genres, the writer's interests and the publishers' push to create a brand, celebrity fame and literary reputation, and the tussle around fiction, history, allegory and the middlebrow. Keneally is seen as playing a long game across several events rather than honing one specialist skill, a strategy that has sustained for more than 50 years his ambition to earn a living from writing.

Heads of Families at the First Census of the United States Taken in the Year 1790: Rhode Island United States. Bureau of the Census, 1966 A Critical Collection on Alejandro Morales Marc García-Martínez, Francisco A. Lomeli, 2025-04-29 Silver Medalist at the 24th International Latino Book Awards Alejandro Morales is a pioneer of Chicana and Chicano literature and the author of groundbreaking works including The Brick People, The Rag Doll Plagues and River of Angels. His work often experimental, was one of the first to depict harsh urban realities in the barrios, a break from much of the Chicana and Chicano fiction that had been published previously. Morales' relentless work has grown over the decades into a veritable menagerie of cultural testimonies, fantastic counterhistories, magical realism, challenging metanarratives and flesh and blood aesthetic innovation. The fourteen essays included in this compendium examine Morales' novels and short stories. The editors also include a critical introduction, an interview between Morales, the editors and fellow author Daniel Olivas, and a new comprehensive bibliography of Morales' writings and works about him: books, articles, book reviews, online resources and dissertations. A Critical Collection on Alejandro Morales Forging an Alternative Chicano Fiction is a must read for understanding and
