condition but to the making and remembering of history as well as to what we recognize as the unexpected or abnormal. The Qualities of Time brings anthropologists and archaeologists together in a new conversation about the patterns of our understanding and experience of time. The authors reflect on how we should interpret evidence about the distant past and how far the structuring of social time is a human universal. They also consider whether anthropology itself has been so oriented to the present it has still to develop ways of dealing with temporality. The interactions of time structures, ceremonials and specific historical events including violence inspired by the millennium are interrogated. The experience of individuals who feel the times are for them out of joint is also examined. By combining socio-cultural, philosophical and historical approaches, this thought-provoking book moves anthropological debates about time's qualities well beyond existing studies. This book explores the relevance of classical ideas in the anthropology of time to the 23 Myths about the History of American Schools Sherman Dorn, David A. Gamson, 2024. In this fascinating collection, some of the foremost historians of education including Barbara Beatty, Larry Cuban, Linda Eisenmann, Yoon K. Pak, John L. Rury, and Jonathan Zimmerman debunk commonly held myths about American schooling. Each short, readable chapter focuses on one myth, explaining what the real history is and how it helped shape education today. Contributors take on a host of tall tales, including the supposed agrarian origins of summer vacation, exaggerated stories of declining student behavior and academic performance, persistent claims that some people are born to be teachers, idealistic notions that the 1954 Brown decision ended segregation in American schools, misleading beliefs that classrooms operate in ways designed to fit the industrial era, and more. 23 Myths About the History of American Schools will awaken the inner history nerd of everyone who ever asked, "How did we get this irrational school system?" It will affirm the truth that its readers are as entitled to think critically about schooling as anyone else. Book Features: Examines how the history of American education has been distorted and misrepresented, either intentionally or unintentionally. Provides important stories that can help guide discussion about the future of education. Anticipates what local and state politicians are likely to say and misstate about schooling. Provides engaging chapters that highlight why real history is important and more fascinating than the myths. Accessible to a wide range of readers, from undergraduates to career educators.

The Metropolitan Story Patrick R. Foster, 2002-06. Empire and Poetic Voice Patrick Colm Hogan, 2012-02-01. In Empire and Poetic Voice, Patrick Colm Hogan draws on a broad and detailed knowledge of Indian, African, and European literary cultures to explore the way colonized writers respond to the subtle and contradictory pressures of both metropolitan and indigenous traditions. He examines the work of two influential theorists of identity, Judith Butler and Homi Bhabha, and presents a revised evaluation of the important Nigerian critics Chinweizu, Jemie, and Madubuike. In the process, he presents a novel theory of literary identity based equally on recent work in cognitive science and culture studies. This theory argues that literary and cultural traditions like languages are entirely personal and only appear to be a matter of groups due to our assertions of categorical identity, which are ultimately both false and dangerous. Myth Formation in the Fiction of Chinua Achebe and Amitav Ghosh Nilanjan Chakraborty, 2020-09-28 This book studies culture in terms of myths and how they function to construct the identity of communities It focuses on myth formation in the fiction of Chinua Achebe and Amitav Ghosh two major twentieth century authors from Nigeria and India respectively The book analyses how these two authors use myth in their works to study the cultural mores of the societies they represent Achebe represents the Igbo community of Nigeria and Amitav Ghosh represents various communities in India in both the pre colonial and postcolonial phases ranging from Bihar to Sundarbans in south Bengal The book focuses on the area of myth studies in the postcolonial area of study delving into a comparative study between the two authors and how they contribute to myth studies through their fiction Classical Mythology Nathaniel Hawthorne, F. Storr, V.C. Turnbull, H.P. Maskell, Guy E. Lloyd, M. M. Bird, Hope Moncrieff, Thomas Bulfinch, 2018-07-31 Travel back to a time when divine beings mixed with mortals when heroes battled sorcerers and nature was a mysterious realm ruled by beautiful and dangerous deities From the legends of Hercules and the Titans to tales of the underworld and the destruction of Troy these enduring myths have formed a major part of Western culture for millennia and continue to capture our imaginations today Beautifully illustrated with dramatic scenes from master artists of the 16th through to the 19th century this elegant collection contains more than 40 fascinating tales retold by a variety of expert storytellers
