Systemic Management for Intelligent Organizations Stefan N. Grösser, René Zeier, 2012-10-17

The last two decades increasingly have challenged the field of management by confronting it with rapidly growing levels of dynamism, interconnectedness and complexity. Systems-based management approaches, their promise already proven, offer great potentials for influencing and coping with this development. This collection of essays offers ideas and exemplary case studies from experts in systemic management, organizational cybernetics and system dynamics for meeting the challenges in socio-economic systems. This book was compiled to honor the academic achievement of Markus Schwaninger, a leading protagonist in developing the field of systemic management and organizational cybernetics. His stature in the field is demonstrated in the forewords by Raul Espejo and John Sterman. The efforts of 18 researchers and practitioners all closely related to Markus Schwaninger offer conceptual and empirical approaches that will allow managers and advanced students of the management profession to analyze, understand and design intelligent organizations. The book weaves its content from both theory and practice and offers hints for improving a variety of organizations, both private and public, profit and non-profit, and large and small.

Borobudur as Cultural Landscape Kiyoko Kanki, Laretna T. Adishakti, Titin Fatimah, 2015. Borobudur is a 9th-century Buddhist temple site in Central Java, Indonesia. As a cultural landscape, Borobudur is a site of active discussion. Since the start of the International Field School on Borobudur Cultural Landscape Heritage, the site of Borobudur as a cultural landscape, including its mountains, fields, villages and historic tangible and intangible items, has been considered in light of the role and potential role local communities and organizations have in conservation and the living environment. How can Borobudur as cultural landscape be described? How are diverse activities related? How can individuals contribute to its sustainability? This comprehensive volume considers these questions and presents discussions by academics and local community members. The book considers cultural landscape heritage, saujana heritage and discusses the idea of evolutive conservation. It presents geographical, geological and ecological perspectives. It also investigates the ancient lake that once existed as well as the topography and landscapes. The book looks at the regional planning system and describes the history and potential of local communities and organizations with a focus on tourism and development. Subject: Asian Studies, Indonesian Studies, Conservation, Environmental Studies.
