Manila, 1900-1941 Daniel F. Doeppers, 1984 Manila, nineteen hundred - 1941 Manila, 1900-1941 Daniel F. Doeppers, 1984 Colonial Legacies Anne E. Booth, 2018-03-31 It is well known that Taiwan and South Korea both former Japanese colonies achieved rapid growth and industrialization after 1960 The performance of former European and American colonies Malaysia Singapore Burma Vietnam Laos Cambodia Indonesia and the Philippines has been less impressive Some scholars have attributed the difference to better infrastructure and greater access to education in Japan s colonies Anne Booth examines and critiques such arguments in this ambitious comparative study of economic development in East and Southeast Asia from the beginning of the twentieth century until the 1960s Booth takes an in depth look at the nature and consequences of colonial policies for a wide range of factors including the growth of export oriented agriculture and the development of manufacturing industry She evaluates the impact of colonial policies on the growth and diversification of the market economy and on the welfare of indigenous populations Indicators such as educational enrollments infant mortality rates and crude death rates are used to compare living standards across East and Southeast Asia in the 1930s Her analysis of the impact that Japan s Greater Asian Co Prosperity Sphere and later invasion and conquest had on the region and the living standards of its people leads to a discussion of the painful and protracted transition to independence following Japan s defeat Throughout Booth emphasizes the great variety of economic and social policies pursued by the various colonial governments and the diversity of outcomes Lucidly and accessibly written Colonial Legacies offers a balanced and elegantly nuanced exploration of a complex historical reality It will be a lasting contribution to scholarship on the modern economic history of East and Southeast Asia and of special interest to those concerned with the dynamics of development and the history of colonial regimes

Booty Capitalism Paul D. Hutchcroft, 2019-04-15 In the early postwar years the Philippines seemed poised for long term economic success within the region only Japan had a higher standard of living By the early 1990s however the country was dismissed as a perennial aspirant to the ranks of newly industrializing economies unable to convert its substantial developmental assets into developmental success Major reforms of the mid 1990s bring new hope explains Paul D Hutchcroft but accompanying economic gains remain relatively modest and short lived What has gone wrong The Philippines should have all the ingredients for developmental success tremendous entrepreneurial talents a well educated and anglophone workforce a rich endowment of natural resources a vibrant community of economists and development specialists and abundant overseas assistance Hutchcroft attributes the laggard economic performance to long standing deficiencies in the Philippine political sphere The country's experience he asserts illuminates the relationship between political and economic development in the modern Third World Through careful examination of interactions between the state and the major families of the oligarchy in the banking sector since 1960 Hutchcroft shows the political obstacles to Philippine development Booty capitalism he explains emerged from relations between a patrimonial state and a predatory oligarchy Hutchcroft concludes by examining the capacity of recent reform efforts to encourage transformation toward a political economic order more responsive to the developmental needs of the Philippine nation as a whole Weathering the Storm P. Boomgaard, 2021-10-01 The principal cause of the 1930s depression in Southeast Asia lay outside the region through a sharp contraction in demand for the region's major commodity exports But it had important internal causes too an oversupply of primary commodities and an increasing scarcity of new agricultural land leading to higher rents and lower wages rising indebtedness and increasing landlessness This work thoroughly analyses the pre-war depression It also looks at the changes in the basic structures of the economies of Southeast Asia that were of long-term importance such as the role of the state in the economy The authors also draw similarities and contrasts between the 1930s depression and the 1990s Asian crisis Contributors are Peter Boomgaard Anne Booth Pierre Brocheux Ian Brown William G Clarence Smith Daniel F Doeppers Paul H Kratoska J Thomas Lindblad Sompop Manarungsan S Nawiyanto Irene Norlund Jeroen Touwen and Willem Wolters Co published with ISEAS Singapore Routledge Handbook of the Contemporary Philippines Mark Thompson, Eric Vincent Batalla, 2018-02-19 The Philippines is a fascinating example of a poor country democracy where issues of economic development and poverty political participation and stability as well as ethnicity and migration are crucial The Routledge Handbook of the Contemporary Philippines provides a comprehensive overview of the current political economic social and cultural issues of the country The Handbook is divided into the following four sections concentrating on a different aspect of the Philippines domestic politics foreign relations economics and social policy cultures and movements In terms of domestic politics chapters discuss clientelism bossism dynasties pork barrel and corruption as well as institutions the presidency congress the judiciary the civil service political parties and civilian military relations The Philippines is confronted with many overseas challenges with the foreign relations section focused on the country's relationship with China Japan and the USA as well as assessing the impact of the Filipino diaspora community around the world Regarding economics and social policy authors examine industrial policy capital flight microfinance technocracy economic nationalism poverty social welfare programs and livelihoods The final section on Philippine cultures and movements highlights issues of customs gender religion and nationalism while also examining various social and political forces the peasantry the middle class indigenous peoples NGOs the left trade unionism the women's movement and major insurgencies Written by leading experts in the field the Handbook provides students scholars and policymakers of Southeast Asia with an interdisciplinary resource on the evolving politics society and economics of the Philippines The Economy of the Philippines Peter Krinks, 2003-09-02 In the late 1950s the Filipino economy could reasonably have been described as more advanced than those of its South Asian neighbours Ever since then however it has consistently lagged behind and only really started to grow strongly in the mid 1990s and even then it failed to achieve the growth rates of the rest of Southeast Asia ten years earlier This book critically analyses the Filipino economy and attempts to explain the problems that it has faced as well as the solutions that need to be put into practice This accessible and comprehensive book will be of great use to students academics and business professionals with an interest in the economies of Asia

Colonial Crucible Alfred W. McCoy, Francisco A.

Scarano, 2009-05-15 At the end of the nineteenth century the United States swiftly occupied a string of small islands dotting the Caribbean and Western Pacific from Puerto Rico and Cuba to Hawaii and the Philippines Colonial Crucible Empire in the Making of the Modern American State reveals how this experiment in direct territorial rule subtly but profoundly shaped U S policy and practice both abroad and crucially at home

The Patchwork City Marco Z. Garrido, 2019-08-05 In contemporary Manila slums and squatter settlements are peppered throughout the city often pushing right up against the walled enclaves of the privileged creating the complex geopolitical pattern of Marco Z Garrido s patchwork city Garrido documents the fragmentation of Manila into a m lange of spaces defined by class particularly slums and upper and middle class enclaves He then looks beyond urban fragmentation to delineate its effects on class relations and politics arguing that the proliferation of these slums and enclaves and their subsequent proximity have intensified class relations For enclave residents the proximity of slums is a source of insecurity compelling them to impose spatial boundaries on slum residents For slum residents the regular imposition of these boundaries creates a pervasive sense of discrimination Class boundaries then sharpen along the housing divide and the urban poor and middle class emerge not as labor and capital but as squatters and villagers Manila s name for subdivision residents Garrido further examines the politicization of this divide with the case of the populist president Joseph Estrada finding the two sides drawn into contention over not just the right to the city but the nature of democracy itself The Patchwork City illuminates how segregation class relations and democracy are all intensely connected It makes clear ultimately that class as a social structure is as indispensable to the study of Manila and of many other cities of the Global South as race is to the study of American cities

Central Banking as State Building Yusuke

Takagi, 2016-03-21 From its creation in 1949 until the 1960s the Central Bank of the Philippines dominated industrial policy by means of exchange controls becoming a symbol of nationalism for a newly independent state The pre war Philippine National Bank was closely linked to the colonial administration and plagued by corruption scandals As the country moved toward independence ambitious young politicians colonial bureaucrats and private sector professionals concluded that economic decolonization required a new bank at the heart of the country s finances in order to break away from the individuals and institutions that dominated the colonial economy Positioning this bank within broader political structures Yusuke Takagi concludes that the Filipino policy makers behind the Central Bank worked not for vested interests associated

Yearwood, 2018-07-18 This book shows how a stormy parliamentary debate over the sale of German properties in Nigeria on 8 November 1916 began the process which brought down Asquith and made Lloyd George prime minister The colonial secretary Bonar Law who was also leader of the Conservative Party wanted neutral firms to bid Usually presented as a policy imposed on him by doctrinaire Liberal free traders it was in fact that of the colonial government which hoped that encouraging foreign competition would prevent the Nigerian export economy becoming controlled by a ring of mainly Liverpool firms Seeing itself as the defender of Nigerian interests the Colonial Office endorsed this The large British companies got up an agitation which was taken over by Sir Edward Carson the one significant opposition politician as part of his attack on supposed German influence in high places Law counter attacked by arguing that a supposedly patriotic cause masked the greed of an emergent cartel He succeeded because smaller British and African firms trying to break into the now profitable produce export trade had already painted that picture By defeating Carson in the debate Law became again an effective party leader who hoped to re invigorate the coalition but instead found himself working with Lloyd George to sideline Asquith Based on underused sources and overturning established interpretations the book situates the debate within the context of the development of the Nigerian economy the conflicts between the major firms the role of oils and fats in wartime and the emergence of Nigerian nationalism

Monsoon Marketplace Elmo Gonzaga, 2023-12-05 Provides vivid accounts of commercial and leisure spaces that captivated the public imagination in the past but have since been destroyed forgotten or refurbished Monsoon Marketplace uncovers the entangled vernacular cultures of capitalist modernity mass consumption and media spectatorship in two understudied postcolonial Asian cities across three crucial historical moments Juxtaposing Manila and Singapore it analyzes print and audiovisual representations of popular commercial and leisure spaces during the colonial occupation in the 1930s national development in the 1960s and neoliberal globalization in the 2000s Engaging with the work of creators including Nick Joaquin Kevin Kwan and P Ramlee it discusses figures of female shoppers in 1930s Manila languid expatriates in 1930s Singapore street hawkers in 1960s Singapore youthful activists in 1960s Manila call center agents in 2000s Manila and super rich investors in 2000s Singapore Looking at the historical transformation of Calle Escolta Avenida Rizal Raffles Place and Orchard Road it focuses on Crystal Arcade the Manila Carnival the Great World and New World Amusement Parks and Change Alley all of which had once captivated the public imagination but have since vanished from the cityscape. Instead of treating capitalism, media, and modernity as overarching systems or processes, the book examines how their configurations and experiences are contingent, variable, pluralistic, and archipelagic. Diverging from critical theories and cultural studies that see consumerism and spectatorship as sources of alienation, docility, and fantasy, it explores how they create new possibilities for agency, collectivity, and resistance.
