Memories From Twice Around The World:

Twice Around the World John Colvin,1993-09-14 John Colvin's career as one of Her Majesty's Representatives in Foreign Parts never scaled the greatest heights of the ambassadorial ladder but it did lead to two unusual postings which he describes in this book In 1966 he was sent to Hanoi at a time when the Vietnam War began to assume its full rigour and his verdict on the American involvement contrary to the widely held view is that they did not leave Indo China without credit or achievement His next posting was as Ambassador to the People's Republic of Mongolia His memories of that remote but lovely country which dwell as much upon topographical as political aspects provide an insight into life in what was then a Russian satellite state far removed from the centre of world affairs Memories from Twice Around the World Alida Dougherty,1993-01-01

Songs of Memory in Islands of Southeast Asia Nicole Revel,2013-09-17 Twenty three years of joint endeavors and extensive field collecting of the narratives referred to in the present volume have resulted in the availability of a multimedia archive of Philippine epics ballads and rituals both at the Pardo de Tavera collection of the Rizal Library Ateneo de Manila University and online The linguists anthropologists and ethno musicologists who have contributed to this book have long been conscious of the close links between Intangible Heritage and Tangible Heritage In the Philippines sung narratives have been recorded in situ through both audio and audio video media transcribed translated digitized and analyzed by scholars and knowledgeable persons from fifteen cultural communities in the islands of Luzon Panay Palawan Mindanao Sulu and Tawi Tawi Meanwhile other scholars have dedicated their lifelong research to the Mergui Archipelago central Sulawesi southwest Maluku and East Timor Emerging from international collaboration the scholarship provided here seeks not only to safeguard and comprehend the uniqueness and evolving beauty of ancient sung narratives that are currently performed in the islands of Southeast Asia but also to defend their vitality in today's changing world This collection of twelve essays is the most recent achievement of ongoing studies of performances by singers of tales and ritualists in contemporary socio cultural contexts by means of pioneering initiatives in the Digital Humanities multiple analytical approaches and expert use of our growing technical capacity to safeguard and explore Intangible Heritage Heroines of the Postmodern and their Worlds in Contemporary Historical Fiction Alicja Bemben,Michael Joseph,2025-09-29 This volume focuses on historical fiction written by and for women approximately in the last 30 years and across the entire globe It comprises three parts Part 1 draws on the theme of the inner life and experiences of the female historical figure Part 2 is concerned with genre bending that fuels the construction of the vast majority of story worlds within the genre and Part 3 with the idea of unusual angles that the historical fiction storytelling employs Designing Data-Intensive Applications Martin Kleppmann,2017-03-16 Data is at the center of many challenges in system design today Difficult issues need to be figured out such as scalability consistency reliability efficiency and maintainability In addition we have an overwhelming variety of tools including relational databases NoSQL datastores stream or batch processors and message brokers What are the right choices for your application How do you make sense of all these buzzwords In this practical and comprehensive guide author Martin Kleppmann helps you navigate this diverse landscape by examining the pros and cons of various technologies for processing and storing data Software keeps changing but the fundamental principles remain the same With this book software engineers and architects will learn how to apply those ideas in practice and how to make full use of data in modern applications Peer under the hood of the systems you already use and learn how to use and operate them more effectively Make informed decisions by identifying the strengths and weaknesses of different tools Navigate the trade offs around consistency scalability fault tolerance and complexity Understand the distributed systems research upon which modern databases are built Peek behind the scenes of major online services and learn from their architectures

Imagining Europe: Memory, Visions, and Counter-Narratives Lars Klein, Martin Tamcke, 2015 In the course of the so called economic and financial crisis from 2008 onwards there has been a fierce debate about the role and purpose of the European Union It was led in politics and the media just as in academia The economic usefulness of the Euro has been discussed and the political implications of a fostered European unification Most often the state of Europeanization has been presented as being without alternatives no Europe without Greece no Euro without Greece no way back to the nation state in its old form As a result the debate on Europe was largely narrowed down to the very questions of the immediate crisis namely economics and finance Only a few voices held that the crisis in fact was one of politics not of economics And only late did politicians mention again that Europe is more than the EU Alternative views of Europe however were scarce and often presented full of consequences It thus came without much surprise that the lacking imaginative power of politicians as well as intellectuals was criticized The idea for this volume sprang from that situation The editors invited scholars from various disciplines to present them with ways of imagining Europe that go beyond the rather limited view of EU institutions How was how is Europe imagined Which memories are evoked which visions explicated Which counter narratives to prominent discourses are there

Once Upon a Time in Baghdad Margo Kirtikar Ph.D., 2011-01-19 Once Upon a Time is creative non fiction written in the form of a memoir which focuses on the fact that another Baghdad existed not too long ago when people of different nationalities and religions lived and worked together peacefully The central point of the book is life in Baghdad during the 1940s and 1950s a period remembered as the golden age of Iraq The stories told are as seen through the eyes of a young girl and woman the author who was born and raised in a Christian multicultural middle class family in Baghdad of the time The book spans the first twenty years of her life spent in the Middle East Intertwined with her personal story the author tells of the lives of others family relatives and friends as she knew them in the Baghdad of her youth Iraq was a nation of multicultural and diverse people of all backgrounds and beliefs with a heritage that goes back thousand of years Iraqis and non Iraqis Moslems and non Moslems Christians and Jews lived worked and mingled together in harmony each aware of their particular cultural boundaries and respectful of others As the author narrates her personal story she reveals many insights into her life customs and cultures of Christian and Moslem families both Iraqis and non Iraqis who lived and thrived in Baghdad Interwoven with the personal stories are historical chapters and facts that enable the reader to gain in depth knowledge of the complexities of the religions cultural and socio economic background of Iraq and its people References to present day conditions in Iraq act like a magnifying glass making the potential for the country s possibly hopeful future if it can find a connection to its more happy past all the more vivid The story is not told chronologically The author weaves back and forth making time and space condense and merge There is a co presence of different eras and events giving the book an unusual richness Flashbacks and leaps into the present co exist simultaneously creating a weave not unlike the arabesque intertwining of Arabic ornaments

Music and the Experience of Memory Loss Samantha Harrold, 2025-09-15 This book is a creative and critical exploration of the memory loss experience Drawing on in depth case studies based on primary research interviews approaches from music therapy and theory from Derrida Malabou and Royle it explores how we might better support people living with memory loss Telling the story of an interpretative phenomenological analysis investigation this innovative book focuses on conversations with ten people living with memory loss in a nursing home alongside interviews with the pioneering dementia campaigner Wendy Mitchell The author argues that for residents who are living with memory loss both the nursing home environment and the memory loss experience are uncanny She considers how archival impulses may manifest themselves at the end of life before exploring theories of both artistic plasticity and neuroplasticity proposing that the memory loss state might be thought of as a kind of neurodiversity The book concludes with suggestions for future methods that alleviate disorientation for people living with memory loss and help with acceptance the reduction of stress and better outcomes across multiple disciplines and practices including music therapy community musicianship and the nursing home environment itself A better understanding of how it feels to live with memory loss is necessary for the development and improvement of practices that are designed to help the memory loss community This book is an invaluable contribution to research around memory loss for scholars and practitioners interested in medical humanities dementia social care nursing occupational therapy and music therapy among others

The Great War and Modern Memory Paul Fussell, 2000 The year 2000 marks the twenty fifth anniversary of the publication of The Great War and Modern Memory winner of the National Book Award the National Book Critics Circle Award and recently named by the Modern Library one of the twentieth century s 100 Best Non Fiction Books Fussell s landmark study of WWI remains as original and gripping today as ever before a literate literary and illuminating account of the Great War the one that changed a generation ushered in the modern era and revolutionized how we see the world Exploring the work of Siegfried Sassoon Robert Graves Edmund Blunden David Jones Isaac Rosenberg and Wilfred Owen Fussell supplies contexts both actual and literary for those writers who most effectively memorialized WWI as an historical experience with conspicuous imaginative and artistic meaning For this special edition the author has prepared a new afterword and a suggested further reading list As this classic work draws upon several disciplines among them literary studies military history cultural criticism and historical inquiry it will continue to appeal to students scholars and general readers of various backgrounds

Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2006

Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

Remembering That It Happened Once Dennis L. Johnson, 2021-12-27

Poets have long given us poems as portals into the stunning event and astonishing affirmation at the core of Christian faith the Eternal Word has taken on flesh in Jesus of Nazareth This is the mystery and message this collection of poems explores The Latin word for poetry is carmen Over time carmen formed into our English word charm These are Christmas carmen for the believer and doubter the joyful and sorrowful and the seeker longing for the experience of God with us They are for opening the heart widening the imagination and shaping the soul They are for remembering and beholding the mystery of the Incarnation in everyday life all year long

Remapping Memory Jonathan Boyarin, Remapping Memory was first published in 1994 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The essays in this book focus on contested memories in relation to time and space Within the context of several profound cultural and political conflicts in the contemporary world the contributors analyze historical self configurations of human groups and the construction by these groups of the spaces they shape and that shape them What emerges is a view of the state as a highly contingent artifact of groups vying for legitimacy whether through their own sense of insiderhood their control of positions within hierarchies or their control of geographical territories Boyarin's lead essay shows how the supposedly objective categories of space and time are in fact specific products of European modernity Each case study in turn addresses the re constitution of space time and memory in relation to an event either of historical significance like the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima or of cultural importance like the Indian preoccupation with reincarnation These ethnographic studies explore fundamental questions about the nature of memory the limits of politics and the complex links between them By focusing on personal and collective identity as the site where constructions of memory and dimensionality are tested shaped and effected the authors offer a new way of understanding how the politics of space time and memory are negotiated to bring people to terms with their history Contributors Akhil Gupta Stanford University Charles R Hale University of California Davis Carina Perelli PEITHO Montevideo Uruguay Jennifer Schirmer Center for European Studies Harvard Daniel A Segal Pitzer College Claremont California Lisa Yoneyama University of California San Diego

The Memory of the Ogisi Moses Ose Utomi, 2025-07-15 The epic conclusion to Moses Ose Utomi's critically acclaimed Forever Desert series The Memory of the Ogisi shatters every truth interrogates every lie and is a story of oppression you'll never forget Even deserts have a beginning Even gardens have an end Even water has a story The City of a Thousand Stories stands resolute on the edge of the Forever Desert It is a lush metropolis where water flows into every mouth that thirsts and knowledge sprouts in every mind that craves it Yet despite their prosperity no one can remember how the city began It is a dire state of affairs a people who do not learn their past cannot chart their future Ethike is an Ogisi one of the City's many historians who has devoted his life to studying a little known figure named Osi He believes Osi to be the key to the city's origins but his years of research have only raised more questions about Osi's identity Until one day he believes he has found the answer Spurred by his love for his city and his family Ethike ventures into the Forever Desert in search of the Lost Tomb of Osi If he can find it he will finally be able to prove his worth to the City's Elders and cement Osi's role in history But history is a story told by the powerful What Ethike uncovers beneath the sand is a power far beyond anything he could have expected and it wants vengeance At the Publisher's request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied

The Duty of Memory Sébastien Ledoux, 2025-07-01 Within France the expression duty of memory le devoir de mémoire speaks to a complex and ever evolving relationship with the past Emerging in the 1970s this term raised questions about memorialization which dominated public debates in the 1990s highlighting France's entanglements with colonialism and the Holocaust Drawing on a variety of interviews archival sources and data surveys author Sébastien Ledoux spotlights how the trajectory of this term offers a lens for understanding contemporary societies relationship with the past on a global scale

Manufacturers' News, 1924 Perceptual Imagination and Perceptual Memory Fiona Macpherson, Fabian Dorsch, 2018-05-24 In Perceptual Imagination and Perceptual Memory a group of distinguished contributors examine how perceptual imagination and memory resemble and differ from each other and from other kinds of sensory experience They question the role each plays in perception and in the acquisition of knowledge The collection discusses the epistemic roles that the imagination and memory play in our mental lives It pushes forward the debates about the nature of perceptual imagination and perceptual memory This innovative study will encourage future discussions on these interesting topics by students and scholars in the field This volume presents ten new essays on the nature of perceptual imagination and perceptual memory framed by an introductory overview of these topics How do perceptual imagination and memory resemble and differ from each other and from other kinds of sensory experience And what role does each play in perception and in the acquisition of knowledge These are the two central questions that the contributors seek to address

The Flies of Memory Ian Watson, 2011-09-29 Charles Spark is an expert on body language a bestselling author and a consultant or walking lie detector much in demand with industry and government So when the aliens arrive who better to join the team that will attempt to understand them But even though these insectoid aliens the Flies in their pyramid ship speak both English and Russian they seem unreadable We have come to your planet to remember it they say and at first they seem indeed to be a bizarre group of intergalactic tourists When human beings start to interfere things begin disappearing The Dome of St Peter's in Rome is the first to go followed by downtown Prague old Mombasa Mich the heart of New Orleans In an effort to understand what has happened Spark and a strange group of pilgrims embark on a bizarre journey to Mars where the city of Mich has reappeared in a canyon And where time and memory have become manifest
